2003 Outlook

Overview

The 2002 Clemson baseball season was one of the most successful in school history. Besides the numerous team and individual milestones that were set, the Tigers ended their season in college baseball's holy land...Omaha, NE, and the College World Series. But with the loss of many key players, there is one question that predominates most fans' minds...can Clemson make it back to the College World Series?

"This will be an exiting year," said Jack Leggett, who is in his 10th year as Clemson's head coach. "We lost some offensive firepower, but we will be a different type of team. We will be an exciting team on the bases."

Gone are 2002 unanimous National Player-ofthe-Year Khalil Greene, Clemson's all-time homerun king Jeff Baker, and the versatile Jarrod Schmidt. The top two pitchers from last season, Matt Henrie and Steve Reba, also departed along with B.J. LaMura. However, the cupboard is not bare in 2003, as a solid defense, an All-American first baseman, and a deep pitching staff return.

"We will still have a little bit of pop," said Leggett. "Maybe not as much home run power, but we will still be able to play defense. Our pitching depth is going to be strong."

The leader of the team will be fifth-year senior Michael Johnson. The All-American turned down a professional baseball contract to come back to Tigertown and he needs just 14 homers to break Baker's career home run record of 59. The record will fall if he has anywhere near the season he had last year.

Johnson batted .384 with 25 home runs and 81 RBIs in 2002. He came up big in the clutch, hitting the game-winning home run against Arkansas to clinch the Super Regional and blasting two home runs in Omaha. Johnson, a 2003 Preseason Second-Team All-American by both Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball, dislocated his ankle in fall practice, but is expected to make a full recovery in time for the season opener in late February.

Centerfielder Kyle Frank, a fifth-year senior, is a team captain for the second time in as many years in 2003.

Along with Johnson, Kyle Frank, Paul Harrelson, Patrick Hogan, and Russell Triplett are team captains for the 2003 season

The returning Tigers will be joined by a host of freshmen and junior college transfers that Collegiate Baseball ranked as the nation's fifth-best recruiting class.

Despite losing four first-round draft picks to the professional ranks, Clemson still signed six players who were drafted, including Kris Harvey, son of former Major Leaguer Bryan Harvey, and Brad McCann, who will vie for the starting spot at third base.

Along with the newcomers on the field, Tom Riginos was named assistant head coach, arriving from Stetson. He replaces nine-year assistant Tim Corbin, who was named head coach at Vanderbilt last summer. Bradley LeCroy and Seth Miller were also added to the coaching staff on a volunteer basis.

Leggett believes the unity of last year's squad will carry over into 2003. "I think the strength of this squad is team chemistry. Everyone has got to believe and everyone has got to be involved as one, and if we can do that, we have a chance to have a strong and tough team to beat. We will have a little more speed and our pitching depth is going to be good from top to bottom."

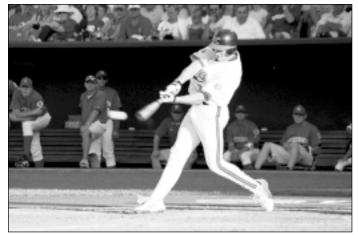

"We have to come up with a consistent shortstop, be consistent behind the plate, and play good defense. We are going to be an offensive team that takes advantage of opportunities and executes, and does a good job with the fundamentals."

Clemson will need unity in order to play what Leggett calls "one of the toughest schedules that anyone could play." There are 30 games against teams who played in the 2002 NCAA Tournament. Four games against South Carolina will once again highlight the non-conference schedule, along with road series at Auburn and Georgia Southern. Add ACC series against Florida State, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest, and the rest of one of the nation's toughest conferences.

Fans will find that 2003 Clemson Baseball will have a new look, both on and off the field. Tiger Pride renovations to Doug Kingsmore Stadium are on schedule to be completed for the home opener on February 26 against Charleston Southern. Among the new features will be a renovated plaza area with concession stands, new restrooms, new dugouts, a new press box, and chair-back seating in the middle portion of the stadium.

Catchers

The Tigers have two solid returnees behind the plate. Senior Steve Pyzik started 36 games, while sophomore Collin Mahoney started 26. Pyzik is an outstanding receiver behind the plate and has been in the Tiger program for three seasons. Mahoney crushed most of his six homers last year. When the New York native put the ball in play last year, he was 25-for-45 (.556). However, he did strike out 49 times in 94 at bats.

Fifth-year senior first baseman Michael Johnson has 46 career homers and needs 14 more to break the Tiger career record.

Gene Pierce, who red-shirted last year after appearing in just six games in 2001, sophomore junior college transfer Brady Everett will also compete for time behind the plate. Pierce has one career homer in just two at bats, and improved vastly during his red-shirt season. Everett played only one season at Edmonds (WA) Community College.

Infielders

The Tiger infield must replace it's All-Star left side (Baker and Greene). The biggest question mark on the diamond will be at shortstop. Sophomore Garrick Evans is a strong and athletic player who showed potential in limited action at the plate. He has some raw power uncommon to most middle infielders. He also has great speed.

Freshman Herman Demmink, who has already made his presence felt in the weight room and in the Omaha Challenge, will compete for the starting shortstop position. Jess Easterling and Daniel Pritchard, who both red-shirted last season, will vie for playing time up the middle.

Triplett, who was a Second-Team All-ACC utility player in 2002, has the versatility to play any infield position. He will compete for starting spots at second base, third base, and shortstop. Tanner Leggett, the only switch-hitter on the Clemson team and son of the Tigers' head coach, is another rookie in the infield.

The leader to take over for Baker at third base is Brad McCann, a junior college transfer who has three years of eligibility remaining. He was drafted in the 22nd round by the Philadelphia Phillies, but opted for Tigertown. McCann shined in fall workouts.

The undoubted offensive leader of the team is Johnson, who might have had the finest season in Tiger history if it were not for Greene. His defensive skills are just as finely tuned as his offensive skills, as Baseball America recently listed him as the best defensive first baseman in the ACC along with being the #2 senior prospect in the country by the same publication. His 24 career steals in 29 attempts prove his speed on the basepaths as well. Johnson was selected in the second round of the Major League Draft by the San Diego Padres last June, but decided to return to Clemson for his fifth season.

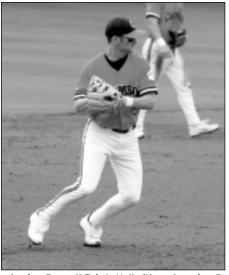

Joining Johnson on the right side of the infield will be David Slevin, who started 56 games at second base. Slevin is a slick-fielding second baseman with the ability to bat at the top of the lineup. He had an outstanding .968 fielding percentage a year ago, and committed just nine errors.

Jeff Hourigan is a versatile player who can play left or right field and first base along with his outstanding pitching abilities. He started 33 games as the designated hitter a season ago and showed some power with six home runs.

Harvey, a fifth-round pick last June out of Bandys High School in Catawba, NC, is a versatile player who showed great potential at the plate and on the mound in fall workouts. He along with fellow freshmen John Ingram and Dan West will compete for spots at the corner infield positions.

Outfielders

Frank, the starting centerfielder, returns to give the Tigers veteran leadership. He started all but one game in 2002, did not commit an error, and hit .324 with four home runs and 43 RBIs. He is a fifthyear senior who Leggett will look to provide stability at the top of the Tiger lineup.

Outfielder Zane Green is poised for a breakout season after a torrid 2002 NCAA Tournament. From the leadoff spot, he hit six home runs in the NCAA Tournament. The junior had gone over 150 at bats to begin his Tiger career without hitting a home run. Green is expected to start and give the Tigers another long-ball threat.

Roberto Valiente started 30 games in the outfield and batted .323 overall. The colorful sophomore started all 10 NCAA Tournament games in Clemson's postseason run.

Ryan Hub will provide depth in the outfield in 2003. He has been in the Tiger program for three years and has shown flashes of power and speed. Harvey and Hourigan both have the ability to play left or right field. They hope to succeed another talented, multi-purpose player in Schmidt, who had an 18-3 career record along with his stout offensive numbers. Freshman Justin Lepore was injured in the fall, but hopes to make contributions in the outfield. Evans, who played solely as an infielder in 2002, will also have a chance to play in the outfield.

Pitchers

The pitching staff returns sophomore Jeff Hahn and Hogan, a junior, who had the hottest arms at the end of the season and should take on expanded roles in 2003. Hahn, who was 3-0 with a 3.19 ERA, notched one of his three saves to clinch the Clemson Regional title and picked up a win in relief against Georgia Tech in the College World Series. Hogan finished the year with a 2-1 record and a 3.79 ERA along with four saves. Both have excellent control and have the ability to appear in long relief and starting roles.

Senior sidearmer Paul Harrelson led the team with eight saves a year ago and will be one of the leaders in the bullpen. The Tiger bullpen returns

Junior captain Patrick Hogan had four saves and a 3.79 ERA in 2002.

After starting in the bullpen, sophomore lefty Tyler Lumsden found a home as a starter. The #19 sophomore prospect in the nation by Baseball America had a 4-1 record late in the season and could become an effective starter as one of only two southpaws on the 2003 squad. Freshman Robert Harvey, who is rated as the #15 freshman prospect in the nation by Baseball America, is one of 11 new pitchers in 2003. Aaron Trolia, like Everett, is a junior college transfer from Edmonds Community College in the state of Washington. Pat Clayton, a seventh-round draft pick of the Atlanta Braves last June and the #40 freshman prospect by Baseball America, is a talented and tall righthander. He comes to Clemson from Walton High School in Marietta. GA.

Red-shirt freshmen righthanders Josh Cribb and Adam Walker spent last season conditioning and preparing to contribute in 2003. They will be looked upon to provide valuable innings.

Jason Berken, Stephen Clyne, John Leonard, Brett Murphy, and Brock Thornburg are five other first-year freshmen righties who will vie for innings on the mound this year.

> Sophomore Jeff Hourigan brings a hard-throwing style along with the versatility to play in the outfield and at first base for the Tigers in 2003.

Adkins, Rusty

Former Clemson great and infielder Rusty Adkins had his jersey retired and was inducted into the Clemson Baseball Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the Florida State game on April 24, 1998. Adkins is the only three-time All-American in Clemson baseball history, as he wore #3 for the Tigers from 1965-67.

Adkins hit safely in 41 consecutive games, which is still the sixth-longest streak in college baseball history and is the longest streak in Tiger history. He had to go to his last at bat to get a hit just three times in the 41 games. In 23 of the 41 games he had at least two hits. He was 74-for-169 (.438) during the streak that lasted from April 10, 1965 to May 17, 1966.

The versatile player of the wooden-bat era hit .444 as a freshman, a record that lasted until the 2002 season, when Khalil Greene hit an incredible .470 in a national player-of-the-year season. Adkins hit .379 in his career, an ACC record for the woodenbat era. Adkins earned his degree from Clemson in industrial management in 1967 and later earned a master's degree from the Clemson-Furman MBA program in 1972. He is also a member of the state of South Carolina athletic Hall of Fame.

In the fall of 2002, he was named to the ACC's

50-Year Anniversary team, the second-oldest Clemson athlete in any sport selected. Citing his age is a compliment to Adkins, as it shows how his accomplishments have stood the test of time.

Attendance

Clemson has been outstanding at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in terms of its record. Since the facility opened in 1970, Clemson is 245-51 against ACC teams, an .828 winning percentage, and 780-172 overall, an .819 winning percentage. During Jack Leggett's head-coaching career, the Tigers have accumulated a 278-54 (.837) record overall and 85-21 (.802) record against the ACC in the friendly confines the last nine seasons, all under Leggett.

That success can be attributed in part to the tremendous fan support from Tiger faithful. Clemson has finished each of the last nine years ranked in the top 20 in the nation in attendance. Clemson drew an average of 3,592 fans for its 45 home dates in 2002, a school record on a total-attendance and per-game basis. The 2002 year marked the seventh-straight season ticket sales surpassed the 1,000 mark. With a renovated Doug Kingsmore Stadium, that mark will be eclipsed again in 2003.

The Tiger regular-season, single-game record for attendance came against North Carolina on Saturday, April 1, 1995, when 6,223 fans saw the Tigers pummel the Tar Heels 20-1. The overall attendance record was set at the 2000 Super Regional against Mississippi State. On that June 3 night, the attendance stood at 6,392.

To order season tickets, which includes a reserved, chair-back seat with the season ticketholder's name on the seat, and the right to reserve the seat if the Tigers host a regional, call toll free at 1-800-CLEMSON.

Birthday Parties

The Later Hall

One of Clemson's most popular attractions for young and old kids at Doug Kingsmore Stadium are birthday parties. You can have all the fun times that comes with a day at a Clemson ballgame along with a birthday cake on the Jervey Pavilion overlooking the stadium. You can also throw out the first pitch before the game, all for just $30. The ball is yours to keep and you will have your name announced by the PA announcer as well as flashed on the scoreboard. Call the John Seketa in Clemson promotions office at (864) 656-1923 to sign up.

Bradley Award

For the third-straight year, the Clemson MVP of the Clemson-South Carolina series will receive the Bob Bradley Award. The award will be given to the top player from Clemson over the four-game series between the two teams each year. South

Carolina's top player will be presented the Tom Price Award. The presentation will be made after the final game of the season between the two teams.

Both Bradlev and Price had a tremendous positive influence on the baseball programs at Clemson and South Carolina as the school's sports information directors. Bradley passed away on October 30, 2000. He served as Clemson's baseball SID for 45 years and still served as Clemson's official scorer for most of the 2000 season. Price continues to serve the South Carolina program in an emeritus capacity.

Bush, George

Not the current president, but the former president played against Clemson. During the 1947 NCAA Tournament, the Tigers traveled to Yale for an Elite Eight game with the Bulldogs and firstbaseman George Bush. Bush went 1-for-3 that day in leading Yale to a 7-3 victory, allowing Yale to advance to the College World Series (then only four teams). It ended Clemson's Southern Conference Championship season at 24-5. Years later when he came to Clemson to speak, Sports Information Director Bob Bradley presented Bush with a laminated and framed copy of the scorebook from that game.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members of the league, which started in 1953-54. Prior to that year, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921-52. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before then, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Clemson has won the ACC regular-season title 20 times in 49 previous seasons, more than any other school. The Tigers have also won eight tournament championships, more than any other school, and been to the finals 20 times, also a league high. Overall, Clemson has been the declared ACC baseball champion 13 times, more than any other school. Clemson had 12 players chosen to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team this past year, more than any other school.

Draft, Highest Selections

The Clemson baseball program had two of the top four selections in the Major League draft on June 4, 1996. Kris Benson was the #1 pick of the draft by the Pittsburgh Pirates, while Billy Koch went in the first round as the #4 overall pick overall of the Toronto Blue Jays. They rank as the first and tied for second-highest draft picks in Clemson history, regardless of sport.

Banks McFadden, the #4 pick of the 1940 NFL draft, was the highest draft pick in Clemson history (regardless of sport) prior to 1996. Having two players taken from the same school in the first five picks of the Major League draft is noteworthy. In fact, it had happened just once previously in the baseball draft. In 1978, Arizona State's Bob Horner was the first choice of the draft by the Atlanta Braves, and teammate Hubie Brooks was the third choice of the draft by the Mets.

This was the first time two pitchers from the same college team have been taken in the first 10 picks. Only once previously have two pitchers been taken in the first 15 choices of the first round. That happened in 1987, when Georgia's Derek Lilliquist (sixth pick by the Braves) and Cris Carpenter (14th pick by the Cardinals) were both chosen in the first 15 selections.

Koch and Benson proved the general managers who made the decision to make them such high picks were soothsayers. Both made it to the Majors by 1999 and played well. In fact, both were in the top five in their respective leagues in rookie-of-theyear voting.

Koch has ranked in the top 10 in the American League in saves each of the last four years and is now with the Chicago White Sox. Benson ranked 15th in the National League in ERA (3.85) in 2000. He missed 2001 with an injury and came back last year to post a winning record over the second half of the season.

Fifty-Win Seasons

Clemson won 54 games in 2002, the 10th time in history the Tigers have won at least 50 games in a season. Five of the 10 have come under current Head Coach Jack Leggett.

Clemson's first 50-win season came in 1987 under Bill Wilhelm, when it had a 54-14-1 record. Clemson also won at least 50 games in 1988 and 1989. All three of those clubs reached a regional final but failed to reach the College World Series.

The 1991 Clemson team did reach the College World Series and posted a 60-10 record, an ACC record for wins in a season. Clemson sported the #1 seed in the College World Series that year, but lost to hometown Creighton in a nationally-televised game on CBS in the first round, then lost on a walk-off home run to Long Beach State.

Jack Leggett's winningest team was the 1994 Tigers that won 57 contests. That team benefited by a 65-game regular-season schedule, as the Tigers played nine extra games in Hawaii that year. Each of Leggett's last four College World Series teams have won at least 50 games and finished in the top 10 of all three final polls.

Greatest Team?

Clemson has had some great teams over the years, including the 2002 club that finished tied for third at the College World Series and won 19 games against top-25 teams. The team, which one 54 games overall, hit .317 and had a 3.23 team ERA.

One way to measure greatness over a period of time is to determine the number of future Major League players on a given roster. Clemson's 1995 team has had six former players make it to the Majors, including current players Kris Benson (Pirates), Billy Koch (White Sox), and Matthew LeCroy (Twins). Others who played on the 1995 team who played in the Majors are Ken Vining (White Sox), Scott Winchester (Reds), and Shane Monahan (Mariners).

Heisman, John

The man whose name is most recognized with college football holds a unique distinction at Clemson. Many people know that he was the head football coach for four seasons at Clemson. But he also served as the baseball coach at Clemson from 1901-04. Heisman, who was Clemson's second baseball coach, had a record of 36-11-2, good for a .755 winning percentage. It still holds today as the best winning percentage in Tiger history given a minimum of two seasons.

In 1904, Georgia Tech, who had suffered a 73-0 loss to Heisman's gridders in 1903, offered the young coach $2,250 plus a percentage of the gate to coach football. Unfortunately for Clemson, he accepted.

Howard, Frank

Frank Howard is synonymous with Clemson football. But most people do not know that Howard was the baseball coach in 1943 and did quite well. He led the Tigers to a 12-3 record. The .800 winning percentage is the highest by any coach in Clemson baseball history.

The native of Barlow Bend, AL won 165 football games in 30 seasons at Clemson and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989. He served Clemson University for 65 years, including as the track coach from 1931-39 and as the athletic director from 1940-71, all the while being the school's best-known ambassador.

Howard died at the age of 86 on January 28, 1996. His ability to "bring the house down" when he spoke with his homespun oratory will forever be remembered by players, coaches, and fans alike.

ΙΡΤΑΥ

IPTAY stands for "I Pay Ten a Year," the original name with a meaning deriving from the minimum contribution of its donors when the organization began in 1934. It is the Clemson athletic department's scholarship fund-raising organization. The organization raised over $10 million and had over 23,000 members in 2001-02, records in both areas. The executive director of IPTAY is George Bennett. It is Bennett's second tour of duty as the organization's leader, as he held the post from 1971-80. He returned to his alma mater in the summer of 1994.

IPTAY recently added two clubs to create an influx of youth into the organization. The Tiger Cub Club and Collegiate Club allow young and collegeage Tigers to be a part of IPTAY. These two clubs are the largest of their kind in the country. Call (864) 656-2115 to reach the IPTAY office, located at the northwest corner of Memorial Stadium.

Legend of Clemson Baseball

For 36 seasons (1958-1993), Bill Wilhelm led the Tiger program to 1,161 wins, making him the fifth-winningest coach in the history of college baseball at the time of his retirement. But perhaps the most amazing stat of all is that Wilhelm never had a losing season.

Wilhelm's coaching career spanned nine United States Presidents, from Dwight Eisenhower to Bill Clinton. He coached 100 players that signed professional contracts, 20 All-Americans, and 88 First-Team All-ACC players.

Wilhelm also coached Clemson teams to six College World Series appearances and 11 ACC Championships. No other ACC baseball coach has more than four ACC titles. He still comes to most of the games, unless he has a golf match he thinks he can win.

Believe us, there is nothing like watching a baseball game with Bill Wilhelm. It is like going to Fenway Park or Wrigley Field. You have to do it at least once. For more on the career of legendary coach Bill Wilhelm, see page 121.

The 1995 Tiger team had a 54–14 record and played in the College World Series. That team also had six players that went on to play in the Major Leagues.

Major League Draft, Active Tigers

Clemson has 12 current Tigers who have been drafted by a Major League team. The list includes Michael Johnson, a second-round draft choice in 2002 by the San Diego Padres, who decided to return to Clemson for his senior year.

Two current Tigers, sophomore Tyler Lumsden and freshman Kris Harvey, were fifth-round selections after their high school careers.

NCAA Tournament History

Clemson has been to an NCAA Regional 28 times in its history dating to the 1947 season. That year, Clemson actually advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament, but it is not considered a College World Series season because only four teams went to Omaha in those days.

Clemson won the District III Tournament in Charlotte in 1947 by coming through the losers' bracket. The Tigers, coached by Randy Hinson, lost in the first round to Alabama 8-2, then came back with one win over Auburn and two wins over Alabama to advance to the next stage. Clemson's season ended when a Yale team, led by future President George Bush, defeated the Tigers in New Haven, CT (7-3). Bush was 1-for-3 as the starting first baseman for Yale that day.

Clemson made its first trip to the College World Series in 1958 when the Tigers again came through the losers' bracket. After losing to Florida in the first round, Clemson came back to defeat George Washington, Florida State, and Florida (twice) to advance under first-year Head Coach Bill Wilhelm. Clemson defeated Florida 15-14 and 3-1 on June 9 that year to advance. Harold Stowe struck out 17 batters in that second game on June 9, still a Clemson singlegame record for strikeouts in an NCAA Tournament game.

The Tigers have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1987, making College World Series appearances in 1991, 1995, 1996, 2000, and 2002. That means Jack Leggett has taken Clemson to the College World Series four times in his previous nine seasons.

Clemson's streak of 16 consecutive regional appearances is the third-longest active streak in the country, behind Miami (FL) (30) and Florida State (25). Clemson's streak of 16 in a row is the fifthlongest streak in college baseball history.

Polls

Clemson is certainly no stranger to college baseball polls. In fact, it is a rare occurrence when Clemson does not show up in at least one of the three polls. Clemson had a streak of 146 weeks of being ranked in one of the major polls, a streak that ran from 1991 to 1999. Clemson had a 407-138 (.747) record over that span that lasted over eight seasons.

Clemson was back in the rankings in 2000, appearing in the top 25 of all three polls every week. Clemson was a consensus top-10 team from March 12 through the final poll. Clemson continued the streak in 2001, making the ranking in every poll throughout the season.

It was a third-straight year in every poll in 2002. In fact, Clemson was in the top seven in every poll every week of 2002. Clemson was ranked #1 in all three polls from April 1 through May 19, a run of seven-straight polls. Clemson now has an active streak of 68 consecutive polls with a ranking in at least one of the three polls. Clemson has been ranked in the top 25 of all three polls for 63-straight polls.

Clemson was first ranked #1 in the nation (in any poll) in 1977. The Tigers were tied for first in the nation with Hawaii on April 29, 1977 in the Collegiate Baseball poll. Clemson has been ranked #1 in the nation at least once during the 1994, 1995, 2000, and 2002 seasons.

Raleigh, NC

This ACC city has been the site of two of Clemson's most bizarre victories in history. On April 7 ,1979, Clemson scored 18 runs in the top of the ninth inning and defeated the Wolfpack by a score of 41-9. The 41 runs remains the most runs scored by one team in a game in ACC history.

Clemson Hall of Famer Neil Simons led the attack with three home runs and a school-recordtying 10 RBIs. He hit a grand slam during the 18run ninth-inning. Robert Bonnette and Tony Masone each had five hits to pace the 27-hit attack. Every Clemson player in the order had at last one hit, one run scored, and one RBI. In fact, eight different players tallied at least three runs and seven had at least three RBIs.

Sixteen years and one week later (April 14, 1995), Clemson scored 11 runs in the top of the ninth inning and went on to a 17-15 victory in extra innings in Raleigh. It is the greatest deficit overcome to gain victory in Clemson history. Clemson trailed 15-4 entering the top of the ninth. then scored the 11 to tie the score. even after the leadoff batter in the inning was retired. Clemson scored twice in the 10th inning to gain victory. Future Major Leaguers Shane Monahan (three-run homer) and Matthew LeCroy (four RBIs) provided the big hits in the ninth frame. Another future Major Leaguer, Scott Winchester, earned the win in relief.

Regional Hosts

The 2002 season marked the ninth time in history that Clemson played host to an NCAA Regional at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Clemson has a 27-7 record in NCAA Tournament games played at home, including 13 wins in the last 14 games. Clemson's only NCAA Tourney loss during that span came to Southern California, who defeated the Tigers 8-5 on May 23, 1998. That Trojan team went on to win the National Championship.

Clemson first played host to an NCAA Regional in 1980. The Tigers swept through three games that year, including a 17-12 win over rival South Carolina that clinched Clemson's trip to Omaha.

Clemson has celebrated a trip to Omaha by winning a regional on its home field five times in history, including each of the last four times Clemson has advanced to the College World Series.

Clemson has played host to a regional in seven of the nine years Jack Leggett has been the head coach. The Tigers have a 24-5 NCAA Tournament record at home under Leggett, including 22 wins in its last 25 games. The 1994 and 1998 seasons are the only years Clemson failed to advance from a regional played at home under Leggett.

Clemson did play an NCAA Tournament "playin" game in 1954, but the official NCAA recordbook does not consider that to be an NCAA Tournament game. That year, Clemson lost to Virginia Tech in a game at Clemson, 11-10, then traveled to Blacksburg two days later and lost 7-1.

Streaks

Clemson won 54 games in 2002, which was the Tigers' 17th-straight season winning 40 games or more. The Tigers also participated in the NCAA Tournament for the 16th-straight season. Only Miami (FL) (30) and Florida State (25) have longer current streaks in college baseball than Clemson.

Uniform Uniqueness

Under legendary Head Coach Bill Wilhelm and up to today, Clemson has had a uniform uniqueness. The first aspect of the uniform stressed by Wilhelm was the word itself (uniform), which means "the same." Wilhelm wanted all his players to look consistent and not have different pant lengths, different colored undershirts, etc. So he, with the help of some ideas from players and coaches, came up with aspects of uniforms that have stuck.

Wilhelm came up with the idea of wearing white shoes from Joe Lutz, who was the coach at Southern Illinois in the 1960s. Lutz was also the first to have female bat girls. Wilhelm liked those ideas and the two have been with the Tiger baseball program ever since.

But perhaps the most synonymous part of Tiger baseball is the long pants. Clemson was one of the first schools to wear non-wool uniforms. The Tigers wore nylon uniforms starting in the 1968 season. This and having the long pants was done from the advice of a former Big Leaguer's (Rick Rickardt's) father, who was a doctor. Wilhelm read an article by Dr. Rickardt saying how there was so much pressure being put around the upper portion of the lower leg due to wrapping rubber bands to keep players' socks from falling and having the elastic around the bottom of the pant legs.

A few years later, Bill Foley, a catcher at Clemson in the mid-1970s, had just returned from a tournament in Japan. He had received a pair of long pants from Rawlings and wore them to practice one day before the 1976 season. Foley liked the nylon stretched pants and Wilhelm followed suit. Wilhelm liked how the pants did not have a zipper and how they were custom-made. He also liked that players could wear low socks, and how that saved time and money from using the customary sanitary socks. Wilhelm decided to experiment with the long pants in the 1976 and 1977 seasons, and changed over to them permanently in 1978.

Since then, Clemson has also had a tradition of wearing white pants for all games, home and away, much to the chagrin of equipment managers.

Voice of the Tigers

Fans in South Carolina will listen to the "Voice of the Tigers" Jim Phillips for the 13th season behind the microphone broadcasting Clemson baseball games in 2003. His voice is truly synonymous with Clemson sports, as he has worked Tiger men's basketball (35th season), women's basketball (10 seasons), football (423 games over 35 seasons) along with baseball since he first came to Clemson in 1968. Phillips is the dean of all broadcasters in the ACC. He is also the lone voice in the conference to broadcast football, basketball, and baseball on a full-time basis.

Walk-Off Hits

Clemson has had a flair for the dramatic under Head Coach Jack Leggett. No less than 18 times in his nine years at Clemson, a Tiger has had a walkoff, game-winning hit. It happened three times in 2002, including two times that gave Clemson 11-10 victories. Khalil Greene had a double to beat rival South Carolina on March 3 to give Clemson an 11-10 win, and Jeff Baker doubled home a run to beat Nebraska in the College World Series.

Four times, the game-winning, game-ending hit has been a home run. Baker did it last year against Winthrop to give Clemson a 6-4 victory. That blast culminated quite a night for Baker, as it was his third home run of the night. He became the first Clemson player to hit three home runs in a game and have the final shot be a game-winner. He was also the first Clemson player to hit three home runs in one game at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

Wins Over #1

Clemson's win over #1-ranked Florida State in Tallahassee on April 10, 1999 was the ninth time in Tiger baseball history that Clemson upset a #1ranked team, and the first since the 1996 College World Series, when Clemson defeated #1-ranked Alabama. All nine wins over the #1 team have taken place away from Clemson. Current Head coach Jack Leggett has four of the nine wins over the #1 team, while former Clemson Head Coach Bill Wilhelm has the other five.

The nine wins over top-ranked teams by the Clemson baseball program are more than any other Tiger sport.

World Series Champions & All-Stars

Clemson has had four different former players win Major League World Series Championship rings. The first to do it was Flint Rhem, who was a member of the Saint Louis Cardinals, champions of 1926 and 1931. Rhem was a pitcher who had a 20-7 record in 1926, the most wins in the National League that season.

Tim Teufel was a member of the New York Mets in 1986, the year they defeated the Boston Red Sox to win the World Series. He hit .247 for the Mets that year in 93 games. He played over 1,000 games in his Major League career.

Mark Davidson gave the Tigers a World Series Champion two years in a row when he played on the Minnesota team that won it all in 1987. Davidson played in 102 games and hit .267 that season, his second year in the Majors.

Jimmy Key has had the most impressive World Series career of all the former Tigers. He played on the 1992 Toronto Blue Jay and the 1996 New York Yankee teams that won the World Series. He holds the distinction of being the only player in baseball to gain the clinching victory in two different World Series in the 1990s. He was 2-0 in the 1992 World Series, winning games four and six, the latter in relief. He was 3-1 with a 2.50 ERA during his World Series career.

Clemson has had two former players participate in the Major League All-Star game. Billy O'Dell, a star pitcher for Clemson in the 1950s, is the only former Tiger to earn MVP honors at the All-Star game. He earned the victory and pitched 3.0 scoreless innings in the 1958 game in Baltimore, MD. He was a member of the Orioles at the time, so that was quite a special afternoon. O'Dell also played in the 1959 All-Star game.

Key is the other former Tiger to play in an All-Star game. Key was chosen four different seasons, including 1985, his rookie year. He was also chosen in 1991, 1993, and 1994. He is second to Michael Dean Perry in Clemson athletic history in terms of All-Star game selections at the professional level. Perry played in six Pro Bowls in his career as an NFL football player.

Zaney Numbers

Clemson outfielder Zane Green holds the distinction of owning the Clemson NCAA Tournament record for home runs. The current junior from Lake Park, GA hit six homers in the 2002 Tournament, more than any other player in a single NCAA Tourney in Tiger history.

The remarkable aspect of the accomplishment is that Green had never hit a home run in his previous 89 games as a Tiger. He then hit six in 10 NCAA Tournament games. Furthermore, he did it from the leadoff spot in the lineup. It was quite a story considering Green was not even on the travel roster for most of the ACC road trips during the season.

Twice during the NCAA Tournament, against Georgia Southern and East Carolina, he hit the first pitch of the game for a home run, getting Clemson off on the best possible start. He also led off the game against Arkansas with a round-tripper in the Super Regional on June 8. He also homered on the first pitch against South Carolina in the College World Series on June 19, meaning he hit at least one home run at each level of the 2002 tournament.

Zane Green hit six homers in 10 NCAA Tournament games in 2002. He entered the tourney without a career home run.

Jack Leggett is no stranger to success. In just nine seasons, he has led Clemson to 434 wins (more than 48 per season), nine NCAA Tournament berths, and four College World Series appearances. Clemson is the third-winningest program in college baseball during his time as head coach.

The enthusiastic mentor, who turns 49 on March 5 when Clemson plays host to College of Charleston, has not built up that win total against easy competition. Of his 434 victories, 111 (nearly 26 percent) have come against teams ranked in the top 25 of at least one of the three major polls heading into the game. He also already has 59 victories over top-10 teams and 35 wins in NCAA Tournament competition.

The South Burlington, VT native has been with the Clemson program since the 1992 season. He served as recruiting coordinator and assistant head coach under Bill Wilhelm in 1992 and 1993. He was a major contributor to a pair of Clemson teams that were ranked in the final top 20 of every poll and advanced to two NCAA Regionals. The Tigers also won the ACC Tournament title in 1993.

The word "championship" is also in the lexicon of terms when summarizing Leggett's first nine years as the head coach in Tigertown. In 1994, Clemson won the ACC regular-season championship and went on to win the tournament title as well. In 1995, the Tigers repeated as regular-season conference champions and won the NCAA East Regional title. The 1996 season brought Clemson another NCAA Regional title and a second-consecutive berth to the College World Series. In 1999, Clemson won four games in two days to capture the Fayetteville (AR) Regional.

Most Wins Since 1994

The Tigers also won regional championships in 2000, 2001, and 2002. Clemson is one of just six schools to make it to the Super Regional round in each of the four years of its existence. Leggett also guided Clemson to the College World Series in 2000 and 2002.

Clemson has won at least 40 games for 17straight seasons and has participated in an NCAA Regional for 16 years in a row. Also, five of the nine seasons have seen the Tigers finish in the top 10 of all three major polls, and there has been at least one top-25 final ranking every season under Leggett. For his accomplishments, Leggett was named

> ACC Coach-of-the-Year in his first two seasons (1994,95). He is just one of a few coaches in the history of the ACC, regardless of sport, to be named ACC Coach-of-the-Year in each of his first two seasons in the league

Leggett's demeanor is one of aggressiveness and passion for the game. One can see Leggett sprinting to the third-base coaching box between innings and charging into the pregame huddle to get his players fired up. Leggett expects the same intensity and has gotten that out of his players.

Leggett's Tigers have shown excellence in all areas of the game over his nine seasons. Leggett's first year as Clemson's head coach was truly remarkable. The 1994 campaign was filled with unprecedented accomplishments. With just three starters returning in the field, Clemson was unranked in the preseason top 20, but the Tigers quickly reached the top 20 of every poll with a twogame sweep of a top-10 Tennessee team. Those were the first two of 19 wins over top-25 teams in 1994, a Clemson single-season record that the 2002 team tied.

The 1994 Tigers won a record 13 straight conference games to open the season and concluded the year with a 20-4 ACC ledger, a league record for conference wins in a season. That was quite an accomplishment considering the ACC had the #1-RPI ranking in college baseball that season. Clemson also had a 57-18 overall record thanks to an outstanding pitching staff that ranked in the top 25 in the nation in ERA.

After two wins over Miami (FL) in late April, 1994, Clemson ascended to the #1 ranking in the nation according to Collegiate Baseball. The ranking was a first in Clemson baseball history. Seven times in 1994, Clemson defeated a team ranked in the top three in the country.

Leggett's Tigers won the ACC regular-season championship, then captured the ACC Tournament by gaining victory in four games against top-20 teams in 1994. It was just the fifth time in Clemson history that the Tigers captured the regular season and the ACC Tournament titles in the same year. Clemson was rewarded as a regional host for the first time in 14 years as a result.

Clemson was eliminated in the NCAA Regional, but still concluded the 1994 season as the nation's winningest team. The Tigers' 57 victories ranked second in ACC history. All of this against a schedule ranked in the nation's top five. The summer following the 1994 season, Leggett was chosen to the University of Maine Hall of Fame.

In 1995, his Tigers had a 54-14 record, due in part to an offense that ranked in the top 10 in the nation in scoring (8.4 runs a game). The team also had six players who would go on to play in the Major Leagues. In 1996, the season ended with the Tiger pitching staff owning the best ERA (3.03) in the nation. With a record of 51-17, Clemson was fourth in the nation in wins.

The 1996 team also produced eight Major League draft choices, with seven of those going in the first 17 rounds. Included in those selections were pitchers Kris Benson, the first pick overall, and Billy Koch, the fourth pick overall. It was only the second time in the history of the draft, which dates back to 1965, that one school produced two of the first five picks.

In 1998, Clemson reached as high as #3 in the nation and finished the season as high as #19. Leggett also reached the 600-career-win plateau during the 1998 season. Ironically, he got his 600th win against his alma mater (Maine).

In 1999, Clemson was 6-6 against top-10 teams, with just one of the 12 games at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

In 2000, the Tigers traveled back to Omaha for the first time in four seasons. Clemson went 1-2 at the College World Series after sweeping its way through the regional and super regional rounds, which were both played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. The Tigers climbed to the #1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball after opening the season 23-3. Clemson finished with a 51-18 record overall and finished second in the ACC behind Georgia Tech. Clemson claimed 14 wins over top-25 teams, 11 of which were against teams ranked in the top 10.

The 2001 season saw Leggett and his team triumph over adversity. The Tigers suffered a fivegame losing streak and the unexpected loss of seniors Patrick Boyd and Mike Proto to injury. But Clemson finished second in the ACC and was a step away from the College World Series before being eliminated by eventual national champion Miami (FL).

The 2002 season saw Leggett receive region Coach-of-the-Year honors by the American Basebal Coaches Association, as the Tigers were 54-17 and finished tied for third in the nation in Omaha. That team also featured eight draft picks, including unanimous National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene. Greene set the national career record for doubles (93) and placed second in hits (403).

Heading into 2003, Leggett has 811 career wins. He also has a stellar 52-25 record against SEC teams as the Tiger head coach, including a 32-9 record at home. Leggett has been proving his expertise in recruiting for many years. But he also has experience in terms of teaching the finer points and game management.

Prior to his move to Clemson, Leggett served as a head coach for 14 years, five at Vermont and nine at Western Carolina. He already had 377 career wins, 302 at Western Carolina and 75 at Vermont, before he came to Clemson. Leggett enters the 2003 season with a career record of 811-462, six conference titles, and 14 NCAA Tournament appearances on his resumé. So far, 45 of the players Leggett has brought to Tigertown have signed professional baseball contracts.

Leggett led Western Carolina to five NCAA Tournaments (1985-1989), five Southern Conference baseball titles, and a national top-30 ranking during his tenure as head coach. His 1988 team set a school record for wins, posting a 38-24 record, while the 1989 squad set a conference record by winning its fifth-consecutive Southern Conference title. Under Leggett's guidance, the Catamounts averaged 33 wins per season during his time in Cullowhee, NC, and his teams played in the conference title game in eight of the nine seasons.

The 1991 Catamounts posted a 36-26 record. One of the 36 wins came in a 9-7 win over Clemson on March 31, one of just 10 losses the #4 Tigers had that season. Leggett was named the 1987 Division I Atlantic Region Coach-of-the-Year by the American Baseball Coaches Association and was also named the Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year that same season. In 1989, he was appointed to the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee and served the committee through the 1995 season.

In his tenure at Western Carolina, Leggett produced 35 First-Team All-Southern Conference players, six conference players-of-the-year, and had 16 players sign professional contracts. Of the players who played under Leggett for four seasons, 100 percent graduated, and better than 50 percent compiled a 3.00 or better grade point average. He was inducted into the Western Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2001.

The Leggett File

Full Name: Jackson Scott Leggett Born: March 5, 1954

- Education: Bachelor of Science in Physical Education and Minor in History at Maine (1976); Master of Education in Teacher Education at Vermont (1980)
- Playing Experience: 4-year letterman (baseball) at Maine (1973-76); 3-year letterman (football) at Maine (1974-76)
- Coaching Experience: Head Coach at Vermont (1978-82); Head Coach at Western Carolina (1983-91); Assistant Head Coach at Clemson (1992,93); Head Coach at Clemson (1994-present)
- Family: Son, Tanner (19), and daughter, Colby (17)

Leggett's first Clemson team had two first-team All-Americans in Mike Hampton and Shane Monahan. In 1995, a record-tying five different Clemson players were chosen to All-America teams, a mark the 2002 team tied. Leggett also coached the first Tiger player to be named a first-team Academic All-American in Paul Galloway (1995), who had a perfect 4.0 career GPA in mechanical engineering.

Before going to Western Carolina for the 1983 season, Leggett spent five seasons at Vermont, where he turned that team into a consistent winner from day one. He coached the Vermont club team in 1977 and then organized and coached the school's first intercollegiate team in 1978. At age 23, he was the youngest NCAA baseball coach in the nation. He had a winning season in his first year and had a 75-61 overall record at Vermont.

Leggett graduated with honors from Maine in 1976, where he was an all-star performer in both football and baseball. He captained the 1976 Maine team that advanced to the College World Series, and was a two-time All-Yankee Conference selection in football as a defensive back and placekicker. He still holds the Maine record for the longest field goal, a 52 yarder.

Leggett has two children - Tanner (8-12-83) and Colby (10-21-85). Tanner is a freshman middle infielder on the 2003 Clemson baseball squad.

Jack Leggett's enthusiasm has translated into success on and off the field. His Tigers have been to four College World Series, while many of his players have received academic accolades. Leggett has coached two national players-of-the-year as well.

Coaches Who Have Influenced Him

"Obviously, I admire Bill Wilhelm. He has taught me so much. I will never forget him for giving me this opportunity. I had some great coaches at Maine. Jack Butterfield was a tremendous coach for me and also John Winkin. Walter Abbot was my football coach at Maine and he taught me a lot about mental toughness. Jack Bicknell was also a football coach who influenced me."

"Paul Jordan was my high school football coach. He taught me what it takes to be a winner and taught me about the benefits of self-sacrifice, how to be organized, and how to prepare for a game. The current athletic director at Vermont, Rick Farnham, was also a coach whom I've drawn a lot from."

Doug Kingsmore Stadium

"Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the top baseball facilities in the country. I am certainly prejudiced, but I think we have the finest facility in the nation when you take into account the players, the fans, the media, and the support personnel."

"We have some unique features in our ballpark, with the terrace and the close proximity of the fans to the field. But the greatest feature is the fan support. We have ranked in the top 20 in the country in average attendance each of the last nine years, including a #9 ranking last year. Our fans make it an exciting atmosphere for our players. We have a season-ticket base of over 1,500 fans, so there is strong support for this program in the community."

Goals for the Program

"We strive to go to Omaha every year, that is our standard. We put "Omaha" on the backs of our caps because I want our players to know every day at practice and for every game what we are striving for. We end all our team huddles before games by saying, 'Omaha'." "We are actually changing that goal. We want to get to Omaha, but now we want to do more than just get there; we want to win a national championship. The more times you get there, the more experienced you get and the more you want to stay there and win the College World Series. We reached the final-three teams last year. Experience plays a great role in how you do."

"Our daily goals are to play at a national championship level. We strive to exhibit the discipline necessary in everything we do to win the national championship. We talk about it; we don't hide that."

Heroes

"Roberto Clemente was my favorite player of all-time. I respected the way he played. He played so hard all the time. I watched him play in person and I thought he was everything you wanted in a baseball player."

"My biggest heroes are my parents. My father was a coach for almost 40 years. I learned a lot just being around his teams. My mother was always so supportive and was at all the games. She has also been like a coach in my life. Any positive things I do I owe to them."

National Aspect of the Clemson Program

"We have seen a lot of players from all over the country come to Clemson in recent years. We have some geographic diversity on this team."

"That is part of the college experience, coming to a university and meeting people from all over the country. The entire process helps a young man mature."

"This is a great place to play baseball. People are coming to this program because it has become a national program. Players who have come here from far away have seen that the we care about baseball and that players go on to be successful in the professional ranks or their chosen field."

Philosophies of Baseball

"I like to play a very aggressive game offensively and defensively. You have to take the action to the opposition and force the other team into mistakes. I like to hit-andrun, bunt, squeeze, steal bases, and be aggressive on the basepaths. I am not a coach who likes to sit back for the big inning. This year's team will have to succeed in the fundamentals. We will have to situation-hit and move runners along, more than we did last year when we set the school record for home runs."

John Winkin, Leggett's coach at Maine in 1975 and 1976, was on hand to watch Clemson in the 2002 College World Series. "Consistency on defense is very important. It all begins on the mound. You can tell in our recruiting that this is an area we stress, because that is what carries teams to the NCAA Tournament."

Playing Experiences

"I enjoyed my college baseball experience at Maine. I was fortunate to play in the College World Series in 1976. It was a memorable time. Clemson was also at that College World Series. I can tell you who we played, what the score was, players on the other teams, what I did in each at bat, the player introductions, what hotel we stayed in, and the plane we took to get there."

"Having been there as a player and seen what a great experience it was, it motivates me to make that happen for our players."

"The college game has changed considerably in terms of exposure and the emphasis it receives at the local and national level. Players are better, and as a result the professional ranks look to the college players much more than they used to. The pros are drafting more college players than they did when I was in college and becoming more comfortable signing a player from college compared to high school because of the overall maturity factor."

Rewards of Being Clemson's Head Coach

"The most rewarding aspect of this job is being around the players. I am always thinking about ways to make their game better, but also try to make their lives better off the field. I am concerned in everything they do from on the field to academics to social life. I try to do what I can in all areas of their lives to help them make the right decisions. That is what college coaching is all about. I am a teacher. I am aware that the lessons they learn here will be carried with them the rest of their lives."

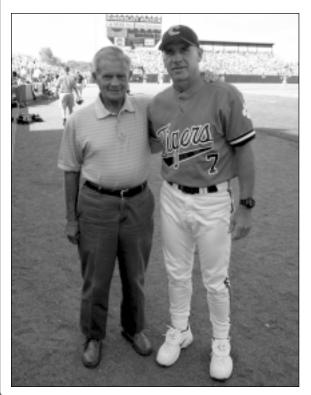

"Second, every day I work with a great coaching staff. It is rewarding to have such a strong staff that is dedicated to excelling in this profession. We have common goals and we mesh very well. We trust each other and that is important."

"Third, it is rewarding to have a university administration and fans that support this program. When we run a regional and we see university administrators, secretaries, and other employees from all over campus contribute their time and energy, it is very rewarding. I never take that for granted."

"Fourth is the challenge that you have in your job, the challenge to make your players better in all phases of their lives. That includes maturing as a player, mentally and physically. It is rewarding to see your players grow and improve to the point where they have a chance to play professionally. Obviously, seeing Kris Benson going from an undrafted player out of high school to the #1 pick in the Major League draft was a rewarding experience."

"We have had a lot of players come here out of high school who were not drafted and leave as a drafted player with a chance to play in the Major Leagues. Watching Khalil Greene improve to the point where he was the unanimous National Playerof-the-Year was very rewarding."

"You make a commitment during the recruiting process to a student-athlete that you will help them improve in all phases of their experience at Clemson. It is very rewarding to see our players grow academically, socially, and on the field."

Selling Points of the Clemson Program

"First of all, we have a great tradition at Clemson. If a young man wants to get involved in a program that strives to go to Omaha and has a goal of winning the national championship, this is the place to be. That has been the case here for many vears. We have now been to the College World Series four of the last eight years and 10 different years overall. It is a program that has not had a losing season since 1957 and has won at least 40 games every year since 1986."

"In every good program, you have a strong tradition. We are fortunate that Bill Wilhelm set that tradition for us. He coached here 36 years and never had a losing season. I don't see anyone duplicating that feat in college baseball."

"I was a history minor in college, so I know how important that aspect is to a program. He brought it great stability. Every day I appreciate what he did for me and what he did for this program."

"Second, we have the facilities and the administrative backing to compete for the national championship. That is something I would be looking for as a player. Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the top facilities in the country. We are working on a multi-million dollar renovation to the stadium that will make it one of the best facilities in the nation. It is being done in a first-class manner in every way and we are very proud of it. We have tremendous support from our administration in all aspects of our program.

"Third, we have a tradition of playing host to regionals at Clemson and that means we have fan support. You don't host regionals without drawing sellout crowds. We drew over 160,000 fans last year and ranked ninth in the nation on a per-game basis. The people in this community really embrace this program.'

"Fourth, Vickery Hall, our academic learning facility, is among the best in the country. The programs at Vickery Hall show that Clemson cares about its student-athletes in all phases of his or her life. Any student-athlete at Clemson knows he or she has the chance to be successful in the classroom and graduate from Clemson. Vickery Hall is one of our top selling points."

"We have tremendous structure in our studyhall program. There is tradition in academics here as well. We have had academic All-Americans, and we average 15 players a semester on the Academic Honor Roll."

"Our team GPA last spring was 2.82, our highest on record. That means we had our highest-ever finish on the field in terms of national ranking (third) and our highest team GPA in the same year."

Starting the Program at Vermont

"I first went to Vermont in 1977 to coach the club team. I was paid a stipend to coach players who were already on campus. In the summer of 1977, the program was elevated to Division I status and I was named the head coach at the age of 23. the youngest coach in the country."

"I had to learn about budgets, scheduling, and practice organization in a hurry. I had no assistant coaches, so it was quite a crash course. It was odd because I was coaching some players who were older than I was. It was a great challenge, but it was a great opportunity to be exposed to all of that at a

Support From the University Administration

"Clemson University was chosen the top public university in the nation by Time Magazine in 2001. That speaks volumes about this institution. That award has brought considerable attention to Clemson and the quality of our education."

"We are very lucky to have President Jim Barker leading our campus. He is a dynamic leader who certainly is interested in athletics. He is a former Clemson athlete who comes to our games and supports our program. He has a keen understanding of the impact athletics can have on a university landscape. He is a very competitive person himself."

Same 25 million

"The support of the university administration is unique here. When we play host to a regional, everyone gets involved. We have university officials serve as ticket takers and ushers. Whenever I see my old coach from Maine (John Winkin), he reminds me how lucky I am in that regard. He has never seen a university community support a program like we do at Clemson."

17 Consecutive 40-Win Seasons

Kevin O'Sullivan is in his fifth season as the Tigers' pitching coach. He was also promoted to the position of associate head coach this past offseason. He has been a part of five NCAA Tournament teams and two College World Series squads while in Tigertown. O'Sullivan, who has made two instructional pitching videos, has also seen 13 of his Tiger pitchers sign professional contracts in just four seasons.

In his first season with the Tiger program, "Sully" fine-tuned Mike Paradis from having control problems his first two seasons to a first-round pick in 1999. He helped Ryan Mottl go 10-4 in 2000 and total 33 career wins at Clemson, the third most in school history. Those totals helped Mottl become a sixth-round pick by the Cincinnati Reds.

Under the guidance of O'Sullivan in 2001, Tiger pitchers had a 2.27 strikeout-to-walk ratio, fourth best in school history. One of his pitchers, Steve Reba, led the ACC in wins in 2001 with a 12-3 record. Clemson has ranked among national leaders in team ERA each of the last three seasons and O'Sullivan's ability to work with and develop young pitchers has been praised by Head Coach Jack Leggett.

He followed up 2001 with a 2002 season that saw Reba and Matt Henrie shine. They both had 13

Pitching Points

"We're here to win National Championships, but we're also here to help pitchers develop to the best of their abilities. There are three areas that are important to a pitcher's development...strength training, sound mechanics that can be repeated, and a regularly-scheduled throwing program."

"Our strength coaches do a tremendous job both inseason and offseason. Our players were challenged and pushed themselves this past fall. We saw great gains with all of our pitchers. Secondly, repeatable sound mechanics are vital to success. Poor mechanics will cause command and control problems, and also increase chances for injury. Lastly, throwing on a regular basis should improve mechanics and arm strength."

"We spent a lot of time this past fall breaking down each pitcher's strengths and weaknesses. We will continue to pitch to each pitcher's strengths. Our guys should have an understanding of strike percentages of each of their pitches. Furthermore, understanding counts and attacking batters with proper pitch sequence is extremely important."

"We teach our pitchers to be aggressive, throw strikes down in the zone, get ahead of batters, pitch to both sides of the plate, and work fast. An aggressive approach should translate into lesser pitch counts. We like to throw two of the first three pitches for strikes. This puts hitters on the defensive, keeps the defense ready, keeps the game rolling along, and gets starters to the later innings."

"I don't like to call pitches. You've got three choices and it shouldn't be that difficult. The bottom line is that we try to educate our pitchers on their percentages with their pitches, hitting counts, and recognizing hitters' weaknesses."

"For the most part, if you keep the ball down in the strike zone with command, you should be successful. It is a constant learning process. Also, learning what to throw and when to throw a certain pitch is part of their development. They must learn to think on their own because players ultimately win or lose the game." wins and both earn All-America honors. O'Sullivan helped mold Reba and Henrie into a formidable onetwo punch that led the Tigers to a third-place national finish. Henrie was drafted in the seventh round after going undrafted out of high school.

The 2002 team also featured B.J. LaMura, a hard-throwing righthander who was instrumental in Clemson's late-season surge. LaMura was a fifth-round draft pick, giving Clemson five pitchers from the 2002 squad who signed a Major League contract. And that total does not include Jarrod Schmidt, who had an 18-3 career record at Clemson. The 2002 team set an ACC record for saves (26) in a season as well.

The Jupiter, FL native spent the 1998 season with the Minnesota Twins' Rookie League team in Fort Myers, FL, where he was responsible for the development of the team's pitchers. He helped that team make the league playoffs for the first time.

O'Sullivan was the pitching coach at Virginia in the 1996 and 1997 seasons. Most noticeably, he coached All-America and first-round draft pick Seth Greisenger. The 1996 Cavalier team won its firstever ACC Tournament Championship thanks to the tutelage of O'Sullivan. That team also finished 44-21. He coached a total of three pitchers in the two seasons that were drafted in the top-five rounds, including a first-, second-, and fifth-round pick to go along with a 14th-round selection in 1997. O'Sullivan, who helped in the recruitment of student-athletes at Virginia, coached players picked in the third and 44th rounds in 1997 as well.

His talents were noticed in the summer of 1996 and 1997, when he coached in the Valley League and the Cape Cod League, respectively. O'Sullivan coached the Bourne Braves to the secondbest overall record in the Cape while garnering Manager-of-the-Year honors. He also coached former Tiger lefty Chris Heck in the summer of 1997.

In the summer of 1996, while coaching Waynesboro of the Valley League, he managed his team to the pennant and was named manager-ofthe-year, meaning he earned that honor both years as a head coach in the summer leagues. He also coached a total of 14 players in the two summers who were drafted, including two first-round picks.

O'Sullivan coached at Florida Atlantic in the 1994 and 1995 seasons. He was responsible for the hitters, catchers, infielders, and outfielders.

During the same time, he coached at Florida Atlantic, he was the head coach of the Jupiter American Legion Post 271 team. There, he was the District 12 Coach-of-the-Year in both seasons, as he led his team to an 82-15 record. In 1995, he led his team to the third-place finish in the Florida State Legion Tournament. He also coached 18 players who received college scholarships and two players who signed

"We continue to think Kevin is the top pitching coach in the country. He turns out pitchers and improves them on a regular basis. These kids get an extreme amount of care. From 'Sully,' they are going to get individual attention and knowledge based on his experience as a minor league pitching coach and the fact that he's been in this business for awhile. He loves coaching and it is very evident in how he handles the kids, how hard he works, and his knowledge base.

We are extremely glad to have him. He is one of the reasons we are able to attract some of the top pitching prospects in the country here at Clemson."

In 1992 and 1993, he was an assistant at Florida Community College in Jacksonville, where he was the hitting and catching instructor.

In O'Sullivan's brief but up-and-coming career (at Virginia, Clemson, and in the Cape Cod League), he has coached four first-round draft selections, 13 top-five round picks, 17 top-10 round picks, 37 players who have been drafted overall, and two players who are currently playing in the Major Leagues (Greisenger and Pat Daneker). It is no wonder Leggett chose O'Sullivan to maintain Clemson's tradition of producing All-America pitchers.

> O'Sullivan graduated from Virginia with a bachelor of science degree (with honors) in education/sports medicine in 1991. He was a member of Virginia's Captain Council and Student-Athlete Mentor Program. In 1995, he received a masters degree in exercise science and wellness from Florida Atlantic.

at Clemson (2003-present)

Born: April 5, 1968

(1987-90)

Clemson Head Baseball Coach Jack Leggett announced the addition of Tom Riginos to the coaching staff prior to the 2003 seasons. Riginos (pronounced ruh-JEEN-uhs) replaced Tim Corbin, who became head coach at Vanderbilt in June of 2002, as Clemson's hitting and outfieders' coach. Riginos carries the title of assistant head coach in his first season in Tigertown.

Riginos, who will turn 35 when Clemson plays host to Virginia on April 5, coached nine seasons at Stetson as the Hatters' recruiting coordinator from 1994-02, where he also coached the hitters and outfielders, and was responsible for all aspects of the Stetson Junior Varsity team. While at Stetson, he recruited eight classes that gained national recognition. His 2002 class included three all-state performers and three prospects from the Central Florida area Riginos will look to continue the Tigers' recent success of recruiting top talent from the state of Florida, including the unanimous 2002 National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene (Key West). Matt Henrie (Jupiter), a 2002 All-ACC pitcher, and 1999 All-America outfielder Patrick Boyd (Palm Harbor) were also celebrated recruits from Florida. Riginos also recruited six All-Americans and six freshman All-Americans during his tenure with the Hatter program.

As hitting coach at Stetson, Riginos led the 2001 Hatter squad to a .324 batting average and a school-record 78 home runs. That team also was ranked 24th nationally in batting average, 12th in slugging percentage, and 19th in home runs per game.

Riginos coached four All-Americans and four of the top hitters in Stetson history, including shortstop Kevin Nicholson, catcher Sammy Serrano, outfielder Frank Corr, and catcher Chris Westervelt. Under his guidance, all four won conference playerof-the-year honors along with multiple All-America accolades

Nicholson was drafted by San Diego in the first round of the 1997 draft and made his Major League debut with the Padres in June, 2001. Serrano batted a school-record .457 in 1998 and was chosen in the second round that same year by the Giants' organization.

Corr set school and conference records for most career doubles (79), home runs (53), RBIs (258), and total bases (562). He also broke six single-season school records in 2000 when he batted .431 with 34 doubles, 18 home runs, and 98 RBIs. Westervelt had a .403 batting average with 18 homers and was a first-team Academic All-American.

Riginos is no stranger to Clemson and Doug Kingsmore Stadium, as Stetson visited Clemson for a threegame series in 1998, with Clemson coming away with a three-game sweep in the weekend series.

Prior to his nine seasons at Stetson, Riginos spent two seasons as the top assistant coach and as a graduate assistant coach at Eastern Kentucky in Richmond, KY. He helped coach the Colonels to an Ohio Valley Conference second-place finish in 1992 while serving as the team's hitting and outfield coach. Prior to his stint at Eastern Kentucky, Riginos spent one season on the coaching staff at his high school alma mater, Countryside High in Clearwater, FL.

Riginos was a four-year letterman for the Hatters between the 1987 and 1990 seasons, and helped Stetson to three NCAA Regional appearances and three Trans America Athletic Conference championships. He played in 225 games during his career and hit .279, while finishing as one of the top stolen-base leaders in Hatter history with 61. Riginos

Leggett Comments

"Tom is a very valuable addition to our baseball program this year. We chose the right guy after losing an outstanding coach in Tim Corbin. We were looking for somebody who could handle the outfielders, give us some great experience in working with our hitters, and help us in the recruiting area. Tom, being at Stetson for nine years, was the recruiting coordinator. He worked with the outfielders and hitters there. They had some outstanding hitting teams and I've had my eye on him for a long period of time. We are very excited about him working in our program and how he is going to help contribute to this team winning and continue our tradition. We're glad to have him here and we think it's a great mix for the both of us."

The Riginos Family: Tom and wife Shaileen. The couple has twin girls: Alexandra and Grace (2).

The native of Clearwater, FL earned his bachelor of arts degree in sports administration from Stetson in 1990. He later earned a master of science degree in physical education/ sports administration from Eastern Kentucky in 1993, where he had a 3.36 GPA. Riginos is married to the former Shaileen Kelley. The couple has twin girls, Alexandra and Grace, born November 22, 2000. Tom also has a son, Ben (15). Riginos was born April 5, 1968 in Tampa, FL.

Bradley LeCroy enters his first season with the Tiger coaching staff in 2003. LeCroy will serve as the volunteer coach and will work with infielders and hitters.

LeCroy, no relation to former Tiger great and current Minnesota Twin Matthew LeCroy, earned four letters with the Tigers from 1997-00. He was a valuable utility player who hit .266 in 173 games and 395 at-bats. He was the everyday shortstop on the 1999 team that came one inning from making it to the College World Series.

Leggett Comments

"We are extremely excited about having one of our former players be our volunteer coach this year. Bradley has been working at Anderson College the last couple of years and has done an outstanding job helping that program. We are excited he came over to Clemson to be part of our coaching staff. Once he gets some more experience in the coaching field, he is going to be an excellent coach. He has already done a lot tremendous things in the fall to help our team be more successful. He works with the infielders and hitters and throws excellent batting practice. He is willing to put in the extra hours that it takes to be a coach at this level. We are very excited about him being a part of our program and glad to have him back." He was also a member of Clemson's 2000 College World Series team and a member of four NCAA Tournament teams as a Tiger. LeCroy, 25, was an assistant coach at nearby Anderson College during the 2001 and 2002 seasons. In 2001, he coached David Mattox, who was drafted in the 11th round by the New York Mets and was named Minor League Pitcher-of-the-Year in the Mets' organization in 2002. During the 2002 seasons, the Trojans led the Division II ranks in triples.

Both summers of 2001 and 2002, he was the head coach of Williamston American Legion in Williamston, SC. Both teams also played in the state playoffs.

LeCroy earned his bachelor's degree in education from Clemson in May of 2001. LeCroy (pronounced lee-CROY) was a threesport star at Walhalla High School, earning all-state honors in baseball, basketball, and football. He was born February 1, 1978 in Anderson, SC and is single.

16 Consecutive NCAA Tournament Appearances

en

The 2002 Tigers Set Many Team Records

Clemson went 2-2 in the 2002 College World Series and finished tied for third in the tournament, tying for its highest finish in school history. The 1996 team also went 2-2 and finished tied for third. It was only the second time in 10 College World Series appearances that Clemson had won two games. Clemson defeated Nebraska and Georgia Tech before falling to South Carolina twice.

The Tigers also finished third in all three polls, finishing higher than they had ever finished before. The previous highest final ranking came in 1996, when Collegiate Baseball and Sports

Weekly ranked the Tigers fourth in the final polls. The 1991 and 1994 teams also received a final #4 ranking by Baseball America. Clemson was the #1 ranked team by the RPI most of the season and in the final ranking as well.

Clemson's 54 wins tied for thirdmost in school history, surpassed only by the 1991 team (60) and 1994 team (57). The 1987, 1988, and 1995 teams also finished with 54 wins.

Tigers Reached 50–Win Mark for 10th Time

The Tigers won 50 or more games for the 10th times in history and fifth time under Head Coach Jack Leggett. His winningest team was the 1994 team that won 57 contests. That team benefited by a 66-game regular season schedule, as they played nine extra games in Hawaii. Each of Leggett's last three College World Series teams have won at least 50 games and finished in the top 10 of all three polls.

Tigers Win 40 for 17th-Straight Year

ALL CANES

It appears on every baseball sheet produced by the Clemson Media Relations office, but it is still worth noting over and over. That is Clemson's 17straight 40-win seasons. Clemson reached the 40win mark in 2002 with a 9-2 win against Wofford on May 8. Clemson also reached the NCAA Tournament for the 16th consecutive season in 2002.

Clemson Had 19 Top-25 Wins

Clemson had 54 wins in 2002, and 19 of the wins came over top-25 teams. In those 19 were 10  $\,$ over top-10 teams and six over top-five clubs. The 2002 Tiger team tied for the most top-25 wins and top-10 wins in school history.

> Through nine seasons at Clemson, Jack Leggett has 111 wins over teams ranked in the top 25. He picked up his 100th win against top-25 teams at #5 South Carolina on April 24 in Clemson's 4-1 win. Only two times in his nine seasons has he had a losing record against teams in the top 25.

No Road Woes

After five straight seasons with a losing record on opponents' home fields, Clemson had a stellar 13-4 road record in 2002. Jack Leggett's first three seasons at Clemson saw the Tigers win over 73percent of their games on opponents' home fields. In 2002, Clemson had a 13-4 away record, including a 5-3 record against top-25 teams. Clemson was 20-5 in 1994, 16-8 in 1995, and 13-5 in 1996 on opponents' home fields. The Tigers were 5-4 in

The Tigers were 5-4 in neutral-site games in 2002, which included games in the ACC Tournament in Saint Petersburg, FL and the College World Series in Omaha, NE.

Homer Record Fell

Clemson continued to launch the long ball in 2002 after a big 2001 season. In fact, Clemson's 112 homers in 2002 broke the old school record of 111, set in 1991. That helped Clemson to a .533 slugging percentage, second only behind the school record of .571, also set in 1991. Three different Tigers reached the 25-homer mark in 2002, including Khalil Greene (27), Jeff Baker (25), and Michael Johnson (25), combining for 77 as a trio. That mark is the most in a season by a Tiger trio in school history. That total alone would have been tied for seventh most in a season by a Tiger team and each of the three broke the previous school record for homers in a season (24).

Infield Among Nation's Best

It's no secret why Clemson set school records in many team categories. It was due to the veteran infield of junior Jeff Baker (3B), senior Khalil Greene (SS), junior David Slevin (2B), and junior Michael Johnson (1B). But it was difficult for any infield to stack up to Clemson's in terms of defense. Baker (.924), Greene (.961), Slevin (.968), and Johnson (.989) all had very good fielding percentages, which is why Clemson's .971 fielding percentage in 2002 broke the school record of .969 set in 2000.

Clemson Had Top Semester in Classroom

Clemson set many records on the diamond in 2002 and was ranked #1 in the nation in at least one poll for eight-straight weeks. Jack Leggett's team also did the job at a record rate in the classroom.

According to data released by the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program on May 15, 2002, the Tiger baseball team had a 2.82 team GPA for the spring, 2002 semester, and 20 players were named to the Academic Honor Roll (3.0 GPA or better). That was the best figure on record for both areas for one semester. Five of the 20 players were named to the Dean's List as well.

The list of players on the Academic Honor Roll included Jeff Baker and Khalil Greene, two of the top players in the nation. Both were in the top-five for the Golden Spikes Award in 2002. The list of players with at least a 3.0 GPA also included #1 pitcher Steve Reba, starting centerfielder Kyle Frank, starting first baseman Michael Johnson, starting designated hitter Jeff Hourigan, catcher Collin Mahoney and starting rightfielder Jarrod Schmidt.

That is correct, eight of the 10 everyday starters (including Reba as the pitcher) posted a 3.0 or better in the spring semester. It would not be too far fetched to put Russell Triplett in the lineup at second base and Zane Green in left field. If you added Paul Harrelson as the relief pitcher, you would have had a lineup of 11 players that were all student-athlete honor-roll selections.

Below was a possible lineup of student-athlete all-stars and their 2002 spring semester GPAs.

Saves By Committee

Clemson had 26 saves in 2002, the most ever by an ACC team in a single season. No pitcher had Clemson made its 10th trip to the College World Series and fourth in the last eight seasons in 2002. The Tigers' third-place finish tied the 1996 team for the highest finish in school history.

more than eight saves, but nine Tigers registered at least one save: while six had at least two and five had at least three. Paul Harrelson led the team with eight, while Patrick Hogan had four, and Jeff Hourigan, Thomas Boozer, and Jeff Hahn all had three apiece. Therefore every relief pitcher on the postseason roster had at least one save in 2002.

Trio Best Ever in Clemson History

Clemson had one of the most feared lineups in the country in 2002, especially in the heart of the order. Khalil Greene, Jeff Baker, and Michael Johnson, combined for 77 homers and 259 RBIs in the 71 games of 2002. Only four times previously had a single Tiger ever hit 20 or more homers in a season, and each one had more homers in 2002 than any individual Tiger had in a year entering the 2002 season. Also, no pair of Tigers had ever hit at least 20 homers in a season.

Reba, Henrie Provided One-Two Punch

Clemson's top two starters, Steve Reba and Matt Henrie, each won at least 10 games in 2002, becoming the first Tiger pair to do so since 1996. Kris Benson (14), Billy Koch (10), and Ken Vining (10) each won double-digit wins in 1996. Reba was 13-4, while Henrie sported a 13-5 record in 2002.

Leggett Named Region Coach-of-the-Year

Head Coach Jack Leggett was named Atlantic Regional Division I Coach-of-the-Year. He led the Tigers to a third-place finish in the College World Series, tying for their highest finish in school history. His Tigers won 54 games and had multiple All-Americans. Leggett won his 800th game during the 2002 season and his 434 wins in his nine years with at Clemson is third most in the nation over that span.

KG Unanimous National Player-of-the-Year

No other player in 2002 can say what Khalil Greene can say ... "I was the National Player-of-the-Year." Every award given to the nation's best player went to Greene, including the Dick Howser Trophy, Golden Spikes Award, and Rotary Smith Award. Every college baseball publication also lauded him with player-of-the-year honors. Even Kris Benson didn't even win every award, as the 1996 Golden Spikes Award went to Travis Lee. Both Benson and Lee played in the Majors in the 2002 season.

Greene Tops NCAA Career Doubles List

Senior Khalil Greene had 134 hits in 2002 and 403 for his Clemson career. Greene moved into second place on the all-time NCAA hits' list at the ACC Tournament when he went ahead of John Fishel, who played at Cal. State-Fullerton (1982-85).

Greene finished 15 hits shy of Phil Stephenson's (Wichita State, 1979-82) national record (418). Stephenson hit his toal in 288 games, an average of 1.45 hits per game. Greene hit his total in 272 games, an average of 1.48 hits per game.

Greene also had 95 doubles in his Clemson career, breaking the NCAA record of 94, which was held by Wichita State's Mark Standiford (1985-88).

Ironman

Khalil Greene played in every game (272) as a Tiger and started all but one of those games. That one non-start came in the third game of his freshman season against Kansas State, meaning he started 269 games in a row. His 269 consecutive starts is believed to be an NCAA record. That stat is not kept in the NCAA records manual.

The 272 games played ranks atop the Clemson career charts. The previous record was 259, set by Bert Heffernan from 1985-88 until Greene broke it against N.C. State in the ACC Tournament. His ability to avoid injury could be attributed to his dedicated weight-room habits and pre-game stretch routine.

Baker Set Tiger Career Home Run Record

Third-baseman and Golden Spikes Award Finalist Jeff Baker broke Matthew LeCroy's Tiger career home-run record with his 54th at Western Carolina on May 15, 2002. Baker's 59 career home runs came in just three seasons in the Tiger program. LeCroy set the record in just three seasons (1995-97) as well. Baker's 59 is the fourth-most in ACC history as well.

Johnson Packed Punch in Postseason

Michael Johnson was 12-for-20 (.600) with three doubles, a triple, and two homers along with nine RBIs in five ACC Tournament games in 2002.

He was 4-for-10 with a homer and five RBIs in the Clemson Regional and 5-for-14 with two homers in the Clemson Super Regional. He was also 5for-14 (.357) in the College World Series, meaning he was 26-for-58 (.448) with seven homers and 21 RBIs in 15 postseason games.

Reba Won 12 Games for Second Time

Steve Reba became only the fourth Tiger in history to win double-digit games in two different seasons. Reba was 12-3 in 2001 and 13-4 in 2002. He joined Brian Barnes, who won 14 games in 1988 and 16 games in 1989; Andy Taulbee, who won 10 games in 1993 and 12 games in 1994; and Ryan Mottl, who won 10 games in 1997 and 10 games in 2000. Reba and Barnes are the only two Tigers to ever win at least 12 games in two seasons.

On many individual and team fronts, the 2002 campaign was one of the most successful in the history of Clemson baseball. The usual benchmarks were reached, a 17th-consecutive 40-win season and a 16th-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance, but the 2002 squad went where few Tiger teams have gone before.

After falling just short of the College World Series in 2001, the Tigers returned with a vengeance in 2002 and made their fourth trip in nine years under Head Coach Jack Leggett. The team won 50 games for the 10th time in school history and the 54 wins tied for the third-most in a single season. Clemson was ranked #1 in the nation for two months during the season and finished third in every poll, the highest ever finish for the baseball program.

A high-octane offense was the catalyst for the explosive season, as Clemson set a single-season record with 112 home runs. The unit was led by unanimous National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene, who replaced Kris Benson as the school's most decorated collegiate baseball player while rewriting season and career record books. Greene's accomplishments are too numerous to list here, but the shortstop returned for his senior season to set Clemson single-season records for home runs, RBIs, and doubles, just to name a few.

Greene was joined by juniors Michael Johnson and Jeff Baker to form the most formidable trio in school history. All three shattered the previous single-season home run record of 24, with Johnson and Baker each belting 25 home runs and Greene hitting 27. The group combined for 77 home runs and 259 RBIs, the most (by far) of any threeman team in Tiger history. Baker was named a First-Team All-American by Baseball America and NCBWA, while Johnson was a second-team All-American according to ABCA.

A successful team is comprised of more than just a good offense, and the 2002 Tigers were no exception. The squad set a Clemson record with 826 assists and a fielding percentage of .971. Centerfielder Kyle Frank led the charge with an error-free season in 135 chances. Steve Reba and Matt Henrie each won 13 games to lead the pitching staff, the first Tiger duo to record double-digit victories in a single season since 1996. The staff also relied on a strong bullpen that set an ACC record with 26 saves. Paul Harrelson led the way with eight saves, although four other hurlers had at least three saves.

The Tigers began the season strong with a home-opening sweep over #25 Auburn. The key win was Sunday's 6-5 victory in which Baker keyed a four-run eighth-inning rally with a three-run double and Harrelson got out of a no-out, bases-loaded jam to preserve the victory. Baker led the offense with a 5-for-10 performance against Auburn and was named the ACC Co-Player-of-the-Week.

Leggett, who was named Region Coach-ofthe-Year, then took his team on the road for earlyseason tests at the College of Charleston and #4 South Carolina. Jarrod Schmidt drove in six runs and Steven Jackson struck out 11 batters, the highest total for any Tiger hurler in 2002, to garner a 14-6 victory. In Columbia, the Tigers and Gamecocks scrapped for the first of many meetings in 2002, as Clemson came away with a 9-7 victory. Johnson and Greene each homered while Harrelson went 3.1 strong innings of relief to close the game. The teams squared off a day later in Clemson in a thrilling contest. South Carolina erased a 5-1 deficit in the fifth inning and came back to tie the score with two runs in the ninth. In the 10th inning, Greene slapped a base hit to left that brought Kyle Frank racing home to the plate. The co-captain just slid under the tag as Clemson triumphed 11-10.

The Tigers took out College of Charleston 12-1 at home behind the hot bat of Johnson, who was named ACC Player-of-the-Week for his performance against South Carolina. The iunior, who homered in the two previous games against the Gamecocks, went deep twice against the Cougars.

The pace continued in a weekend series against Purdue. Reba, a native of Indiana, threw Clemson's only complete game in 2002 in a 5-3 victory in game one. Johnson homered for the fourth-straight game in that first #1 ranking since 2000. Baseball America would join suit a week later and elevate the Tigers to #1, marking just the fourth time in school history Clemson was ranked #1 by all three polls at the same time. The Tigers would hold the unanimous top ranking for seven weeks, a school record. The team proved it was worthy of the praise in its first game as the nation's top team. Clemson scored 12 runs in the fifth inning, the most ever in the fifth in school history, in a 19-1 victory over Coastal Carolina, and then notched a 6-2 victory over the Chanticleers a day later.

The Tigers opened conference play with a three-game sweep of Maryland, winning the games by a combined score of 36-15. After a 7-1 win over East Tennessee State, the Tigers were tested by Winthrop. The Eagles stayed close and tied the score at 4-4 in the eighth. But Baker, who had already homered twice in the contest, would not let his team lose. He launched a walk-off, two-run homer to give Clemson a 6-4 win. It was the first three-homer performance by a Tiger since Shane Monahan in 1993 and the walk-off hit was just a precursor to another game-winner for Baker in 2002.

The Tigers jumped back into conference play and took a 6-4 win over N.C. State despite only six hits. The semi-slump would hurt the Tigers a day later, as Wolfpack lefty Mike Prochaska tossed a complete-game shutout to give his team a 3-0 win. The Tigers took the series with a 10-2 win before heading down to Georgia to take on the Bulldogs.

After surrendering four first-inning runs, Clemson battled back, but lost 6-5 on a double in the bottom of the ninth. The teams faced off a day later at Doug Kingsmore Stadium and freshman catcher Collin Mahoney was the hero in a 6-5 win. Clemson once again fell behind 4-0 but took its first lead of the game in the eight when Mahoney blasted a two-run, opposite-field homer.

The Tigers then faced its sternest challenge yet, a three-game set at #13 North Carolina, in an important early battle for positioning in the ACC race. Friday's opener saw a close contest that went into extra-innings when David Slevin knocked in the first of four runs in the 10th inning as Clemson took an 11-7 win. Henrie allowed just two runs in 8.1 innings and Jeff Hourigan induced a game-ending double play with the bases loaded to lead Clemson in a 4-2 victory. North Carolina managed a 12-5 victory in game three, but the Tigers left with their #1 ranking and conference title hopes intact.

Homers by Baker, Greene, and two by Johnson triggered a 13-9 victory over Western Khalil Greene set the NCAA record for career doubles (95) at the College World Series. The 1 3th overall pick of the 2002 Major League Draft also finished second in NCAA history in career hits (403). Carolina a day before the third matchup against South Carolina. The Gamecocks scored a run in each of the first five innings and notched its first win in the season series, an 8-6 decision.

Clemson then swept Duke on the road behind solid pitching. The Tigers won by scores of 5-3, 4-1, and 2-1 before returning home and exploding for 10 runs in the eighth in an 18-7 win over Furman.

Clemson then avenged its loss to #5 South Carolina a week before with a 4-1 victory in Columbia. Henrie allowed just one run in 7.0 innings and Columbia native Patrick Hogan earned the save.

Third-ranked Wake Forest then came to town for another ACC showdown and took the opener 4-2. A 5-3 Tiger win on Saturday set up a pivotal game three that saw freshman Tyler Lumsden make his first start. The lefthander shined, allowing no runs on four hits while striking out seven over 7.1 innings. He combined with Henrie for a 4-0 shutout victory. The Tigers took a week off for exams before traveling to Georgia Tech. The Tigers trailed 5-0 before reeling off 12 unanswered runs to down the #9 Yellow Jackets 12-9, but Georgia Tech won game two 15-6 and used 8.0 innings from Chris Goodman to blank the Tigers 11-0 and hand Clemson its first series loss of the season.

After a 9-2 win over Wofford, the Tigers were surprised by Elon 8-6 in a game that was delayed by rainy conditions and did not end until midnight. The weary squad then traveled to Virginia needing a strong outing, and that was exactly what it got.

After a 15-4 victory in game one, Clemson dominated the Cavaliers 15-2 behind Schmidt's 5for-5, two-homer performance. Lumsden, a Roanoke, VA native, made his second career start in game three and led Clemson to a 5-3 win. The game saw Leggett notch his 800th career victory, Baker tie the Clemson career home run record, and Greene, who broke the ACC career hits record a day earlier, tie the ACC career doubles record.

The trio of Baker, Greene, and Johnson each homered at Western Carolina for the second time in 2002 in a 12-4 win. The tuneup set the stage for a showdown with #2 Florida State, with the winner taking the ACC regular-season title. Instead of a classic series, the Tigers were handed their biggest setback of the year. The Seminoles dominated the weekend in winning 9-3, 12-3, and 9-3 to take the ACC title and drop Clemson to a #4 seed for the ACC Tournament.

With his team at its lowest point, Leggett rallied his troops for the ACC Tournament in Saint Petersburg, FL. First up was Georgia Tech and

Goodman, who stymied the Tigers in Atlanta. But the Tiger bats would not be denied in the opener and hurler Reba came up big as Clemson dropped the Yellow Jackets 10-0.

Florida State came next and the Seminoles once again proved to be too much by overcoming a four-run deficit in a 9-4 win. The Tigers bounced back to eliminate N.C. State 5-3 behind another strong outing from Lumsden and played its way into the ACC title game with an 8-6 win over Wake Forest that saw Hourigan notch his first career win.

The title game once again matched the Tigers and Seminoles. Hogan made his first start of the year and pitched well, allowing only two earned runs over 6.0 innings. But Florida State's Marc LaMacchia pitched 8.0 innings of one-run ball to lead the Seminoles to the conference crown.

Greene, Johnson, and Reba were named to the All-ACC Tournament team as a part of Clemson's successful trip to Florida. The selections came after the announcement of the All-ACC team, which included first-team selections Greene, who was also named the ACC Player-of-the-Year, Johnson, and Reba and second-team selections Baker, Henrie, and Russell Triplett. Despite falling short again versus the Seminoles, the Tigers had reestablished their confidence as they headed into the NCAA Tournament as the nation's #2 seed.

Clemson once again played host to a regional as the top seed and opened against #4 seed Georgia Southern, a team it dominated in two regularseason meetings. The Tigers picked up where they left off and set a school NCAA Tournament record with six home runs in a 15-1 win.

Henrie did not allow an earned run as Clemson got past #2-seed East Carolina 4-2 and into the regional championship game. The Tigers and Pirates squared off again, but the rematch was no contest. Zane Green homered on the game's first pitch and put Clemson on the way to a 21-1 victory. Clemson scored 12 runs in the sixth inning, the most runs in a single NCAA Tournament inning by a Tiger team. Greene garnered MVP honors and was joined by Green, Reba, Henrie, Baker, Schmidt, and Frank on the Clemson Regional All-Tournament Team.

All that stood between Clemson and Omaha was a feisty Arkansas team that advanced out of the Wichita (KS) Regional as a #3 seed. The Razorbacks jumped out to a 7-0 lead in game one before a furious Clemson rally capped by Baker's tworun homer brought the Tigers to within 7-6. Arkansas, however, held on for a 9-6 win.

With their backs against the wall, the Tigers fought tooth and nail to stave off elimination and take an 8-7 win. Henrie allowed three earned runs in 7.0 innings pitched and helped the Tigers to an 8-5 lead before Arkansas scored two runs in the ninth. After Arkansas put a runner on with one out, Leggett called on reliever B.J. LaMura, who struck out the only two batters he faced to end the game and keep Clemson's season alive.

Game three proved to be another nail-biter, as the teams entered the eighth inning tied 4-4. Johnson broke the tie with a solo shot in the eighth, Green homered in the ninth, and then Greene homered in his last at-bat at Doug Kingsmore Stadium as Clemson advanced to Omaha with a 7-4 win. LaMura was once again the hero on the mound, this time earning the win after striking out six and allowing one hit in 4.1 innings.

The Tigers made their 10th trip to the College Word Series and faced a stiff opening test in hometown Nebraska, which was making its second straight appearance. Clemson dug itself an early 7-2 hole and battled all night to dig out of it. Green continued his torrid postseason and cut the deficit to one in the sixth inning with a three-run homer. The Tigers took their first lead of the game in the seventh when Greene came to bat.

Nebraska brought in a new pitcher to face college baseball's best player, but Greene sent the first pitch he saw towering over the left-field fence for a three-run homer. The Cornhuskers later tied the score, but Clemson threatened in the bottom of the ninth. Green was intentionally walked to bring up Baker, who came through with his second walk-off, game-winning hit of the season that plated Slevin and gave Clemson an 11-10 victory.

The win set up a fifth meeting with Georgia Tech, and once again the Tigers had the right stuff against the Yellow Jackets. Johnson and Roberto Valiente each notched two hits in a second inning that saw the Tigers score eight runs. Georgia Tech slowly climbed back into the game and closed to within 8-6 before a solo homer by Johnson. The Yellow Jackets put one runner on with one out in the ninth when Eric Patterson ripped a line-drive > headed for the left-center field gap. But Greene, who saw his 34-game hit streak snapped in the game, made a leaping catch that saved a sure double. Henrie then made a stab of a grounder heading for centerfield to pick up the save, as Clemson was off to its first ever 2-0 start in Omaha. The Tigers were stopped just short of the national championship game by a red-hot Gamecock club. Despite dropping three of four to the Tigers in the regular season and losing its opener in Omaha, South Carolina caught fire and downed Clemson 12-4 and 10-2 to end the Tigers' year.

Despite falling just short of a national championship, Clemson finished tied for third in the country, which tied for the best finish in school history. Greene won every national player-of-the-year award in 2002 as well, as he became the all-time NCAA leader in doubles with 95. He also finished his fouryear Tiger career with 403 hits, second all-time in NCAA history. He was taken with the 13th pick in the Major League draft and was one of eight Tigers drafted. Baker, Johnson, Henrie, and Reba also garnered All-America honors.

Khalil Greene

Six-for-six. No, not one of his amazing performances on the field. That was what Khalil Greene went in terms of earning national recognition in the form of national player-of-the-year in 2002 by the six services that give the award. Greene's incredible season permanently cemented him as the most decorated player in Clemson baseball history.

Greene, whose first name means "gift from God," was born near Pittsburgh, PA. Despite moving to Key West, FL at a young age, he remained a devout Pirate fan and admired then Pirate Barry Bonds.

The soft-spoken, blondehair ballplayer, who grew up on the beaches of the Florida Keys, arrived at Clemson in 1998 and soon after began his quest to become the finest collegiate baseball player in the country by career's end.

Head Coach Jack Leggett knew he had a special player, even though Greene was not drafted after his high school career.

In 1999, the then freshman was the everyday starter at third base and hit .358 with eight home runs and 69 RBIs.

Greene continued his torrid hitting as a sophomore when he batted .364 and helped lead Clemson to its first College World Series appearance since the 1996 season.

Then he made the move to shortstop during his junior season, a move that helped the team on defense.

But after that season, when he hit .303 with 12 homers and 52 RBIs, he was drafted lower than expected and decided to return for his senior season, a decision that literally earned him millions.

Greene's 2002 campaign was one for the recordbooks. He led the nation in hits (134), doubles (33), total bases (250), and runs scored (93). His incredible .470 batting average, 27 home runs, 91 RBIs, and 17 stolen bases coupled with a .961 fielding percentage (an outstanding mark for a shortstop) helped him to be named national player-of-the-year by every service.

After four years of playing in all 272 games as a Tiger, which included an NCAA record 269 consecutive starts, he set the NCAA record for doubles (95) and finished second in NCAA history in hits (403). The doubles record stood for 14 years before Greene surpassed Phil Standiford's (Wichita State) mark of 94.

Despite these unprecedented accomplishments, you will never hear boastful remarks from Greene, who led the Tigers to a third-place national finish at the 2002 College World Series. In fact, he stressed his pride in his defense, which included many "highlight-ree!" plays at shortstop his final two seasons.

"Khalil always took a great deal of pride in his defense, even more so than his offensive skills," stated Leggett. "He was certainly one of the best players I've ever coached, in all facets of the game." The culmination of the 2002 season resulted in Greene, who was a ACC 50-Year Anniversary team selection, being selected in the first round of the Major League Draft, the 13th overall pick by the San Diego Padres. And it was all because of his desire and hard work in returning for his senior season, a lesson that Leggett has not lost

"Khalil showed the two main ingredients in returning for his senior season, patience and confidence," said Leggett. "He proved that those two qualities mean a great deal if you believe in your abilities. Sure enough, he proved that coming back for your senior year is not a negative, but rather a positive."

He hit a schoolrecord 27 homers in 2002, but his last two long balls were his most memorable. In his last at-bat in front of Clemson fans at Doug Kingsmore Stadium, he hit a dramatic and fitting home run against Arkansas that clinched Clemson's berth in the College World Series. Then against hometown favorite Nebraska in the College World Series, he hit a towering three-run home run with two outs in the seventh inning to give the Tigers a 10-8 lead. Clemson went on to win 11-10 in the game that saw the senior total three hits and five RBIs.

"He had, from start to finish, the best college baseball season I have ever seen in my 25 years of collegiate coaching," exclaimed Leggett. "Not only did he contribute to the team defensively and offensively, but his leadership and how he played the game was something that the team played off all year long."

"His contributions go far deeper than statistics and his abilities on the field. He was voted "most dedicated" in the weight room by his teammates,

Baseball America on Greene

"A mature, confident player. He plays the game with ease and goes hard every day, with no highs or lows. He has a real big league approach and is polished with the bat. He waits for his pitch and rarely misses, and can drive it to the gap either way. He'll hit a lot of doubles, but he also has plus power to the pull side and uses leverage well. He has good bat speed and the looseness is apparent in his swing. This guy loves to hit with men on base – you want him up with the game on the line. Plus, he gets out of the box quick, is a consistent 4.3 to first from the right side, and uses his instincts well on the basepaths."

"Defensively, I know people have always questioned him as a shortstop. But he has enough arm for the shortstop hole, and he will surprise you with his range. He makes the routine play easy with soft hands and solid actions, and his instincts help give him a good first step. He moves well laterally and makes body control plays with ease."

"You've really got to see him on an everyday basis to truly appreciate his athleticism - it will surprise you. Coaches love his work ethic and his leadership on and off the field. He's just a very focused and driven player. Think of all he went through this year, what a long season it was for him mentally and physically, and he finished very strong for (Class A) Lake Elsinore. His first season went very well."

Sept. 30 - Oct. 13, 2002 issue of Baseball America and he proved that good work habits off the field can make a difference in how you perform on the field. We would not have made it to the College World Series without Khalil Greene. He was a tremendous player in clutch situations all year long and throughout his career. Khalil was certainly as good a player as I've ever coached."

During his remarkable senior season, he maintained Honor Roll status. He is only a semester away from earning his degree in sociology and plans to return to Clemson in the near future to finish his course work.

All this for a person who made it difficult for some to get a word out of him when he first stepped on campus in 1998. By career's end, he had given so many award acceptance speeches, one might mistake him for someone who actually enjoys the limelight.

So as Greene ventures off into a future of Major League baseball, it is only fitting that we remember #14 as, not only a great player on the field, but a great person off the field. What a great example for any baseball player with dreams of playing college baseball and making it to the "show."

Clemson University

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955 Clemson became a civilian coeducational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state Legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1,400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U. S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman Hall, with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson, and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

The Clemson Facilities

- Opened in January of 2000, the Hendrix Student Center is a 108,000 square foot facility in the heart of Clemson's campus that contains a convenience store, food court, movie theater, hair salon, coffee shop, copy shop, and telecommunications center. The center has 15,000 square feet of meeting rooms and a 2,600 square-foot student lounge. The student center also is the home of the Office of Career Services and Placement, the Multicultural Affairs Department, the Student Bookstore, the student media, and the University Union.
- The main University library, Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, is situated in the center of campus. The library has become one of the national leaders in automated information retrieval. Its bibliographic records are accessible from anywhere in the world electronically, easing the task of finding information in its collections, which total more than 1.7 million items. Numerous periodical indexes are housed on-line and available for automated searching. The collections are particularly strong in agriculture, natural and physical sciences, economics and technology. Of special interest are the James F. Byrnes and Edgar A. Brown Rooms, which have the collections of papers of these statesmen.

- A cornerstone of the University is its computer facilities. Clemson's computer center, which supports student course work and research in all disciplines, is also used by government and industry. The center provides general computing services on a network. Remote sites housing more than 1,600 terminals and 600 microcomputers are conveniently located in many different areas of campus. International and national telephone modem access is also available.
- All students are assigned a user identification code when they enroll, which allows them to use the various mainframe applications such as electronic mail, job placement service, library card catalog

and information databases, and housing and course registration.

- The $12.5 million Robert Howell Brooks Center for the Performing Arts opened in 1996. The facility brings an exciting array of fine arts productions to the University, while working to make the arts accessible to a new and larger audience.

Clemson, SC

The signs on the side of the highway as you enter Clemson say "Clemson: In Season Every Season." From the point of view of most Clemson graduates, the seasons this slogan speaks of are football, basketball, baseball, etc. But a drive through town in the middle of spring, when the azaleas and dogwoods are in full bloom, or a walk through campus in October, when the trees are blazing in the brilliant colors of autumn, will leave little doubt that Clemson is indeed in season, every season.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson is located in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, two hours northeast of Atlanta, GA and two hours southwest of Charlotte, NC. The town may not be one of the state's largest most days, but on many autumn Saturdays, it becomes one of the largest cities, as over 81,000 fans come from all directions to watch the Tigers play football; but the friendly residents of Clemson and the surrounding towns welcome the visitors home each year with a true dose of southern hospitality.

Clemson is steeped in history. The University campus is located on what was Fort Hill Plantation, home of John C. Calhoun, one of the great statesmen of the 19th century, and his sonin-law, Thomas Green Clemson. The house, which was built in 1806, stands in the center of campus and is open to the public. Also on the Clemson campus is a 1716 low-country French Huguenot home (Hanover House), which was transported to Clemson in 1941. Just a mile or so down the road, is the Pendleton Historic District, where several other antebellum homes are open to the public. The entire village of Pendleton is on the National Register of Historic Places.

The area boasts a great variety of restaurants, ranging from the downtown barbecue and hamburger spots, to the historic Liberty Hall Inn and Calhoun Corners. Any palate or budget can find something to his or her liking, as more than 50 eating establishments are located in the Clemson/Pendleton/Central area. The area adopts "Clemson Fever," as Tiger Paws are omnipresent on local billboards and entrances.

The mild climate of the foothills lends itself to many outdoor activities throughout the year. Clemson has excellent and ample facilities for tennis, golf, fishing, swimming, hiking, whitewater rafting, and various other pursuits.

And when one wants to leave Clemson, they do not have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Professional sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte. Clemson was the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers for eight regular-season and two exhibition games in 1995.

For sun and fun, its an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away.

Vickery Hall

Since its inception in 1991, the five-faceted Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has provided its student-athletes a continued commitment to excellence. Our approach is to address the total student-athlete, and we are committed to coaching our student-athletes to success (C.A.T.S.) not only in the athletic arena but in the academic, personal growth, career, and service arenas as well. As an original member of the NCAA Life Skills/CHAMPS Program, we provide opportunities and services to address the changing needs and skills of studentathletes in the years during college and after graduation.

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the University's athletic department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first facility in the country built solely for the all-around academic support of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long-term goals, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on five primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Academic Commitment

The academic commitment aspect of Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

Clemson student-athletes posted an overall GPA of 2.85, the highest on record, for the spring semester of 2002. A record 37 student-athletes earned selection to the President's List with a perfect 4.0 for the semester, while 104 made the Dean's List, just one off the all-time semester record.

Two-hundred-and-twenty-one Clemson student-athletes earned at least a 3.0 or better for the semester, meaning nearly 50 percent of all Clemson student-athletes were on the academic honor roll. Seven of the 15 programs had a semester GPA of at least 3.0.

The Clemson baseball team had a 2.82 team GPA for the spring semester of 2002, the best ever semester for the baseball team. One player who excelled in the classroom was Khalil Greene, the unanimous 2002 National Player-of-the-Year. He had had a 3.30 GPA in sociology the same semester he was setting NCAA records on the diamond. He was one of 20 Tigers to have a 3.0 GPA or better in that semester.

The Academic Counselors, led by Head Baseball Counselor Wayne Coffman, perform a variety of duties to track the student-athletes' academic progress. These duties include providing assistance in registration and scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program. Of 450 tutoring programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program was one of the first three student-athlete programs in the country to be granted all three levels of certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. The program was also honored with the CHAMPS Life Skills Excellence Award in 1999, one of only six schools across the nation so honored.

Having tutor certification allows student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

Many postgraduate scholarships and internships are also available to student-athletes continuing their education through postgraduate studies. Our student-athletes are provided timely information regarding these opportunities and the resources necessary to assist in the application process for either scholarships or internships.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide Clemson student-athletes with one of the largest computer labs in the nation. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Dick Hendley Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and a limited time on the weekend. Vickery Hall is now a "wireless facility," which allows students in the building with laptop computers to access the campus mainframe without physically plugging into the system.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering, and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is committed to providing state-ofthe-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased bringing the lab to a state of the art facility. More than 50 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet, allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

Athletic Commitment

Nine Clemson athletic teams posted top-25 finishes in 2001-02, contributing to Clemson's #27 finish in the Sears Director's Cup. Clemson set a school record for points scored in that national ranking and the finish was its best in four years. Clemson had 29 All-Americans, its third-highest total ever.

teams all finished in the top four in the nation. It marked the first time in school history that three different sports finished in the "Final Four" in the same spring. Clemson was the only school in the nation to finish in the top four in all three of those men's spring sports. The women's track & field and rowing teams also finished in the top 25 in the spring.

Clemson boasted some of its greatest athletes in history in 2001-02. Clemson became the second school in history to have the National Player-of-the-Year in golf and baseball in the same academic year. D.J. Trahan won the Jack Nicklaus Award as the top player in college golf, while baseball shortstop Khalil Greene was national Player-of-the-Year according to the American Baseball Coaches Association, Collegiate Baseball, Baseball America, and many other services. Women's track & field All-American Jamine Moton won the NCAA Outdoor championship in the hammer throw.

Career Development Commitment

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the Vickery Hall staff. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with jobsearching skills and strategies, internships, practical experience, and summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career op-

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resume writing and interview techniques.

The SAEP career assistance program has a full-time counselor housed in Vickery Hall. Unique to our program, the career counselor is a member of the Michelin Career Center staff as well as the Student-Athlete Enrichment staff. This link between athletics and the Michelin Career Center provides student-athletes the most up-to-date information and resources in career development and preparation for entrance into the job market upon graduation.

Personal Growth and Development Program.

One of the key components of this program is the first-semester freshman transition class designed to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. All first-semester freshmen attend a semester-long series of workshops targeting the transitional issues of time management, organizational strategies, health and wellness issues, athletic issues, diversity issues, career orientation, and service training. Throughout the academic year, all student-athletes are required to attend four large-group programs, which focus on social, health, and athletic issues.

Service Commitment

Providing community and outreach service to student-athletes and the surrounding community by engaging the student-athletes in hands-on interactive programs is an important aspect of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. The staff of SAEP coordinates various activities each year to engage student-athletes in community outreach projects along with academic programs.

Another aspect of the service commitment is that of community service. The purpose of community service is to allow the student-athletes to become involved with the happenings of the community while giving back at the same time. Each year every team is required to perform at least two community outreach projects. Recently implemented was a new community service program entitled Success Away From the Game. The purpose of this program is to combine athletes of different sports in community outreach programs. By doing this, each outreach program participates, thus creating a diverse group of athletes with new and different ideas. At the end of each year, six student-athletes who have demonstrated outstanding commitment and contributions to the community are recognized as the Top Six by the ACC.

LifeLine, another aspect of community service, consists of chosen football players who work together in specific community outreach projects. LifeLine has many members along with a president, vice president and secretary. Once a month, these young men meet to discuss future projects. To date, they have sponsored Hi-Five Day, planted a garden at Helping Hands Children Shelter, and held reading programs at elementary schools. These young men have vital roles in both the community and the athletic arena.

To assist our student-athletes in becoming effective service leaders and communicators, we provide service and speaking training, which anticipates the demands placed on a student-athlete when he or she might be speaking with a group of young people or with members of the media.

President James F. Barker

Clemson University's 14th President, James F. Barker, is first and foremost an architect. So it comes as no surprise that he came to the office with a clear blueprint of Clemson's future in mind - a future built around such ideas as collaboration, community, and quality.

A 1970 Clemson graduate, the former dean of the university's College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities was named president in October 1999, having outlined for the Board of Trustees a vision of making Clemson one of the top-20 public universities in the country. From that vision came the development of a set of 10-year goals adopted in 2001 - goals that are already showing results, including:

- a near 100 percent increase in research support over three years, earning Clemson top-100 national ranking in university research;
- a capital campaign that raised $295 million;
- · the enrollment of Clemson's brightest class ever, with an average SAT over 1,200;
- recognition in 2001 as Time Magazine's Public College-of-the-Year for its innovative communication across the curriculum program.

Building a Future for Clemson

Barker earned his bachelor of architecture degree from Clemson University and his master of architecture and urban design degree from Washington University in Saint Louis, MO. Before returning to Clemson in 1986 to serve as dean of the College of Architecture, he was dean of the School of Architecture at Mississippi State University. In 1995, he became dean of the new College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities, which was created after a comprehensive reorganization and has received national attention as a new model in education.

He is a recipient of the National Distinguished Professor Award of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and served as president of that association. Barker was named Fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He also has been a partner in an architectural practice.

He has been awarded honorary doctoral degrees from S.C. State University and Mars Hill College, and has served on the Truman Scholars selection committee. He currently serves on the Commission of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the region's accrediting agency.

At Clemson, Barker co-founded the South Carolina Design Arts Partnership to support community design outreach projects, initiated the Charleston Architecture Center, established the > university's "Arts in April" program, and developed a Mayors' Institute to help city leaders learn how to manage issues related to growth and development.

> Despite his responsibilities as president, Barker remains committed to the classroom. Each spring, he is part of a team that teaches an undergraduate course exploring "a sense of place" in architecture, literature, and history.

> Success in athletics is important to Barker. The former pole vaulter at Clemson is omnipresent at Tiger athletic events and follows all of the school's programs closely. He recently directly chaired the three-person committee that hired new athletic director Terry Don Phillips.

a senior at Daniel High School in Clemson, and Jacob, 28, who works for an advertising agency in Greenville, SC. Jacob received his undergraduate degree from North Carolina, where he was also a member of the baseball team. He earned his master's degree from Clemson in 2002 and worked in the sports information office while he was pursuing that degree.

President Barker threw out the "first pitch" at a Clemson home baseball game just days after being named Clemson University's 14th president in February, 2000.

Terry Don Philips is the newest addition to the Clemson athletic family, but he is no stranger to the world of college athletics. The long-time administrator and teacher is charged with the duty of leading Clemson into the new millennium. He will undoubtedly call on his vast experience in all areas of athletic administration to address the challenges set forth in the University's vision statement to become a top-20 public university. He began his tenure as Clemson's 10th athletic director on July 1, 2002.

The three-person committee charged with finding a replacement for retiring 17-year Athletic Director Bobby Robinson found a perfect match for Clemson University in Phillips. His resumé is one of the most impressive, well-rounded personal documents in college athletics.

Academically, Phillips has an undergraduate degree from Arkansas (1970), a master's degree from Virginia Tech (1974), a doctorate from Virginia Tech (1978), and a law degree from the Arkansas School of Law (1996). He is a member of the Arkansas Bar and the American Bar Association. Phillips has also served in an adjunct faculty role at his previous stops and plans to continue to teach a course in legal studies at Clemson.

From an experience standpoint, Phillips has worked in just about all phases of college athletics.

He served as an assistant football coach at Virginia Tech, supervised spring sports and student-athlete enrichment at Florida, handled athletic fundraising and facility enhancement at Missouri and Arkansas, and has 15 years experience as an athletic director, including 13 at the Division I level.

When it comes to success on the field and in the classroom, Phillips' programs have been among the nation's best. The achievements of the Oklahoma State program during his tenure (1994-02) included two national titles in men's golf, a men's basketball Final Four, two trips to the College World Series, 13 Big 12 titles, and 11 individual national champions. It also had 53 academic All-Americans.

A New Era Begins

Phillips knows the importance of rivalries and Oklahoma State notched four football wins over archnemesis Oklahoma in his tenure in Stillwater, including a 16-13 victory in 2001 against the defending national champion and #4 Sooners. Before his arrival in 1995, the Cowboys had just three wins over Oklahoma in the previous 48 years. The Cowboys also won the first-ever Bedlam Championship in 2001, the all-sports competition between the two.

From a facilities enhancement standpoint, Phillips has significant experience, an important aspect to his new job at Clemson, where facilities improvements and corresponding fund-raising challenges command his attention immediately.

In Stillwater, the program compiled a long list of successful facilities projects, including the completion of nearly $65 million in new construction.

Gallagher-Iba Arena, the Cowboys' basketball arena, was expanded from 6,000 to 13,611 seats, and 14 suites were added. It was named the best college venue in the nation by CBS Sportsline. An equestrian center, softball stadium, women's soccer complex, golf training facility, and indoor baseball/softball facility were also a part of a broad range of facility improvements.

Phillips also supervised the planning of a $50 million renovation to Oklahoma State's football stadium that will add 2,300 club seats, 10 suites, and rebuilt concession, restrooms, press, and concourse areas. Additionally, Phillips and his staff raised approximately $20 million for capital projects, the most in the school's history, a $9 million budget growth to nearly $23 million, and a $1 million deficit reduction while expanding programs to conform with Title IX.

The Longview, TX native also knows how to attract and lead members of his community. He iniated the Orange Peel Rally, a student-produced spirit rally before the first Oklahoma State home football game that averaged approximately 20,000 in attendance. His blueprint for the event was Clemson's Tigerama, which had impressed him in 1978 when he made his first trip to Clemson with the Virginia Tech football team. The athletic program also started the Best of America Rally that introduced grade-school age youngsters to Oklahoma State University.

Phillips is the Chair of the NCAA Division I Infractions Appeals Committee, which serves the appellate role for all University and individual appeals arising from the Committee on Infractions. He also serves on the Olympic Sports Liaison Committee. He served the Big 12 Conference on the Board of Athletic Directors, Bowl Subcommittee, and Post-Graduate Scholarship and Television Committees.

Before leading Oklahoma State, Phillips served as senior associate athletic director at Arkansas from 1988-94. He ran the daily operations and had oversight of facility projects for the men's programs, and was president of the Razorback Foundation.

Phillips was also athletic director of the University of Southwestern Louisiana from 1983-88 and Liberty College from 1980-81. He was an assistant athletic director at Missouri from 1981-83 where he supervised athletic fund-raising. George Bennett, current Clemson Executive Director of IPTAY and a leader in that field, met with Phillips when he first accepted that position. Phillips began his administrative career in 1978 as an assistant athletic director at Florida, where he worked with Spring sports and student-athlete enrichment.

Phillips also has considerable experience in coaching. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Arkansas from 1970-71. He then moved on to Virginia Tech as an assistant coach from 1971-78 before joining the ranks of athletic administration. During his coaching career there, he served with former Clemson Head Coaches Charley Pell and Danny Ford, and worked directly under former Tiger defensive coordinator Tom Harper.

Winning has been in Phillips's resume since his playing days. At Arkansas, Phillips lettered on Frank Broyles teams of 1966, 1968, and 1969. The Razorbacks were a combined 27-5 in those three seasons and played in two Sugar Bowl games. Phillips played for the Razorbacks in the famous 1969 Arkansas-Texas game that decided the National Championship. One of the assistant coaches on the 1968 and 1969 Arkansas teams was former Clemson Head Coach Hootie Ingram.

Phillips has two children, John Dennis (25) and Sarah Jane (21). He has three step-children, Meagan (13), Marshall (12), and Madison (10). He is married to Tricia Phillips.

Terry Don Phillips and wife Tricia attended the 2002 NCAA Baseball Tourney with President Barker and his wife Marcia.

NCAA Compliance

This brief NCAA rules education is aimed at outlining basic recruiting rules to help potential student-athletes and parents better understand the process. Clemson University is committed to recruiting and conducting our athletic program with the highest level of integrity. If you have questions about NCCA rules, please contact compliance services at (864) 656-1580 or through our website at www.clemsontigers.com and click on "compliance." You can also visit the NCAA online at www.ncaa.com.

Important NCAA Terms

Academic Credentials - Check with your guidance office to see if you are taking classes that will meet NCAA eligibility standards. Do it early - end of your sophomore year - and keep track of core courses. You'll need to take either the ACT or SAT for NCAA certification.

Contact - NCAA rules define a contact as a face-to-face interaction with you and/or your parents off Clemson's campus by a coach. NCAA rules allow for a total of three contacts your senior year.

Core Courses - Courses at your high school that are considered college preparatory. For the class entering Clemson in 2003-04, 13 core courses are required: four in English, two in math, two in science, one additional from English, math, or science, two social sciences, and two additional courses. Your guidance counselor will have a list of your school's core courses, or go to www.act.org/ncaa for more information.

Evaluation - Coaches may come to your high school and review your athletic and academic credentials with your high school coach. They also will watch you compete at other locations. You may notice college coaches before your senior year, but they may not talk with you until that time.

Home Visit - During the contact period, you may invite college coaches to your home to meet your parents and to talk in detail about the team and academic offerings at any college you are considering.

Prospect - Any student who has entered the ninth grade. Once you become a prospect, NCAA rules define how college coaches can interact with you.

Receiving Mail - When you are in the ninth and 10th grades, NCAA rules allow us to only mail a questionnaire and summer camp brochures to you. After September 1 of your junior year, our coaches can write personalized letters, send you a media guide, copies of newspaper articles, and schedule cards. You can receive a game program when you visit our campus.

Recruiting - A term used to describe the process of acquainting you with a college and the coaches of that college learning more about you. Only coaches can recruit - no one else can try and persuade you to play sports at a particular university.

> Telephone - After July 1 following your junior year, college coaches will call you once a week, and you can expect unlimited calls five days before your official visit and once you've signed a National Letter of Intent.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Are my parents invited for an official visit? Yes. NCAA rules allow a school to provide lodging and meals for parents or legal guardians who accompany their child on an official visit. NCAA rules do not allow schools to provide transportation for parents, unless they drive with their child.
- Can I visit Clemson anytime I'm in high school? Yes. Have your high school coach call our coaches to schedule you for an unofficial visit. You can attend a game and talk with our coaches, and it does not count as a contact when it is on Clemson's campus. There are times you cannot visit - NCAA rules refer to them as "dead periods" and our

2002 Fall Omaha Challenge

In the fall of 1998, Head Coach Jack Leggett conceived of a competition to test his players and help them reach their strength goals. The contest was named "Omaha Challenge". Its purpose is to serve as an intense form of evaluation to measure muscular endurance, mental toughness, and develop team unity using a variety of resistance, agility, and conditioning tests.

Before the 2003 season, the fielders competed against each other as did the pitchers. The fielders performed the dumbbell bench press (55 pounds), pullups, sled pull, "Hercules Hold," dips, 120-yard "Omaha Shuttle," "Omaha Four-Lapper" (2.2 miles), and agility circuit. The pitchers performed in the same events as the fielders except the pitchers did a 50-pound dumbbell bench press.

Freshman infielder Herman Demmink captured the fielders' competition with over 2,648 points, more than 320 points more than the closest competitor. Senior righthander Paul Harrelson won the pitchers' event, totaling over 2,372 points.

Athletic Facilities

Jervey Athletic Center

The Jervey Athletic Center, named in honor of one of Clemson's most beloved sons, Frank Johnstone Jervey, is a two-level complex that is the home of the University's intercollegiate athletic program.

The 67,000 square-foot building houses under one roof offices for all of the coaching and related staffs for Clemson's sports, a unique feature that places the center among the most modern of its kind anywhere. These offices are centrally located on the main level and recently had a $500,000 renovation.

Within the complex is all of the personnel and related facilities needed to conduct an effective, top-flight intercollegiate athletic program.

Beneath the main floor are dressing rooms for the varsity sports. Other facilities on this level include coaches' dressing rooms, a spacious training room, sauna and steam rooms, and an athletic equipment room.

Attached to and complementing the administrative-coaching personnel building is a two-level, multi-purpose structure of 29,000 square feet. The upper level of this building is where the Jervey Gym is located. The Jervey Athletic Center provides Tiger athletes with the most modern and up-to-date facilities in the country. It is one reason the Clemson athletic program is recognized as one of the best in America.

Strength Training Room

One of Clemson's most impressive athletic facilities is not quite as visible as Death Valley, Littlejohn Coliseum, or even Doug Kingsmore Stadium, even though it may be an even more important reason for the Tigers' success in all 19 varsity sports. Clemson's strength training facility, located in Jervey Athletic Center and adjacent to Doug Kingsmore Stadium, provides Clemson athletes with the very best in equipment, supervision, and atmosphere, as the Clemson strength training staff knows that success in the area of strength training will translate into success in athletic competition.

The strength training staff for baseball, headed by Tom Melton along with assistants David Helms and Ryan Kineard, works constantly to ensure the strength training facility is one of the nation's best. Several renovations have been made over the last several years that has ensured it is among the best, on both the collegiate and professional levels.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. In 1995, the facility was enlarged to an astounding 14,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several different sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

The Tiger strength training room is bustling with action year-round. When an athlete enters the etched-glass doors, he or she is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 26-speaker sound system, a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Four color television monitors are also positioned throughout the strength training facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on correction. When not in use for this purpose, the televisions, which are hooked into the sound system, provide atmosphere, as most Tiger student-athletes enjoy working out to the tune of the latest music videos.

Clemson has a new training facility with top-of-the-line equipment, including an aquatic center used to enhance rehabilitation.

Training Room

The training room is one of the fine facilities in the Jervey Athletic Center. It is run by Danny Poole and it houses all of the latest training equipment. Poole heads up a staff of four full-time individuals with decades of experience. This professional staff, 13 students and 11 graduate student trainers, gives athletes the best possible care.

The training room underwent renovations last summer, making it one of the top facilities in the nation. Along with the cosmetic improvements, additions were made, including a hydrotherapy area, hot and cold jacuzzis and a treatment tank with an underwater treadmill.

The training room retained its whirlpools, cybex machine, numerous stationary bikes, upper-body exerciser, Stairmaster, and all the latest devices for all kinds of treatment. Doctors have offices and an orthopedic examining room, and there is a conference room and a library. There is someone in the training room from 7:00 AM until late in the evening and doctors staff the room daily from 2:00 PM until closing and is available at all hours for special situations.

Clemson's strength training facility features the very best in equipment, supervision, and atmosphere.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium

Former Clemson baseball star and Board of Trustees Emeritus Doug Kingsmore gave the Clemson athletic department a $1 million gift towards renovation of Clemson's baseball stadium, formerly known as Tiger Field. George Bennett, executive director of IPTAY, made the announcement on January 28, 2000 at a dinner at the Madren Center on the Clemson campus. Bennett also announced that the facility would be called Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

And this past offseason, Doug Kingsmore Stadium underwent a radical renovation. Over $4 million has been spent to make the facility among the best in the nation.

Kingsmore played for the Tiger varsity squad from 1952-54. An All-ACC and All-District III outfielder in 1954, Kingsmore became the first Clemson player in history to hit 10 home runs in a season.

He did that in 1954 while playing in just 24 games. He led the ACC in home runs and runs scored (25) that year, and led the Tigers in batting average (.371), slugging percentage (.742), and RBIs (27).

Kingsmore played three years of professional baseball in the Baltimore Oriole organization before beginning a successful business career. He is currently president and chief executive of the Graniteville Company in Aiken, SC. He served three terms on the Clemson University Board of Trustees and became Trustee Emeritus when his current elected term expired in 2002.

In 2002, Clemson finished the season with at least 40 wins for the 17th straight season. In addition to a 16th straight NCAA appearance, Clemson ranked ninth in the country in average attendance with an average of 3,592 fans per game. It marked the ninth straight top-20 national ranking for the Tigers in atendance.

Towards the end of the 1994 season, Clemson had six games against Miami (FL) and Florida State and the six games averaged 4,333 fans. The Florida State series drew 14,500, the highest three-game series total in Clemson history.

On Saturday, June 3, 2000, 6,392 fans looked on as Clemson beat Mississippi State to earn its first trip to the College World Series in four seasons. The crowd was the largest in Clemson history. In the opening game of the Super Regional, 6,308 fans attended the game. The two-game average of 6,350 gave Clemson the third-best attendance in the Super Regional round. Almost 16,000 fans also saw the three-game Super Regional against Arkansas in 2002.

This outstanding fan support from the Clemson community and the Upstate of South Carolina has contributed to Clemson's outstanding home-field record. Clemson has played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium for 33 years and has a winning percentage of 82 percent. This includes a 245-51 mark in ACC regular-season games, an 83-percent mark.

In 1995, Clemson had a 33-1 record at home. The Tigers have won at least 74 percent of their home games for 17 consecutive seasons. Clemson is 278-54 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium during Head Coach Jack Leggett's nine years at at Clemson, an 84-percent mark. Nine times during the 1994 season an opposing top-20 team tasted defeat at Doug Kingsmore Stadium and four times a team ranked in the top three in the country lost to the Tigers. Seven wins against top-20 teams, including three wins over a top-10 Florida State team, were recorded at home in 1996. In 2000, the Tigers were 8-3 against top-25 foes at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. After Clemson won three games against #2-ranked Florida State team, Seminole coach Mike Martin voiced his opinion on just how tough it is to play at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

"If you had told me in 1992 that we were going to go to a place where we'd be 2-13 over the next eight years, I would have gone to the administration and suggested we join another conference," Martin told the Tal- lahassee Democrat. "Clemson is a very tough place to play. The toughest place to play of any place I've ever competed in all my years of college baseball. The good news is it's 727 days before we have to go back to Clemson."

Doug Kingsmore Stadium has seen steady improvement since 1970 and is now one of the top facilities in the country. Just ask people at Baseball America, who released a coaches' ranking that had Doug Kingsmore Stadium as the 16th-best college facility in the nation in January of 2003. And that ranking was done before any of the new renovations had been done. Evidence of its rating among facilities across the country has been demonstrated in recent years when Doug Kingsmore Stadium was named as the site for the 1994, 1995, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2001, and 2002 NCAA Regionals.

Renovations to Doug Kingsmore Stadium (costing $4 million) began in the summer of 2002, which will keep Clemson's ballpark among the nation's best. The stadium has a new brick façade that surrounds every entrance. A new green roof that covers much more of the stands and a press box that is now twice as large will add to the comfort of fans attending the game and the media covering it. The press box, which is accessible by elevator, includes four large booths for broadcasting and a separate media center that will accommodate 21 writers.

There is also a new patio area outside the new press box that will be above the existing stands along the third and first-base lines. It will be used for receptions, birthday parties, and other events throughout the year.

New ticket booths, concession stands, complete with adjoining picnic area, and enlarged restrooms make the facility easily accessible and fan friendly. New reserved seats have also been added to the grandstand, and a new viewing area in left field will be concluded by the end of this season.

A grand stairway leading from the McFadden parking lot to the main entrance behind home plate is an added feature from a convenience and aesthetic aspect. The entrance will also feature a Hall of Fame area and the Pawlings Stitch Plaza, a half basebal

The players also realize improvements, as four new batting cages have been constructed beyond the right-field fence. The dugouts have been almost doubled in length and width as well.

The facility is also equipped with a "Super-Sopper," which cuts down on rainouts. Clemson is one of a few schools with this machine that removes water from the field.

Doug Kingsmore

Stadium is located in the middle of Clemson's athletic facilities. It is across the street from Littlejohn Coliseum, the home of the Tiger basketball program, and Memorial Stadium, the home of Clemson's football program. It is located behind Jervey Athletic Center, home of the athletic administrative offices.

The stadium has 3,500 permanent seats, but is capable of holding more than 6,000 thanks to a hill area down the left-field line that is popular with the Clemson student-body. In 2001, the ballpark shrank its dimensions. The fences are now 320 feet down the left-field line, 370 feet in left-center, 400 feet to straight-away center, 375 feet in the rightcenter alley, and 330 feet down the right-field line. The park also features a terrace in the outfield area adjacent to the fence, similar to the old Crosley Field in Cincinnati, OH, which ironically was torn down the year Doug Kingsmore Stadium was built. Bill Wilhelm, Clemson's long-time coach who was the Tiger mentor when the field was constructed, liked the looks and practicality of a field with grass all the way around the outfield instead of gravel.

Boston Red Sox catcher Jason Varitek, who played at Georgia Tech, says Doug Kingsmore Stadium was his favorite venue to play at. "They had rowdy fans. The outfield warning track runs uphill. And the fans are right on the action. They were closer to the on-deck circle than we were."

Clemson Baseball...A Championship Tradition

Clemson has made 10 appearances in the College World Series and has won 13 NCAA Regional Championships, including two Super Regional Championships in the last three seasons. The tradition dates to 1947, when Clemson advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament before losing to Yale and a first baseman named George Bush. Clemson has gone to the College World Series four times (1995,96,00,02) in Head Coach Jack Leggett's nine seasons in Tigertown.

Clemson has won the ACC Regular-Season Championship 20 times, more than double any other ACC school. Clemson has also won 13 ACC Championships, five more than any other school. The program has the most ACC Tournament Championships (eight) in history as well.

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 50th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere coniecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 86 national championships, including 44 in women's competition and 42 in men's. In addition, 120 men and 32 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion. The ACC has placed at least four teams in the NCAA Baseball Tournament in 11 consecutive years, including five squads a year ago. Over the past seven years, the ACC is 113-72 (.611) in NCAA Tournament play with nine College World Series participants.

Over the past 10 years, 42 of the 51 teams that have competed in the NCAA Tournament have won at least two games with 47 of 51 winning a minimum of one game. In 2002, each of the five teams that participated in the tournament won a minimum of three games, with Clemson winning seven and Georgia Tech recording six wins.

For the 11th straight season, the ACC posted a non-conference winning percentage over 61 percent, winning 77 percent of the games played against non-conference opponents. The ACC was 249-74-1 a year ago, bettering the conference's record to 2,809-1,096-17 (.718) in non-league play since 1990.

In recent years, the ACC has garnered considerable attention at the national level, stocking major league rosters with talented players. Over the past nine years, an NCAA-high 30 players from the ACC have been selected in the first round of the Major League Baseball Draft, including three in 2002.

The ACC has produced two #1 overall picks in Florida State's Paul Wilson in 1994 and Clemson's Kris Benson in 1996.

The History

The ACC was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, NC, with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, N.C. State, South Carolina, and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, NC, where a set of bylaws were adopted and the name officially became the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first and only withdrawal of a school from the ACC came in 1971, when South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964. The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

Bill Wilhelm

In his 36 years as a head coach, all at Clemson, Bill Wilhelm posted a record of 1,161-536-10, making him the fifth-winningest coach in the history of college baseball at the time of his retirement. Wilhelm has indeed earned his place among the legends of the college game.

Serving as head baseball coach at one school for your entire career is quite an accomplishment. Having 36 seasons under your belt is an even greater accomplishment. But spending your entire 36-year career at one school and never having a losing season is incredible. That is one of just many accomplishments for the former Tiger coach.

Wilhelm coached his first game at Clemson, a 7-5 win against Michigan State on March 22, 1958, and the victories never stopped during his 36 years and 1,707 games coached.

Wilhelm had five different teams record at least 50 wins in his career, but his 1993 and last edition may have been his most overachieving squad. The ACC Tournament proved to be pure magic, as the Tigers went through the five-day tournament with a 5-1 record, including a come-from-behind 11-7 win over N.C. State in the championship game.

Clemson received a #2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Regional in Knoxville, TN, the sixthconsecutive year the Tigers were a #1 or #2 seed heading into NCAA postseason action. During play in Knoxville, the 1993 Tigers set the Clemson record for wins against top-25 teams in a season with 13, so the 45 wins were accomplished against a standout schedule. Thirty-two of the 65 games were against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament.

Although Wilhelm enjoyed many rewarding seasons at Clemson, 1991 was his most successful in terms of victories. The Tigers ran up a 60-10 record that season, the best record in the nation, captured the ACC regular-season title, swept the ACC Tournament and the NCAA Northeast Regional, and earned a trip to the College World Series. That number of victories set an ACC record for wins in a season, breaking the old record of 54 set by the 1987 and 1988 teams

Wilhelm's 1991 Tigers ranked #4 in Baseball America's final poll. The trip to Omaha marked the sixth of his coaching career, and the Tigers' ACC Championship was his 10th as head coach. He was named the District III Diamond Baseball Coach-of-the-Year and the ACC Coach-of-the-Year after the 1991 season.

In his last seven years at Clemson,

The Tigers have won 13 ACC titles outright,

Wilhelm took the Tigers to the NCAA Tournament seven times and his teams posted a 356-115-1 record during that period, an average of nearly 51 wins a year. He took a team to the NCAA tournament 17 times in his career, tops for an ACC baseball coach.

Wilhelm was the head coach on 19 of those occasions. Wilhelm had 10 consecutive seasons (1973-82) where the Tigers either won the ACC regular-season or tournament title.

Wilhelm, a native of China Grove, NC, played at N.C. State for two seasons before signing with the Saint Louis Cardinals in June of 1950. After one year of pro baseball, he entered military service, where he spent two years. He played service ball and spent two more years in the professional ranks before returning to college. He entered Catawba College (Salisbury, NC) and received his undergraduate degree in January of 1957.

Upon graduation, Wilhelm began work on his master's degree at North Carolina. At the same time, he served as an assistant coach for the Tar Heels under Walter Rabb and played catcher for Greensboro in the Carolina League. In August of 1958, Wilhelm received his graduate degree from North Carolina while he was coaching at Clemson. He coached Clemson to the College World Series each of his first two seasons with the Tiger program.

In the spring of 1957 when North Carolina played at Clemson, Tiger Athletic Director Frank Howard asked Rabb to recommend a new baseball coach for Clemson so that Clemson's head coach (Bob Smith) could become a full-time football coach. Howard took Rabb's advice and hired Wilhelm.

Tourney: Career:

April 24, 1896 - Clemson played its first baseball game, a 20-13 loss to Furman. The home games were played at Bowman Field in front of Tillman Hall. The Tigers' first head coach was R.T.V. Bowman.

May 12, 1899 - Clemson played rival South Carolina for the first time. The Tigers were victorious by a 21-8 score in eight innings in Columbia. The Gamecocks are the Tigers' most common opponent to date (247 meetings, Clemson leads 148-97-2 (.603)).

1900 - Legendary football coach John Heisman, who coached Clemson's gridders for four seasons, was named Clemson's baseball coach. Heisman compiled a 36-11-2 (.755) record in four seasons (1901-04), which still stands today as the best winning percentage in Tiger history given a minimum of two seasons.

1904 - The Tigers' first future Major Leaguer, Vet Sitton, played in his first season at Clemson. The Pendleton, SC native, a 5-11, 170-pound righthander, played one season for the Cleveland Indians in 1909, where he was 3-2 with a 2.88 ERA in 50.0 innings pitched. Sitton later was the Tigers' head coach from 1915-16 and compiled a 26-18-1 (.589) record.

April 12, 1913 - Doc Ezell pitched Clemson's first no-hitter in a 5-0 victory over Erskine.

March 27, 1916 - Clemson defeated West Virginia Wesleyan 4-2 in the first game played at Riggs Baseball Field. Clemson played on this field until the 1970 season.

April 29, 1916 - Elmer Long pitched a no-hitter in a 2-0 win over Virginia Military.

1921 - Clemson joined the Southern Conference and was a charter member.

1922 - Flint Rhem, one of Clemson's greatest players of the 20th century, played in his first season at Clemson. He played in the 1922-24 seasons and later went on to play 12 Major League seasons with the Saint Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies, and Boston Braves. He had a 105-97 career record with a 4.20 ERA and over 1,500 strikeouts. He was 20-7 with a 3.21 ERA with the Cardinals in 1926 in his best season. He once pitched a no-hitter (in 1924, one season before his rookie season in the Majors) while playing for the Fort Smith (AR) minor league team. He struck out 16 batters in the game and made it in "Ripley's Believe It or Not" by not allowing a ball to be hit out of the infield.

April 17, 1924 - Lefty Smith pitched a no-hitter in a 6-0 win over South Carolina.

1931 - Clemson's season was cut short due to an outbreak of meningitis on campus in April. Clemson finished the season 6-2.

1932 - Legendary football coach Jess Neely, who coached Clemson's gridders for nine seasons (1931-39), coached in his first season as Clemson's baseball coach. He compiled a 68-67-2 (.504) record in seven seasons (1932-38).

1941 - Dude Buchanan set the school record for batting average in a single season with a .485 mark (33-for-68).

1943 - Legendary coach Frank Howard, Clemson's career leader in football wins (165), coached the baseball team for one season, compiling a 12-3 record. His career record is still the best of any coach in Tiger history. There have only been five different baseball head coaches at Clemson since Howard's brief stint.

March 29, 1946 - Joe Landrum pitched a no-hitter in a 6-0 win over Erskine. 1947 - Joe Landrum was Clemson's first All-American in baseball. He earned first-team honors from the Coaches Association after posting a 12-2 record and 2.23 ERA. Landrum went on to pitch with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clemson won the Southern Conference Championship with a 13-2 record.

Harold Stowe won 14 games in 1958, as Clemson made its first ever appearance in the College World Series under first-year Head Coach Bill Wilhelm.

Later in the day, Clemson won 3-1 to advance to Omaha and the College World Series. Harold Stowe, who went on to pitch with the New York Yankees, pitched a four-hitter to earn his 13th victory of the season. April 14, 1995 - The greatest comeback in Clemson history took place on this date, the first game of a three-game set at N.C. State. The Wolfpack had just scored three and six runs in the seventh and eighth innings, respectively, to take a 15-4 lead. The Tiger leadoff batter struck out to start the ninth inning. Clemson then got three straight hits and two walks. Seth Brizek hit into a fielder's choice for the second out, as David Miller scored on the play to cut the deficit to 15-7. The next six Tiger batters all reached safely on hits, highlighted by Shane Monahan's three-run homer that cut the Wolfpack lead to just two runs. After two more hits and a walk, Matthew LeCroy tied the game with a clutch double. The Tigers went on to win 17-15 in 10 innings. Clemson did so being down 11 runs on the road with no runners on base in the ninth inning and one out, and without the benefit of a Wolfpack error in the ninth.

1995 - Clemson captured the ACC Regular-Season title with a 20-4 ACC record. Jack Leggett received ACC Coach-ofthe-Year Honors as well. Paul Galloway became Clemson's first Academic All-American. Clemson was ranked #8 in both the final Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball polls.

April 21, 1996 - Clemson played in one of the longest nonstop days of baseball in collegiate history. The Tigers and Georgia Southern were slated to play two nine-inning games, but the two games lasted a total of 28 innings. The first was a 10-inning affair with Georgia Southern coming out on top 8-6. The latter game also saw Georgia Southern victorious, this time 9-7 in 18 innings. The games combined for eight hours and 44 minutes in length (not counting the 31 minutes in between games).

May 23–26, 1996 - The Tigers won the NCAA East Regional Championship at Clemson and advanced to the College World Series. Clemson recorded wins over Charleston Southern, Old Dominion, West Virginia, and Tennessee.

May 31 - June 5, 1996 - When Clemson made its eighth College World Series appearance, it had lost seven straight games in Omaha and had never won more than one game in the double elimination tournament. Miami (FL) defeated the Tigers to open the tournament, so Clemson had to win to stay alive. The Tigers responded with a 10-inning, 8-5 win over Oklahoma State and next faced Alabama, the #1 seed. The morning of the game, Kris Benson and Billy Koch learned they were the first and fourth overall picks, respectively, of the Major League Draft. The Tigers, though, sent out Ken Vining, who was 10-3, to face a potent Crimson Tide hitting attack. But it was the Tigers who jumped out to an early 5-0 lead. Alabama battled back to take a 12-10 lead after eight innings. Gary Burnham and Jerome Robinson led off the ninth with singles. Then, 5-8 second baseman Doug Livingston hit an opposite-field double to give Clemson the lead. But the Tigers, who led 14-12, had to contain the hot Alabama bats in the bottom of the ninth. Brett Taft who had hit two homers led off with a double Rusty Loflin flied out to Livingston and Drew Bounds singled. On came Koch, who was making a rare relief appearance. He struck out David Tidwell and seemed to throw a game-ending ground ball off the bat of Joe Caruso, but the ball went through the legs of shortstop Kurt Bultmann, plating Taft and putting runners on first and third. But Koch got Dax Norris to bounce out to first baseman Jason Embler, who made a spectacular grab ranging to his right and looking into the sun. Embler flipped to Koch to record the final out of the game, as the Tigers won 14-13 and advanced farther in the College World Series than it ever had before.

1996 - Clemson led the nation with a 3.03 ERA. Clemson was ranked #5 in the final Baseball America poll and #4 in the final Collegiate Baseball listing. Kris Benson was also named National Player-of-the-Year by Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. One of the most decorated players in Tiger history also received the Dick Howser Trophy and the Smith Award. He won his first 14 decisions and had a 2.02 ERA in 156.0 innings pitched. He allowed just 109 hits and 27 walks while striking out 204 batters, good for a 7.5-to-1 strikeout to walk ratio, easily a Clemson record. He had seven complete games and four shutouts as well. Benson was also the #1 overall pick in the 1996 Major League draft (Pittsburgh Pirates), becoming the first Tiger to be picked at that position. He donned the Red, White, and Blue for Team USA in the Centennial Olympics in Atlanta in 1996, earning a bronze medal. Tiger teammates Billy Koch and Matthew LeCroy joined Benson on the Olympic team.

March 21, 1998 - Clemson scored 19 runs in one inning against Maryland. Ironically, Clemson did not score in any other inning of the game. The run total set an NCAA record for most runs in a third inning. In the inning, Clemson sent 23 batters to the plate, and had 12 hits and six walks. Like the 11-run comeback in the ninth inning at N.C. State in '95, the first Tiger to bat in the inning was retired. The next 17 batters reached base safely. Patrick Boyd and Kurt Bultmann both reached base in all three plate appearances and scored three runs in the inning.

April 24, 1998 - Rusty Adkins had his jersey retired and was inducted into the Clemson Baseball Ring of Honor, joining Bill Wilhelm in the elite company. Adkins is the only three-time All-American in Tiger baseball history.

May 21–23, 1998 - Clemson won its 2,000th game in school history as the Tigers defeated The Citadel 12-3 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in the NCAA East Regional on May 21. Clemson lost to South Alabama in 16 innings and eventual National Champion Southern California.

The Tigers came through with wins on Saturday over Delaware and host Arkansas. Clemson had to beat Southwest Missouri State twice on Sunday and did just that by 8-7 and 7-5 scores.

June 4-6, 1999 - Texas A&M won two of the three games in the NCAA Super Regional at College Station TX. Despite coming up short, Clemson battled back after a 20-3 defeat in the opening game and had the lead entering the ninth inning in game three in a hostile environment.

April 3, 2002 - Jeff Baker hit a walk-off homer against Winthrop to give Clemson a 6-4 win. It was his third homer of the game, as he became the first Tiger to hit three homers in a game since 1993 and the first to do it in the history of Doug Kingsmore Stadium. #### 3 Homers

Clemson - It had been nine years since a Clemson player had hit three home runs in one game, but Jeff Baker pulled the trick against Winthrop at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on April 3, 2002 in a game that the Tigers won 6-4. He had five of the Tigers' six RBIs and scored four of Clemson's six runs. He hit a two-out, two-run homer in the first inning, a leadoff homer in the fifth inning, and a two-run walk-off homer with no outs in the ninth inning.

Opponent - South Carolina second baseman Bryon Jeffcoat hit three homers and drove in eight runs against the Tigers at Clemson on March 3, 2001. Batting in the eighth spot in the lineup, he hit his first home run, a grand slam, in the second inning. He added a three-run shot in the seventh inning and a solo homer in the ninth inning. Jeffcoat also had two singles in the Gamecocks' 21-8 victory. The teams combined for 10 home runs in the game.
