Credits

The 2004 Clemson Baseball Media Guide was written, edited, and designed by Assistant Sports Information Director Brian Hennessy. Statistical and editorial assistance provided by Sam Blackman, Tim Bourret, Louis Garmendia, Andy Heck, Christine Long, and Philip Sikes. The four cover designs by John Schaffhauser of Canton, MS. Printing by Martin Printing Company of Easley, SC.

On the Cover

Featured on the front cover are Clemson's three captains, including fifth-year seniors Patrick Hogan (RHP) and Russell Triplett (SS). Senior captain Steven Jackson (RHP) and preseason All-American Brad McCann (3B) also are on the front cover. Seniors Zane Green (OF) and Ryan Hub (OF) along with juniors Jeff Hahn (RHP) and Tyler Lumsden (LHP) are featured on the back cover. Tiger Head Coach Jack Leggett is featured on the back cover as well.

ACC Media Relations

Amy Yakola is the baseball media relations contact for the ACC Office. She can be reached at (336) 851-6062 or ayakola@theacc.org.

Credentials

Members of the working press who desire a media credential to a Clemson baseball home game should contact Brian Hennessy in the Clemson Sports Information Office at (864) 656-1921. There is space for 21 writers in the press box in the Doug Kingsmore Stadium press areas, plus booths for each team's radio network. Season credentials are issued. Credentials on a game-by-game basis are also issued. Members of the media must request a pass at least one day prior to each game/series to ensure admittance.

Email Distribution List

Notes, stats, and other information is emailed out on a game, series, and weekly basis from the Clemson SID Office. Contact Hennessy in the SID Office via email at bhennes@clemson.edu to be placed on this email distribution list.

Internet

Clemson boxscores, releases, statistics, player bios, livestats, and other items are available on the interent. Find us at www.clemsontigers.com. Statistics are updated following every game. Game notes are also provided in pdf format.

Jack Leggett Availability

The best time to reach Coach Jack Leggett is weekday mornings. Please contact Hennessy at (864) 656-1921 to set up an interview with him.

Parking

Media members are requested to park in the McFadden Building parking lot, located on the hill above the stadium (behind home plate). The lot is not reserved for media members, therefore parking is on a first-come, first-serve basis. There is also parking available beyond the left-field fence and in the west endzone parking lot at Memorial Stadium.

Photographer Positions

Television-camera persons are allowed to film from any unoccupied booths in the press box. There are also patio areas on both sides of the press box that are available for filming. Positions are on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Still photographers are allowed on the field, but only in "lined-off" areas near each dugout. Those positions are on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Player Availability

Players interviews are conducted after a particular practice when the team does not have a game. Please notify Hennessy if you plan to attend practice. If attendance at practice is not possible, the Clemson Sports Information Office can set up a phone interview. Campus telephone numbers for players will not be provided.

Directions to Kingsmore

From Atlanta, GA

Take I-85 north to Exit 14 in South Carolina. Take a left, which crosses over the interstate, onto South Carolina Highway 187 until the road runs into U.S. Highway 76 and 28. Make a left at this traffic light. *Stay on this road until the Highway 93 exit, where you will exit and take a left at the stop light. The route runs into the Clemson campus. Stay straight until you reach the second stop light after the tennis courts (tennis courts will be on the left). Take a left at the stop light and then take the first right into the McFadden Building parking lot.

From Columbia, SC

Take I-26 west and exit onto I-385 west until it reaches I-85. Take I-85 south until it reaches exit 19-B. Take exit 19-B and follow the directions from Atlanta starting at the * symbol to arrive at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

From Greenville, SC

Take I-85 south until it reaches exit 19-B. Take exit 19-B and follow the directions from Atlanta starting at the * symbol to arrive at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

Postgame Interviews

Postgame interviews take place outside the dugout of each team. A member of the Clemson Sports Information Office will retrieve requested players and coaches from the lockerroom. The lockerroom is closed to the media. Please see the opposing SID for their postgame player interview procedure.

ClemsonTigers.com has the most up-to-date statistical and biographical information on Tiger baseball, including live stats, box scores, game stories, rosters, pictures, releases, and ticket information.

Postgame Statistics

A final box score is provided for all home games. A typed play-by-play is also available upon request. A final box score and game story is fax broadcast within 30 minutes of the conclusion of each home game. For any other requests, please see Hennessy or another member of the Clemson Sports Information Office prior to the conclusion of the game.

Press Entrance

Please enter the stadium at the gate behind home plate or near the left-field foul pole. The stadium renovations include a new and expanded press box along with an elevator and stairs leading up to the press box behind the stadium.

Telephone Services

The newly renovated Doug Kingsmore Stadium press box features the most up-to-date phone services for media attending a game. There are also telephones available in the Sports Information Office (room 102) just 100 yards from the press box in the Jervey Athletic Center.

Will Call

Press will call is located at the left-field entrance.

Overview

Powered by the return of a deep pitching staff and talented offensive players, Clemson hopes to make a run at another College World Series appearance in 2004. Jack Leggett, who enters his 11th year as head coach at Clemson, looks for the Tigers to be an exciting squad this spring.

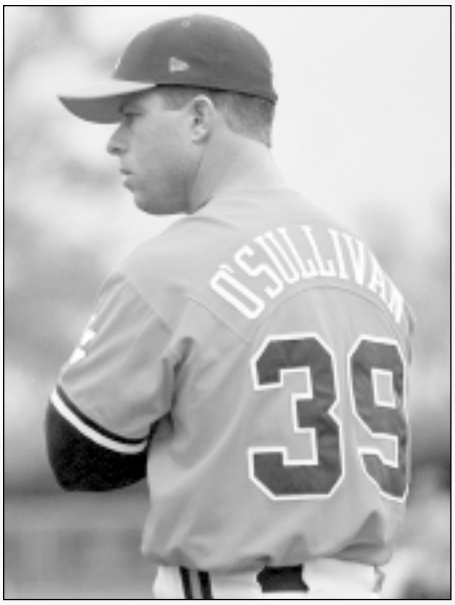
"In order for us to be successful, we have to be a team that can pitch and play defense," Leggett said. "We have to be more aggressive than we have in the past on offense. We have to put pressure on the other team to get leads early, so that our pitching can take over."

Clemson lost several veterans to graduation after the 2003 season. Michael Johnson leaves a void at first base after starting for three years and hitting 58 home runs, second-most in school history. Kyle Frank was a consistent centerfielder who has also moved on. Veteran catcher Steve Pyzik, steady second baseman David Slevin, and sidearm reliever Paul Harrelson have departed as well. However, the Tigers have plenty of talent to work with in 2004, and it starts with the team captains.

"The players chose three great captains this year in Patrick Hogan, Russell Triplett, and Steven Jackson," Leggett said. "All of them are tremendously dedicated and hard-working people. They're loyal to Clemson and loyal to our baseball program. They're great examples both on and off the field of what Clemson baseball is all about. You can tell through the voting that they're all respected by their teammates. All three are going to have a valuable function in the success of our baseball team this year. I couldn't be happier with the choices our players made."

The coaching staff remains intact from the 2003 season. Kevin O'Sullivan enters his sixth season as the Tigers' pitching coach and second as recruiting coordinator. Tom Riginos, who is in charge of the hitters and outfielders, returns for his second season as an assistant coach. Bradley LeCroy will serve as a volunteer assistant for the second consecutive year. The group will try to lead Clemson to its 18th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance in 2004.

Included in Clemson's rigorous schedule is four games against arch-rival South Carolina. The two teams have faced off 263 times, with Clemson leading 155-106-2.



Kevin O'Sullivan returns for his sixth season as the Tiger pitching coach. He is charge of a deep pitching staff that returns all six starting pitchers from the 2003 team.

Leggett feels that motivation and team chemistry will be the key this season. "The players have a great deal of motivation to get better and get back to Omaha. We have to put the team chemistry together. We have a chance to have better team chemistry than what we had last year. That should be a big factor in helping us be a strong, winning team and one to be reckoned with this spring."

The schedule presents a tough road ahead for the 2004 team, one that Leggett is looking forward to. "I look at this as one of the toughest schedules that we can play. It will present a great challenge to this team, but we're looking forward to it."

Along with the always-tough ACC schedule, Clemson plays other noteworthy foes this season. The Tigers play 22 games versus teams that competed in 2003 NCAA Regionals. Included in that list is East Carolina, who Clemson will square off with twice in the inaugural Keith LeClair Invitational. LeClair, formerly the head coach at East Carolina, played under Leggett at Western Carolina. His coaching career prematurely ended due to being diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's disease.

Clemson, who is ranked as high as #11 in the preseason polls and picked to finish third in the ACC by the league's coaches, also plays four games against rival South Carolina and two against SEC foe Georgia. The Tigers play host to Auburn, who defeated Clemson three out of four games last year. Clemson also faces tough series at Texas Tech and at home against Central Florida. Add on top of that mid-week contests with Furman, Elon, and Winthrop, and the 2004 schedule is one of the toughest in recent memory for Clemson.

Leggett does not want to dwell on the fact that Clemson came up short of its goals in 2003, rather he wants to use it as motivation for his team to improve this spring. "You're always disappointed unless you win the National Championship. We were especially disappointed because we didn't make it to Omaha. Those are the goals of this program."

Catchers

The catching position returns a wealth of experience. Brady Everett started 18 games a year ago behind the plate and hit .298 in his first season at Clemson after transferring from Edmonds (WA) Community College. He also threw out four baserunners in limited attempts.

Junior Collin Mahoney, who should also see time this year as a pitcher, returns after starting 18 games in 2004. Leggett believes Mahoney could be a great asset if he can maintain consistency at the plate.

"We have to see where his physical abilities take us, so we can figure out what's best for his future and what's going to be best for the baseball team," said Leggett. "He's going to contribute to the winning of this baseball team."

Gene Pierce played in eight games last season at catcher. He is perhaps the steadiest defender at the position. Newcomers battling for playing time include Doug Hogan, the brother of senior pitcher Patrick Hogan. Also new to the Tiger program at catcher is Lou Santangelo, a transfer from Seton Hall. The junior from Colts Neck, NJ is rated as the #7 most impactive transfer in the nation in the preseason by Baseball America.

"The catching position has some pretty good experience," Leggett believes. "We have some players coming back from last year who have improved a great deal. We also have some new catchers that I think are going to be very good for us before it's all over this year. It's an exciting situation."

Brady Everett hit .298 in 18 starts behind the plate in 2003. The Des Moines, WA native will compete for the starting job in 2004.

Infielders

The Tiger offense returns five players who hit .300 or better in 2003, including three infielders. Leading the way is junior and Baseball America Preseason All-American Brad McCann, who will man third base in his second season with the Tiger program. McCann, a Second-Team All-ACC selection in 2003, had a team-high .347 batting average, 21 doubles, and 67 RBIs. He ended last season on a 20-game hitting streak. He also showed flashes of power last year with nine homers, including a walk-off shot in the three-game sweep of Georgia Tech. Freshmen John Ingram and Bryan Yates will vie for playing time behind McCann at third.

Triplett returns at shortstop for the Tigers in 2004. He will also be serving as a team captain for the second consecutive year. Triplett, who was an All-ACC selection as a utility infielder in 2002 and second-team choice in 2003 at shortstop, had a .335 batting average and started all but one game at shortstop.

"He's a solid, steady player who does his job," Leggett says of Triplett. "He doesn't have a lot of flash, but he does what is expected of him. He's one of those players who will have a major impact on the success of this baseball team."

The leading candidates at second base are Herman Demmink, who started 30 games last season, mostly as a designated hitter, and Travis Storrer, a junior college transfer from who is a talented left-handed hitter.

Demmink hit .330 last year (including .457 in limited ACC action) and showed tremendous consistency at the plate. His batting average in ACC games would have led the league if he had just 14 more at bats. Others who are competing for middle infield spots include Daniel Pritchard, Tanner Leggett (son of Coach Jack Leggett), and Tyler Winningham.

Replacing former All-American Michael Johnson at first base is a priority for Leggett's squad this year. Two freshmen (along with Kris Harvey) will likely compete for the starting job. Andy D'Alessio is a left-handed power hitter who will see plenty of action at first. D'Alessio is rated as the fifth-best freshman in the country by Baseball America. Also in the mix is freshman Tyler Colvin.

Outfielders

The leading candidate to replace Kyle Frank in centerfield is Garrick Evans, a streak hitter who began his career as a middle infielder. Evans hit .311 in 29 starts last season. The coaches are looking to use his speed and range in the outfield.

"He's really coming a long way since moving from the infield to the outfield," Leggett said. "He's worked hard on defense. He's got great range in the outfield. If he continues to work on his fundamentals and mechanics, I think he'll develop into a real good outfielder for us."

Evans hit safely in nine of his final 10 games in 2003, including two games of a Wake Forest sweep in which he was 6-for-8 and garnered ACC Player-of-the-Week honors.

Returning in the outfield are seniors Ryan Hub and Zane Green. Hub started 34 games in 2003 and showed some power, with five home runs and 24 RBIs. Hub, a native of Sumter, SC, showed good range from his left-field spot.

Green, an integral part of the 2002 team that finished #3 in the country, hit .326 last season while only committing one error in the outfield. He will begin the 2004 season as the everyday starter in right field.

"He could be a very exciting offensive player for us," Leggett said. "He's one of our steadiest and most aggressive outfielders. He means a lot to this baseball team."

Four newcomers will compete for a spot in the outfield. Justin Barefoot is a freshman who impressed coaches in the fall. Jesse Ferguson, a sophomore junior college transfer, is a valuable left-handed hitter. Tony Sipp is a promising junior transfer who will see playing time in the outfield and as a lefthanded pitcher. C.J. Gaddis, a quarterback on the Tiger football team, was a 20th-round draft pick last summer and is another young player who can earn immediate playing time in the outfield.

Shortstop and fifth-year senior Russell Triplett is a two-time All-ACC performer who is the leader of the Tiger infield. The West Columbia, SC native and two-time team captain is a .317 career hitter in 157 games.

Pitchers

Junior lefthander Tyler Lumsden, who was 8-2 last season, returns with the potential for a breakout year. He had a 3.77 ERA and a team-high 72 strikeouts in 2003. Lumsden began the year 8-0, as teams struggled to make contact with his outstanding breaking ball. He twice earned ACC Pitcher-of-the-Week honors last season.

Hogan, who was selected as a captain for the second year in a row, returns with the ability to fill a number of roles. Hogan has starting experience and has the ability to relieve as well. He had a 4.30 ERA last season in 17 appearances, six of which were starts. Hogan is perhaps Clemson's most intense competitor on the mound.

"Patrick is just that guy you want with the ball in his hand and the game on the line," Leggett said. "He's such a great leader. Whatever it takes, he's willing to do for this baseball team because he's so unselfish."

Jackson, a senior captain, was 7-3 last season in 13 starts. The majority of his starts came at the end of a three-game series against quality ACC competition. Jackson, a Summerville, SC native, boasts a career 15-5 record with the Tigers.

A pair of sophomore pitchers will be instrumental in the Tigers' success this season. Jason Berken had an outstanding summer and fall according to Leggett. He started eight games, compiled a 4-2 record, and had a 3.19 ERA in 2003. The coaching staff believes Berken will be a big-game starter for the Tigers this year.

Sophomore righthander Kris Harvey has the ability to be a force on the mound in 2004. The son of former Major Leaguer Bryan Harvey can also contribute in the field at first base and the outfield.

"When you give him the ball, you know you're going to be in the game," Leggett said. "He's probably the guy that is at the top of the list as far as our starters are concerned for the season."

Lefthander Robert Rohrbaugh, a freshman All-American, appeared as a reliever in 26 games last year and boasted a team-best 3.03 ERA. He pitched in tight situations, as well as set-up for closers.

Jeff Hahn also has the ability to pitch in different situations. He started seven games in 2003, but looked more comfortable in long relief. Hahn had a 1.95 ERA in 13 relief appearances, compared to a 5.04 ERA in those seven starts.

Leggett also looks for big things out of Harvey, a sophomore righthander. He posted a 4-1 record as a freshman. His father, Bryan Harvey, pitched in the Major Leagues for nine years.

Sophomores Josh Cribb and Adam Walker return to give the pitching staff quality depth. Cribb had a 3.96 ERA in 13 appearances, and boasted a 19-to-6 strikeout-to-walk ratio. Walker pitched just 9.0 innings as a freshman in 2003, but struck out 11 batters in that limited action.

Also vying for time on the mound this season are newcomers Aaron Eubanks, Stephen Faris, Chris Howard, Sipp, and P.J. Zocchi.

Adkins, Rusty

Former Clemson great and infielder Rusty Adkins had his jersey retired and was inducted into the Clemson Baseball Ring of Honor during ceremonies prior to the Florida State game on April 24, 1998. Adkins is the only three-time All-American in Clemson baseball history, as he wore #3 for the Tigers from 1965-67.

Adkins hit safely in 41 consecutive games, which is still the seventh-longest streak in college baseball history and is the longest streak in Tiger history. He had to go to his last at bat to get a hit just three times in the 41 games. In 23 of the 41 games, he had at least two hits. He was 74-for-169 (.438) during the streak that lasted from April 10, 1965 to May 17, 1966.

The versatile player of the wooden-bat era hit .444 as a sophomore, a record that lasted until the 2002 season, when Khalil Greene hit an incredible .470 in a national player-of-the-year season. Adkins hit .379 in his career, an ACC record for the wooden-bat era. Adkins earned his degree from Clemson in industrial management in 1967 and later earned a master's degree from the Clemson-Furman MBA program in 1972. He is also a member of the state of South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame.

In the fall of 2002, he was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team, the second-oldest Clemson athlete in any sport selected. Citing his age is a compliment to Adkins, as it shows how his accomplishments have stood the test of time.

Attendance

Clemson has been outstanding at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in terms of its record. Since the facility opened in 1970, Clemson is 254-54 against ACC teams, an .825 winning percentage, and 808-178 overall, an .819 winning percentage.

That is 985 games played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium entering 2004. As long as weather does not interfere early in the season, the Maryland game on April 3, 2004 will be the 1,000th game in the history of the stadium.

During Jack Leggett's head-coaching career, the Tigers have accumulated a 305-60 (.836) record overall and 94-24 (.797) record against the ACC in the friendly confines the last 10 seasons.

That success can be attributed in part to the tremendous fan support from Tiger faithful. Clemson has finished each of the last 10 years ranked in the top 20 in the nation in attendance. That includes top-10 rankings each of the last two seasons. Clemson was #8 in the nation in 2003 with a 3,324 average for its 33 home dates. Clemson drew an average of 3,592 fans for its 45 home dates in 2002, a school record on a total-attendance (161,640) and per-game basis.

In 2003, Clemson sold 1,800 season tickets, the eighth-straight year the 1,000 mark was surpassed. The program has a goal of 2,000 season tickets this year.

The Tiger regular-season, single-game record for attendance came against North Carolina on Saturday, April 1, 1995, when 6,223 fans saw the Tigers pummel the Tar Heels 20-1. The overall attendance record was set at the 2000 Super Regional against Mississippi State. On that June 3 night, the attendance stood at 6,392.

To order season tickets, which includes a reserved, chair-back seat with the season ticket-holder's name on the seat, and the right to reserve the seat if the Tigers host a regional, call toll free at 1-800-CLEMSON.

Birthday Parties

One of Clemson's most popular attractions for young and old kids at Doug Kingsmore Stadium are birthday parties. You can have all the fun times that comes with a day at a Clemson ballgame along with a birthday cake on the Jervey Pavilion overlooking the stadium. You can also throw out the first pitch before the game, all for just $30. The ball is yours to keep and you will have your name announced by the public address announcer as well as flashed on the scoreboard. Call John Seketa in the Clemson Promotions office at (864) 656-1923 to sign up.

Bradley Award

For the fourth-straight year, the Tiger MVP of the Clemson-South Carolina series will receive the Bob Bradley Award. The award will be given to the top player from Clemson over the four-game series between the two teams each year. South Carolina's top player will be presented the Tom Price Award. The presentation will be made after the final game of the season between the two teams.

Both Bradley and Price had a tremendous positive influence on the baseball programs at Clemson and South Carolina as the school's sports information directors. Bradley passed away on October 30, 2000. He served as Clemson's baseball SID for 45 years and still served as Clemson's official scorer for most of the 2000 season. Price continues to serve the South Carolina program in an emeritus capacity.

Michael Johnson was always at his best against South Carolina and won the award in 2002 and 2003. In 16 career games against South Carolina, he hit 10 home runs. He hit 58 career homers in 235 career games, meaning he hit a home run every 4.05 games for his career. But against the Gamecocks, he connected for a roundtripper once every 1.60 games. He hit 17.2 percent of his home runs against the Gamecocks while playing only 6.8 percent of his games against Clemson's top rival.

Bush, George

Not the current president, but the former president played baseball against Clemson. During the 1947 NCAA Tournament, the Tigers traveled to Yale for an Elite Eight game with the Bulldogs and first-baseman George Bush. Bush went 1-for-3 that day in leading Yale to a 7-3 victory, allowing Yale to advance to the College World Series (then only four teams). It ended Clemson's Southern Conference Championship season at 24-5. Years later when he came to Clemson to speak, Sports Information Director Bob Bradley presented Bush with a laminated and framed copy of the scorebook from that game.

Chukyo University

Clemson did its part for international relations, baseball style, last March when it played host to Chukyo University's baseball team. The Japanese squad provided strong competition for the Tigers, but Clemson prevailed 6-2 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Brad McCann hit a two-run homer to key the victory. After the game, the two teams exchanged gifts on the field and shared a meal at the stadium.

The game was arranged by Clemson professor Yuji Kishimoto, who was involved in Chukyo's United States tour. Chukyo defeated Davidson, Furman, and Wofford during its trip.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members of the league, which started in the 1953-54 academic year. Prior to that year, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921-52. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before then, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Clemson has won the ACC regular-season title 20 times in 50 previous seasons, more than any other school. The Tigers have also won eight tournament championships, more than any other school, and been to the finals 20 times, also a league high. Overall, Clemson has been the declared ACC baseball champion 13 times, again more than any other school.

Competition in the ACC will certainly take a step up in 2005 when Miami (FL) and Virginia Tech join the ACC for baseball. Boston College will also join the league at a future date.

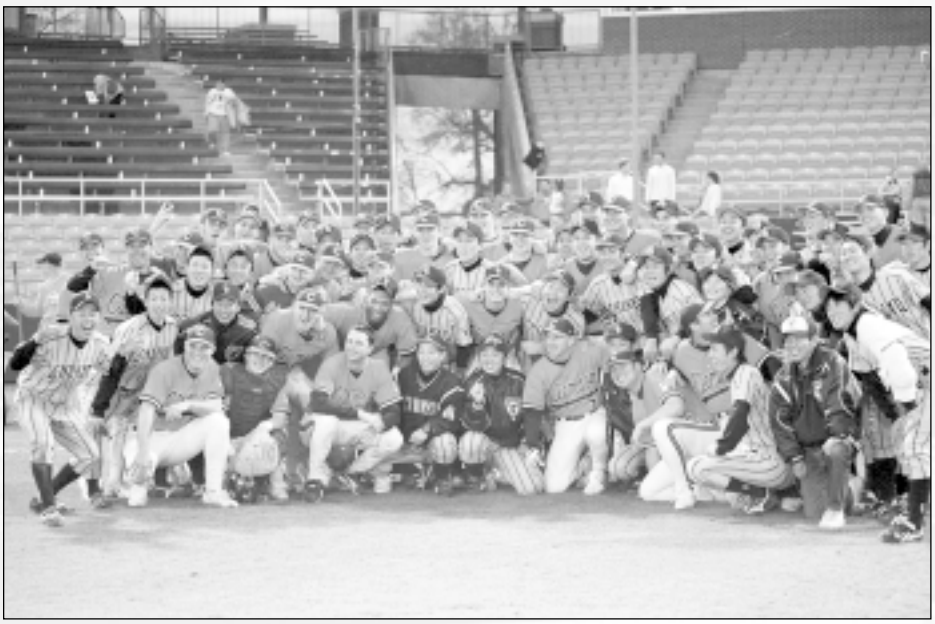
Draft, Highest Selections

The Clemson baseball program had two of the top four selections in the Major League draft on June 4, 1996. Kris Benson was the #1 pick of the draft by the Pittsburgh Pirates, while Billy Koch went in the first round as the #4 overall pick overall of the Toronto Blue Jays. They rank as the first and tied for second-highest draft picks in Clemson history, regardless of sport.

Banks McFadden, the #4 pick of the 1940 NFL Draft, was the highest draft pick in Clemson history (regardless of sport) prior to 1996. Having two players taken from the same school in the first five picks of the Major League Draft is noteworthy. In fact, it had happened just once previously in the baseball draft. In 1978, Arizona State's Bob Horner was the first choice of the draft by the Atlanta Braves, and teammate Hubie Brooks was the third choice of the draft by the Mets.

This was the first time two pitchers from the same college team have been taken in the first 10 picks. Only once previously have two pitchers been taken in the first 15 choices of the first round. That happened in 1987, when Georgia's Derek Lilliquist (sixth pick by the Braves) and Cris Carpenter (14th pick by the Cardinals) were both chosen in the first 15 selections.

Koch and Benson proved the general managers who made the decision to make them such high picks were soothsayers. Both made it to the Majors by 1999 and played well. In fact, both were in the top five in their respective leagues in rookie-of-the-year voting.



Clemson played an exhibition game against Chukyo University of Japan last March. The goodwill and festive atmosphere ended with the exchanging of gifts and a group picture.

Koch has ranked in the top 10 in the American League in saves four of the last five years and is now with the Chicago White Sox. Benson ranked 15th in the National League in ERA (3.85) in 2000.

Fifty-Win Seasons

Clemson won 54 games in 2002, the 10th time in history the Tigers have won at least 50 games in a season. Five of the 10 have come under current Head Coach Jack Leggett.

Clemson's first 50-win season came in 1987 under Bill Wilhelm, when it had a 54-14-1 record. Clemson also won at least 50 games in 1988 and 1989. All three of those clubs reached a regional final but failed to reach the College World Series.

The 1991 Clemson team did reach the College World Series and posted a 60-10 record, an ACC record for wins in a season. Clemson sported the #1 seed in the College World Series that year, but lost to hometown Creighton in a nationally-televised game on CBS in the first round, then lost to Long Beach State on a walk-off home run.

Leggett's winningest team was the 1994 Tigers that won 57 contests. That team benefited from a 65-game regular-season schedule, as the Tigers played nine extra games in Hawaii that year. Each of Leggett's last four College World Series teams have won at least 50 games and finished in the top 10 of all three final polls.

Fifty-Year Anniversary Players

Clemson had 12 selections to the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team that was announced in the fall of 2002. The Tiger program had more selections than any other school. The consistency of the program was shown in that at least one player from five different decades was selected.

Clemson's selections featured 10 players who have already played in the Major leagues, including 2003 rookie Khalil Greene, the unanimous national player-of-the-year in 2002.

Greatest Team?

Clemson has had some great teams over the years, including the 2002 club that finished tied for third at the College World Series and won 19 games against top-25 teams. The team, which won 54 games overall, hit .317 and had a 3.23 team ERA.

One way to measure greatness over a period of time is to determine the number of future Major League players on a given roster. Clemson's 1995 team has had six former players make it to the Majors, including current players Kris Benson (Pirates), Billy Koch (White Sox), and Matthew LeCroy (Twins). Others who played on the 1995 team who played in the Majors are Ken Vining (White Sox), Scott Winchester (Reds), and Shane Monahan (Mariners).

Heisman, John

The man whose name is most recognized with college football holds a unique distinction at Clemson. Many people know that he was the head football coach for four seasons at Clemson, as he posted a 19-3-1 record, still the best winning percentage in Clemson football history.

But he also served as the baseball coach at Clemson from 1901-03. Heisman, who was Clemson's second baseball coach, had a record of 28-6-1, good for an .814 winning percentage. It still holds today as the best winning percentage in Tiger history. Thus, Heisman has the winning-percentage record in baseball and football at Clemson.

In late 1903, Georgia Tech, who had suffered a 73-0 loss to Heisman's gridders that same season, offered the young coach $2,250 plus a percentage of the gate to coach football. Unfortunately for Clemson, he accepted.

Howard, Frank

Frank Howard is synonymous with Clemson football. But most people do not know that Howard was the baseball coach in 1943 and did quite well. He led the Tigers to a 12-3 record. The .800 winning percentage is one of the highest by any coach in Clemson baseball history.

The native of Barlow Bend, AL won 165 football games in 30 seasons at Clemson and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989. He served Clemson University for 65 years, including as the track coach from 1931-39 and as the athletic director from 1940-71, all the while being the school's best-known ambassador.

Howard died at the age of 86 on January 28, 1996. His ability to "bring the house down" when he spoke with his homespun oratory will forever be remembered by players, coaches, sportswriters, and fans alike.

IPTAY

IPTAY stands for "I Pay Ten a Year," the original name with a meaning deriving from the minimum contribution of its donors when the organization began in 1934. It is the Clemson athletic department's scholarship fundraising organization. The organization raised over $10 million and had over 23,000 members in 2002-03, records in both areas. The executive director of IPTAY is George Bennett. It is Bennett's second tour of duty as the organization's leader, as he held the post from 1971-80. He returned to his alma mater in the summer of 1994.

A few years ago, IPTAY added two new clubs to create an influx of youth into the organization. The Tiger Cub Club and Collegiate Club allow young and college-age Tigers to be a part of IPTAY. These two clubs are the largest of their kind in the country. Call (864) 656-2115 to reach the IPTAY office, located at the northwest corner of Memorial Stadium.

Legend of Clemson Baseball

For 36 seasons (1958-93), Bill Wilhelm led the Tiger program to 1,161 wins, making him the fifth-winningest coach in the history of college baseball at the time of his retirement. But perhaps the most amazing stat of all is that Wilhelm never had a losing season.

Heisman had a 19-3-1 record in four seasons as the Clemson football coach and a 28-6-1 record in three seasons as the Tiger baseball coach. Both marks still stand today as the best winning percentages in school history.

Wilhelm's coaching career spanned nine United States Presidents, from Dwight Eisenhower to Bill Clinton. He coached 100 players that signed professional contracts, 20 All-Americans, and 88 First-Team All-ACC players.

Wilhelm also coached Clemson teams to six College World Series appearances and 11 ACC Championships. No other ACC baseball coach has more than four ACC titles. He still comes to most of the games, unless he has a golf match he thinks he can win.

Believe us, there is nothing like watching a baseball game with Wilhelm. It is like going to Fenway Park or Wrigley Field. You have to do it at least once in your life. For more on the career of the legendary coach, see page 135.

Major League Draft, Active Tigers

Clemson has 11 current Tigers who have been drafted by a Major League team. The list includes current senior Steven Jackson, who has been drafted twice. The Tiger righty was taken in high school by the Devil Rays in the 38th round, then was drafted after his junior year at Clemson in the 32nd round by the Cleveland Indians.

Two current Tigers, junior Tyler Lumsden and sophomore Kris Harvey, were fifth-round selections after their high school careers. Three newcomers to the Clemson program were drafted in high school - Andy D'Alessio by the Reds in the 10th round in 2003, C.J. Gaddis by the Mariners in the 20th round in 2003, and Tony Sipp by the White Sox in the 33rd round in 2002.

NCAA Stat Champions

Clemson's rich tradition in baseball includes six different players who have led the nation in a statistical category. The six players have combined to win 14 statistical championships dating back to 1958.

That year, under first-year Head Coach Bill Wilhelm, Harold Stowe led the nation in victories (14), appearances (21), innings pitched (127.0), and strikeouts (126). Stowe went on to a professional career, playing for the Yankees in 1961. He threw batting practice to Roger Maris the day he hit his 61st home run to break Babe Ruth's single-season record.

Khalil Greene, unanimous national player-of-the-year in 2002, also led the nation in four categories in one season. He paced the nation in hits (134), doubles (33), total bases (250), and runs scored (93) during his incredible senior season when he hit a Tiger record .470 at the plate.

Here is a list of Clemson's NCAA stat champions through the years:

Year	Player	Stat	Figure
1958	Harold Stowe	Wins	14
	Harold Stowe	Appearances	21
	Harold Stowe	Innings Pitched	127.0
	Harold Stowe	Strikeouts	126
1965	Rusty Adkins	Toughest to Strikeout	0 in 126
1967	Rusty Adkins	Triples	7
1975	Denny Walling	RBIs/Game	1.58
1989	Brian Barnes	Strikeouts	208
1994	Shane Monahan	Runs Scored	97
	Shane Monahan	Hits	137
2002	Khalil Greene	Hits	134
	Khalil Greene	Doubles	33
	Khalil Greene	Runs Scored	93
	Khalil Greene	Total Bases	250

NCAA Tournament History

Clemson has been to an NCAA Regional 29 times in its history (sixth-most in NCAA history) dating to the 1947 season. That year, Clemson actually advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament, but it is not considered a College World Series season because only four teams went to Omaha in those days.

Clemson won the District III Tournament in Charlotte in 1947 by coming through the losers' bracket. The Tigers, coached by Randy Hinson, lost in the first round to Alabama 8-2, then came back with one win over Auburn and two wins over Alabama to advance to the next stage. Clemson's season ended when a Yale team, led by future President George Bush, defeated the Tigers in New Haven, CT (7-3). Bush was 1-for-3 as the starting first baseman for Yale that day.

Clemson made its first trip to the College World Series in 1958 when the Tigers again came through the losers' bracket. After losing to Florida in the first round, Clemson came back to defeat George Washington, Florida State, and Florida (twice) to advance under first-year Head Coach Bill Wilhelm. Clemson defeated Florida 15-14 and 3-1 on June 9 that year to advance. Harold Stowe struck out 17 batters in that second game on June 9, still a Clemson single-game record for strikeouts in an NCAA Tournament game.

The Tigers have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1987, making College World Series appearances in 1991, 1995, 1996, 2000, and 2002. That means Jack Leggett has taken Clemson to the College World Series four times in his 10 seasons.

Clemson's streak of 17 consecutive regional appearances is the third-longest active streak in the country, behind Miami (FL) (31) and Florida State (26). Clemson's streak of 17 in a row is the fifth-longest streak in college baseball history as well.

Orange & White

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant Sports Information Director Al Adams that is in its 26th academic year of issue. Adams is no longer with the paper, but you may soon see him on one of those insurance commercials, because he is the State Farm man of Forest City, NC.

The publication is going strong under Publisher Phil Batson. To contact Batson, call (864) 260-1230. It is now the official publication of IPTAY, replacing the IPTAY Report, which dated back to 1952.

Polls

Clemson is certainly no stranger to college baseball polls. In fact, it is a rare occurrence when Clemson does not show up in at least one of the three polls. Clemson had a streak of 146 weeks of being ranked in one of the major polls, a streak that ran from 1991 to 1999. Clemson was 407-138 (.747) over that span that lasted over eight years.

Clemson was back in the rankings in 2000, appearing in the top 25 of all three polls every week. Clemson was a unanimous top-10 team from March 13 through the final poll. Clemson continued the streak in 2001, making the ranking in every poll throughout the season.

It was a third-straight year in every poll in 2002. In fact, Clemson was in the top seven in every poll every week of 2002. Clemson was ranked #1 in all three polls from April 1 through May 19, a run of seven-straight polls. Clemson had a streak of 82 consecutive polls with a ranking in at least one of the three polls snapped with the publication of the final polls last June. Clemson had a streak of 72 straight weeks in all three polls snapped last year when Clemson was not ranked by Baseball America in its April 21 poll.

Clemson was first ranked #1 in the nation (in any poll) in 1977. The Tigers were tied for first in the nation with Hawaii on April 29, 1977 in the Collegiate Baseball poll. Clemson has been ranked #1 in the nation at least once during the 1994, 1995, 2000, and 2002 seasons.

Raleigh, NC

This ACC city has been the site of two of Clemson's most bizarre victories in history. On April 7,1979, Clemson scored 18 runs in the top of the ninth inning and defeated the Wolfpack by a score of 41-9. The 41 runs remains the most runs scored by one team in a game in ACC history.

Tiger Hall of Famer Neil Simons led the attack with three home runs and a school-record-tying 10 RBIs. He hit a grand slam during the 18-run ninth-inning. Robert Bonnette and Tony Masone each had five hits to pace the 27-hit attack. Every Clemson player in the order had at last one hit, one run scored, and one RBI. In fact, eight different players tallied at least three runs and seven had at least three RBIs.

Sixteen years and one week later (April 14, 1995), Clemson scored 11 runs in the top of the ninth inning and went on to a 17-15 victory in extra innings in Raleigh. It is the greatest deficit overcome to gain victory in Clemson history. Clemson trailed 15-4 entering the top of the ninth, then scored the 11 to tie the score, even after the leadoff batter in the inning was retired. Clemson scored twice in the 10th inning to gain victory. Future Major Leaguers Shane Monahan (three-run homer) and Matthew LeCroy (four RBIs) provided the big hits in the ninth frame. Another future Major Leaguer, Scott Winchester, earned the win in relief.

Regional Hosts

The 2002 season marked the ninth time in history that Clemson played host to an NCAA Regional at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Clemson has a 27-7 record in NCAA Tournament games played at home, including 22 wins in the last 25 games. One of the losses during that span came to Southern California, who defeated the Tigers 8-5 on May 23, 1998. That Trojan team went on to win the national championship.

Clemson first played host to an NCAA Regional in 1980. The Tigers swept through three games that year, including a 17-12 win over rival South Carolina that clinched Clemson's trip to Omaha.

Clemson has celebrated a trip to Omaha by winning a regional on its home field five times in history, including each of the last four times Clemson has advanced to the College World Series.

Clemson has played host to a regional in seven of the 10 years Jack Leggett has been the head coach. The Tigers have a 24-5 NCAA Tournament record at home under Leggett. The 1994 and 1998 seasons are the only years Clemson failed to advance from a regional played at home under Leggett.

Clemson did play an NCAA Tournament "play-in" game in 1954, but the official NCAA recordbook does not consider that to be an NCAA Tournament game. That year, Clemson lost to Virginia Tech 11-10 in a game at Clemson, then traveled to Blacksburg two days later and lost 7-1.

Uniform Uniqueness

Under legendary Head Coach Bill Wilhelm and up to today, Clemson has had a uniform uniqueness. The first aspect of the uniform stressed by Wilhelm was the word itself (uniform), which means "the same." Wilhelm wanted all his players to look consistent and not have different pant lengths, different colored undershirts, etc. So he, with the help of some ideas from players and coaches, came up with aspects of uniforms that have stuck.

Wilhelm came up with the idea of wearing white shoes from Joe Lutz, who was the coach at Southern Illinois in the 1960s. Lutz was also the first to have female bat girls. Wilhelm liked those ideas and the two have been with the Tiger baseball program ever since.

But perhaps the most synonymous part of Tiger baseball is the long pants. Clemson was one of the first schools to wear non-wool uniforms. The Tigers wore nylon uniforms starting in the 1968 season. This and having the long pants was done from the advice of a former Big Leaguer's (Rick Rickardt's) father, who was a doctor. Wilhelm read an article by Dr. Rickardt saying how there was so much pressure being put around the upper portion of the lower leg due to wrapping rubber bands to keep players' socks from falling and having the elastic around the bottom of the pant legs.

A few years later, Bill Foley, a catcher at Clemson in the mid-1970s, had just returned from a tournament in Japan. He had received a pair of long pants from Rawlings and wore them to practice one day before the 1976 season. Foley liked the nylon stretched pants and Wilhelm followed suit. Wilhelm liked how the pants did not have a zipper and how they were custom-made. He also liked that players could wear low socks, and how that saved time and money from using the customary sanitary socks. Wilhelm decided to experiment with the long pants in the 1976 and 1977 seasons, and changed over to them permanently in 1978.

Since then, Clemson has had a tradition of wearing white pants for all games, home and away, much to the chagrin of equipment managers.

Walk-Off Hits

Clemson has had a flair for the dramatic under Head Coach Jack Leggett. No less than 23 times in his 10 years at Clemson, a Tiger has had a walk-off, game-winning hit. It happened five times in 2003, including consecutive games with a walk-off, three-run home run. Last year, Michael Johnson hit a three-run, walk-off home run to beat East Tennessee State. Then, three days later, Brad McCann hit a three-run, walk-off home run to best Georgia Tech by the score of 9-7. Russell Triplett, Steve Pyzik, and Garrick Evans also had walk-off, game-winning hits in 2003, meaning five different Tigers pulled off the clutch hit that season. It was the most walk-off, game-winning hits in one season in Leggett's 10 years at Clemson.

Including last year, six times the game-winning, game-ending hit under Leggett has been a home run. Jeff Baker did it in 2002 in dramatic fashion against Winthrop to give Clemson a 6-4 victory. That blast culminated quite a night for Baker (Clemson's career home run leader), as it was his third home run of the night. He became the first Clemson player to hit three home runs in a game and have the final long ball be a game-winner. Baker was also the first Tiger to hit three home runs in one game at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

Clemson has had 18 walk-off home runs in its history. The list is shown below:

Bill Wilhelm created many of the traditions for Clemson baseball, including the long white pants and white shoes.

Wins Over #1

Clemson's win over top-ranked Florida State in Tallahassee on April 10, 1999 was the ninth time in Tiger baseball history that Clemson upset a #1-ranked team, and the first since the 1996 College World Series, when Clemson defeated #1-ranked Alabama. All nine wins over the #1 team have taken place away from Clemson. Current Head Coach Jack Leggett has four of the nine wins over the #1 team, while former Clemson Head Coach Bill Wilhelm has the other five.

The nine victories over top-ranked teams by the Clemson baseball program are more than any other sport in Tigertown.

World Series Champions & All-Stars

Clemson has had four different former players win Major League World Series Championship rings. The first to do it was Flint Rhem, who was a member of the Saint Louis Cardinals, champions of 1926 and 1931. Rhem was a pitcher who had a 20-7 overall record during the 1926 season, the most wins by a National League pitcher that year.

Tim Teufel was a member of the New York Mets in the 1986 season, the year they defeated the Boston Red Sox to win the World Series Championship. He hit .247 for the Mets that year in 93 games. Teufel played over 1,000 games in his Major League career.

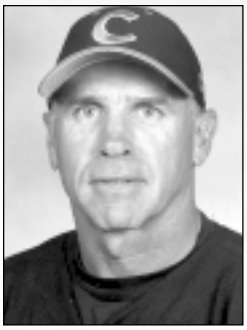
Mark Davidson gave the Tigers a World Series Champion two years in a row when he played on the Minnesota team that won it all in 1987. Davidson played in 102 games and hit .267 that season, his second year in the Majors.

Jimmy Key has had the most impressive World Series career of all the former Tigers. He played on the 1992 Toronto Blue Jay and the 1996 New York Yankee teams that won the World Series. He holds the distinction of being the only player in baseball to gain the clinching victory in two different World Series in the 1990s. He was 2-0 in the 1992 World Series, winning games four and six, the latter in relief. He was 3-1 with a 2.50 ERA during his World Series career.

Clemson has had two former players participate in the Major League All-Star game. Billy O'Dell, a star pitcher for Clemson in the 1950s, is the only former Tiger to earn MVP honors at the All-Star game. He earned the victory and pitched 3.0 scoreless innings in the 1958 game in Baltimore, MD. He was a member of the Orioles at the time, so that was quite a special afternoon. O'Dell also played in the 1959 All-Star game.

Key is the other former Tiger to play in an All-Star game. Key was chosen four different seasons, including 1985, his rookie year. He was also chosen in 1991, 1993, and 1994. He is second to Michael Dean Perry in Clemson athletic history in terms of All-Star game selections at the professional level. Perry played in six Pro Bowls in his career as an NFL football player.

Head Coach Jack Leggett



Jack Leggett is no stranger to success. In just 10 seasons, he has led Clemson to 473 wins (more than 47 per season), 10 NCAA Tournament appearances, and four College World Series berths. Clemson is the fourth-winningest program in college baseball during his time as head coach.

The enthusiastic mentor, who turns 50 on March 5 when Clemson plays at College of Charleston, has not built up that win total against easy competition. Of his 473 victories, 119 (over 25 percent) have come against teams ranked in the top 25 of at least one of the three major polls heading into the game. He also already has 64 victories over top-10 teams and 36 wins in NCAA Tournament competition.

The South Burlington, VT native has been with the Clemson program since the 1992 season. He served as recruiting coordinator and assistant head coach under Bill Wilhelm in 1992 and 1993. He was a major contributor to a pair of Clemson teams that were ranked in the final top 20 of every poll and advanced to two NCAA Regionals. The Tigers also won the ACC Tournament title in 1993.

The word "championship" is also in the lexicon of terms when summarizing Leggett's first 10 years as the head coach in Tigertown. In 1994, Clemson won the ACC regular-season championship and went on to win the tournament title as well. In 1995, the Tigers repeated as regular-season conference champions and won the NCAA East Regional title. The 1996 season brought Clemson another NCAA Regional title and a second consecutive berth to the College World Series. In 1999, Clemson won four games in two days to capture the Fayetteville (AR) Regional.

The Tigers also won regional championships in 2000, 2001, and 2002. Clemson is one of just a handful of schools to make it to the Super Regional round in four of the five years of its existence. Leggett also guided Clemson to the College World Series in 2000 and 2002.

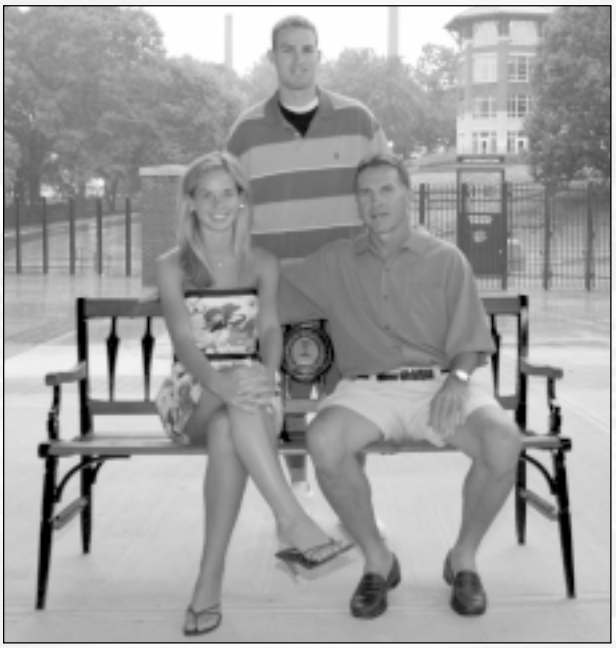
Clemson has won at least 39 games for 18 straight seasons and has participated in an NCAA Regional for 17 years in a row. Also, five of the 10 seasons have seen the Tigers finish in the top 10 of all three major polls, and there has been at least one top-25 final ranking in nine of the 10 seasons under Leggett.

For his accomplishments, Leggett was named ACC Coach-of-the-Year in his first two seasons (1994,95). He is just one of a few coaches in the history of the ACC, regardless of sport, to be named ACC Coach-of-the-Year in each of his first two seasons in the league.

Leggett's demeanor is one of aggressiveness and passion for the game. One can see Leggett sprinting to the third-base coaching box between innings and charging into the pregame huddle to get his players fired up. Leggett expects the same intensity and has gotten that out of his players.

Leggett's Tigers have shown excellence in all areas of the game over his 10 seasons. Leggett's first year as Clemson's head coach was truly remarkable. The 1994 campaign was filled with unprecedented accomplishments. With just three starters returning in the field, Clemson was unranked in the preseason top 20, but the Tigers quickly reached the top 20 of every poll with a two-game sweep of a top-10 Tennessee team. Those were the first two of 19 wins over top-25 teams in 1994, a Clemson single-season record that the 2002 team tied.

The 1994 Tigers won a record 13 straight conference games to open the season and concluded the year with a 20-4 ACC ledger, a league record for conference wins in a season. That was quite an accomplishment considering the ACC had the #1-RPI ranking in college baseball that season. Clemson also had a 57-18 overall record thanks to an outstanding pitching staff that ranked in the top 25 in the nation in ERA.



Jack Leggett with daughter Colby (18) and son Tanner (20).

After two wins over Miami (FL) in April, 1994, Clemson ascended to the #1 ranking in the nation according to Collegiate Baseball. The ranking was just the second #1 ranking in Tiger baseball history. Seven times in 1994, Clemson defeated a team ranked in the top three in the nation.

Leggett's Tigers won the 1994 ACC regular-season championship, then captured the ACC Tournament by gaining victory in four games against top-20 teams. It was just the fifth time in Clemson history that the Tigers captured the regular-season and ACC Tournament titles in the same year. Clemson was rewarded as a regional host for the first time in 14 years as a result.

Clemson was eliminated in the NCAA Regional, but still concluded the 1994 season as the nation's winningest team. The Tigers' 57 victories ranked second in ACC history. All of this against a schedule ranked in the nation's top five. The summer following the 1994 season, Leggett was chosen to the University of Maine Hall of Fame.

In 1995, his Tigers had a 54-14 record, due in part to an offense that ranked in the top 10 in the nation in scoring (8.4 runs per game). The team also had six players who would go on to play in the Major Leagues. In 1996, the season ended with the Tiger pitching staff owning the best ERA (3.03) in the nation. With a record of 51-17, Clemson was fourth in the nation in wins.

The 1996 team also produced eight Major League draft choices, with seven of those going in the first 17 rounds. Included in those selections were pitchers Kris Benson, the first pick overall, and Billy Koch, the fourth pick overall. It was only the second time in the history of the draft, which dates back to 1965, that one school produced two of the first five picks.

In 1998, Clemson reached as high as #3 in the nation and finished the season as high as #19. Leggett also reached the 600-career-win plateau during the 1998 season. Ironically, he got his 600th win against his alma mater (Maine).

In 1999, Clemson was 6-6 against top-10 teams, even though just one of the 12 games was played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

In 2000, the Tigers traveled back to Omaha for the first time in four seasons. Clemson went 1-2 at the College World Series after sweeping its way through the regional and super regional rounds, which were both played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. The Tigers climbed to the #1 ranking by Collegiate Baseball after opening the season 23-3. Clemson ended the season with a 51-18 record overall and finished second in the ACC behind Georgia Tech. Clemson claimed 14 wins over top-25 teams, 11 of which were against teams ranked in the top 10.

The 2001 season saw Leggett and his team triumph over adversity. The Tigers suffered a five-game losing streak and the unexpected loss of seniors Patrick Boyd and Mike Proto to injury. But Clemson finished second in the ACC and was a step away from the College World Series before being eliminated by eventual National Champion Miami (FL).

Playing Experience: Four-year letterman (baseball) at Maine (1973-76); three-year letterman (football) at Maine (1974-76)
Coaching Experience: Head coach at Vermont (1978-82); head coach at Western Carolina (1983-91); assistant head coach at Clemson (1992,93); head coach at Clemson (1994-present)
Family: Son, Tanner (20), and daughter, Colby (18)

The 2002 season saw Leggett receive region Coach-of-the-Year honors by the American Baseball Coaches Association, as the Tigers were 54-17 and finished tied for third in the nation in Omaha. That team also featured eight draft picks, including unanimous National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene. Greene set the national career record for doubles (93) and placed second in hits (403).

Clemson is the fourth-winningest program in the country in Jack Leggett's 10 seasons as head coach in Tigertown. He has averaged over 47 wins a year and taken the Tigers to 10 NCAA Tournaments.

In 2003, Clemson continued to win close games, as the Tigers were 15-5 in games decided by two runs or less. Michael Johnson went from undrafted out of high school to a second-round pick, as he finished his career with 58 career homers, ranking second in school history. All four starting infielders also garnered First or Second-Team All-ACC honors.

Heading into 2004, Leggett has 850 career wins. He also has a stellar 57-30 record against SEC teams as the Tiger head coach, including a 35-9 record at home. He has lost just two of 40 home ACC series while at Clemson as well. Leggett has been proving his expertise in recruiting for many years. But he also has experience in terms of teaching the finer points and game management.

Prior to his move to Clemson, Leggett served as a head coach for 14 years, five at Vermont and nine at Western Carolina. He already had 377 career wins, 302 at Western Carolina and 75 at Vermont, before he came to Clemson. Leggett enters the 2004 season with a career record of 850-484, six conference titles, and 15 NCAA Tournament appearances on his resumé. So far, 50 of the players Leggett has brought to Tigertown have signed professional baseball contracts.

Leggett led Western Carolina to five NCAA Tournaments (1985-89), five Southern Conference titles, and a national top-30 ranking during his tenure as head coach. His 1988 team set the school record for wins, posting a 38-24 record, while the 1989 squad set a conference record by winning its fifth-consecutive Southern Conference title. Under his guidance, the Catamounts averaged 33 wins a season during his time in Cullowhee, NC, and his teams played in the conference title game in eight of the nine seasons.

The 1991 Catamounts posted a 36-26 record. One of the 36 wins came in a 9-7 win over Clemson on March 31, one of just 10 losses the #4 Tigers had that season. Leggett was named the 1987 Division I Atlantic Region Coach-of-the-Year by the American Baseball Coaches Association and was also named the Southern Conference Coach-of-the-Year that same season. In 1989, he was appointed to the NCAA Division I Baseball Committee and served on the committee through the 1995 season.

In his tenure at Western Carolina, Leggett produced 35 First-Team All-Southern Conference players, six conference players-of-the-year, and had 16 players sign professional contracts. Of the players who played under Leggett for four seasons, 100 percent graduated, and better than 50 percent compiled a 3.00-or-better grade point average. He was inducted into the Western Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame in 2001.

Before going to Western Carolina for the 1983 season, Leggett spent five seasons at Vermont, where he turned that team into a consistent winner from day one. He coached the Vermont club team in 1977, and then organized and coached the school's first intercollegiate team in 1978. At age 23, he was the youngest NCAA baseball coach in the nation. He had a winning season in his first year and had a 75-61 overall record at Vermont.

Leggett graduated with honors from Maine in 1976, where he was an all-star performer in both football and baseball. He captained the 1976 Maine team that advanced to the College World Series, and was a two-time All-Yankee Conference selection in football as a defensive back and placekicker. He still holds the Maine record for the longest field goal, a 52 yarder.

Leggett has two children - Tanner (8-12-83) and Colby (10-21-85). Tanner is a red-shirt freshman middle infielder on the 2004 Tiger baseball squad.

Coaches Who Have Influenced Him

"Obviously, I admire Bill Wilhelm. He has taught me so much. I will never forget him for giving me this opportunity.

"I had some great coaches at Maine. Jack Butterfield was a tremendous coach for me and also John Winkin. Walter Abbot was my football coach at Maine and he taught me a lot about mental toughness. Jack Bicknell was also a football coach who influenced me.

"Paul Jordan was my high school football coach. He taught me what it takes to be a winner and taught me about the benefits of self-sacrifice, how to be organized, and how to prepare for a game. The former athletic director at Vermont (Rick Farnham) is also a coach whom I've drawn a lot from."

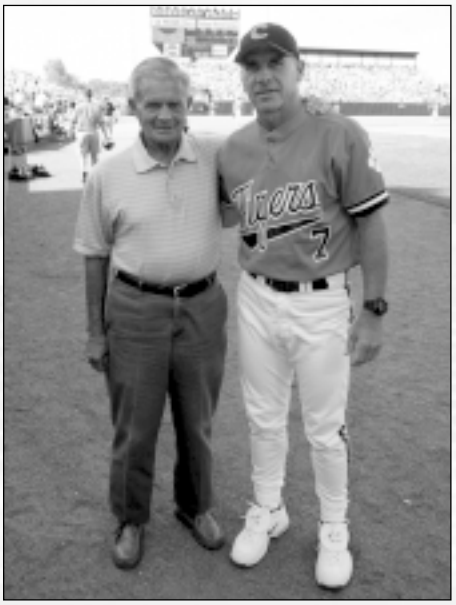
Doug Kingsmore Stadium

"Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the top baseball facilities in the country. I am certainly prejudiced, but I think we have the finest facility in the nation when you take into account the players, the fans, the media, and the support personnel.

"We have some unique features in our ballpark, with the terrace and the close proximity of the fans to the field. But the greatest feature is the fan support. We have ranked in the top 20 in the country in average attendance each of the last 10 years. Our fans make it an exciting atmosphere for our players. We have a season-ticket base of over 1,800 fans, so there is strong support for this program in the community."

Goals for the Program

"We strive to go to Omaha every year...that is our standard. We put 'Omaha' on the backs of our caps, because I want our players to know every day at practice and for every game what we are striving for. We end all our team huddles before games by saying 'Omaha.'



John Winkin, Leggett's coach at Maine in 1975 and 1976, was in attendance to watch Clemson in the 2002 College World Series. He has also been the NCAA Representative for multiple NCAA Regionals held at Clemson.

"We are actually changing that goal. We want to get to Omaha, but now we want to do more than just get there; we want to win a national championship. The more times you get there, the more experienced you get, and the more you want to stay there and win the College World Series. We reached the final four teams two years ago. Experience plays a great role in how you do.

"Our daily goals are to play at a national championship level. We strive to exhibit the discipline necessary in everything we do to win the national championship. We talk about it...we don't hide that."

Heroes

"Roberto Clemente was my favorite player of all-time. I respected the way he played. He played so hard all the time. I watched him play in person and I thought he was everything you wanted in a baseball player.

"My biggest heroes are my parents. My father was a coach for almost 40 years. I learned a lot just being around his teams. My mother was always so supportive and was at all the games. She has also been like a coach in my life. Any positive things I do I owe to them."

National Aspect of the Tiger Program

"We have seen a lot of players from all over the country come to Clemson in recent years. We have some geographic diversity on this team.

"That is part of the college experience, coming to a university and meeting people from all over the country. The entire process helps a young man mature.

"This is a great place to play baseball. People are coming to this program because it has become a national program. Players who have come here from far away have seen that the we care about baseball, and that players go on to be successful in the professional ranks or their chosen field."

Philosophies of Baseball

"I like to play a very aggressive game offensively and defensively. You have to take the action to the opposition and force the other team into mistakes. I like to hit-and-run, bunt, squeeze, steal bases, and be aggressive on the basepaths. I am not a coach who likes to sit back for the big inning. This year's team will have to succeed in the fundamentals. We will have to situation-hit and move runners along, more than we have done in recent years when we set the school record for home runs.

"Consistency on defense is very important. It all begins on the mound. You can tell in our recruiting that this is an area we stress, because that is what carries teams to the NCAA Tournament."

Playing Experiences

"I enjoyed my college baseball experience at Maine. I was fortunate to play in the College World Series in 1976. It was a memorable time. Clemson was also at that College World Series. I can tell you who we played, what the score was, players on the other teams, what I did in each at bat, the player introductions, what hotel we stayed in, and the plane we took to get there.

"Having been there as a player and seen what a great experience it was, it motivates me to make that happen for our players.

"The college game has changed considerably in terms of exposure, and the emphasis it receives at the local and national level. Players are better, and as a result the professional ranks look to the college players much more than they used to. The pros are drafting more college players than they did when I was in college and becoming more comfortable signing a player from college compared to high school, because of the overall maturity factor."

Rewards of Being Clemson's Head Coach

"The most rewarding aspect of this job is being around the players. I am always thinking about ways to make their game better, but also try to make their lives better off the field. I am concerned in everything they do, from on the field, to academics, to social life. I try to do what I can in all areas of their lives to help them make the right decisions. That is what college coaching is all about. I am a teacher. I am aware that the lessons they learn here will be carried with them the rest of their lives.

"Second, every day I work with a great coaching staff. It is rewarding to have such a strong staff that is dedicated to excelling in this profession. We have common goals and we mesh very well. We trust each other and that is important.

"Third, it is rewarding to have a university administration and fans that support this program. When we run a regional and we see university administrators, secretaries, and other employees from all over campus contribute their time and energy, it is very rewarding. I never take that for granted.

"Fourth is the challenge that you have in your job, the challenge to make your players better in all phases of their lives. That includes maturing as a player, mentally and physically. It is rewarding to see your players grow and improve to the point where they have a chance to play professionally. Obviously, seeing Kris Benson going from an undrafted player out of high school to the #1 pick in the Major League Draft was a rewarding experience.

"We have had a lot of players come here out of high school who were not drafted and leave as a drafted player with a chance to play in the Major Leagues. Watching Khalil Greene improve to the point where he was the unanimous national player-of-the-year was very rewarding.

"You make a commitment during the recruiting process to a student-athlete that you will help them improve in all phases of their experience at Clemson. It is very rewarding to see our players grow academically, socially, and on the field."

Selling Points of the Clemson Program

"First of all, we have a great tradition at Clemson. If a young man wants to get involved in a program that strives to go to Omaha and has a goal of winning the national championship, this is the place to be. That has been the case here for many years. We have now been to the College World Series four of the last nine years and 10 different years overall. It is a program that has not had a losing season since 1957 and has been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1987.

"In every good program, you have a strong tradition. We are fortunate that Bill Wilhelm set that tradition for us. He coached here 36 years and never had a losing season. I don't see anyone duplicating that feat in college baseball.

"I was a history minor in college at Maine, so I know how important that aspect is to a program. He brought it great stability. Every day I appreciate what he did for me and what he did for this baseball program.

"We saw the impact of that tradition this past fall when we had a reunion of all former Clemson baseball players. It was one of the most rewarding weekends of my professional career. We had former players from seven different decades return to Clemson for an alumni game. We had former Major League players and walk-ons who all had a common bond for this program. It is one of the strengths of this program and this University.

"Second, we have the facilities and the administrative backing to compete for the national championship. That is something I would be looking for as a player. Doug Kingsmore Stadium is one of the top facilities in the country. We finished a multi-million-dollar renovation to the stadium last year that I believe makes it the best college baseball stadium in the nation. It has been accomplished in a first-class manner in every aspect.

"Third, we have a tradition of playing host to regionals at Clemson, and that means we have fan support. You don't host regionals without drawing sellout crowds. The people in this community really embrace this program.

"Fourth, Vickery Hall, our student-athlete enrichment center, is among the best in the country. The programs at Vickery Hall show that Clemson cares about its student-athletes in all phases of his or her life. Any student-athlete at Clemson knows he or she has the chance to be successful in the classroom and graduate from Clemson. Vickery Hall is one of our top selling points.

"We have tremendous structure in our study-hall program. There is tradition in academics here as well. We have had academic All-Americans, and we average 15 players a semester on the ACC Academic Honor Roll."

Starting the Program at Vermont

"I first went to Vermont in 1977 to coach the club team. I was paid a stipend to coach players who were already on campus. In the summer of 1977, the program was elevated to Division I status and I was named the head coach at the age of 23, the youngest coach in the country.

"I had to learn about budgets, scheduling, and practice organization in a hurry. I had no assistant coaches, so it was quite a crash course. It was odd, because I was coaching some players who were older than I was. It was a great challenge, but it was a great opportunity to be exposed to all of that at a young age.

"We had some success and we earned the respect of the campus, because the team also did well academically. It was a great place to start. The players on that first team were special and many of them are my friends for life."

Support From the Administration

"Clemson University was chosen the top public university in the nation by Time Magazine in 2001. That speaks volumes about this institution. That award has brought considerable attention to Clemson and the quality of our education.

"We are very lucky to have President Jim Barker leading our University. He is a dynamic leader who certainly is interested in college athletics. He is a former Tiger athlete who comes to our games and supports our program. He has a keen understanding of the impact athletics can have on a university landscape. He is a very competitive person himself.

"The support of the University administration is unique here. When we play host to a regional, everyone gets involved. We have university officials serve as ticket-takers and ushers. Whenever I see my old coach from Maine (Winkin), he reminds me how lucky I am in that regard. He has never seen a university community support a program like we do at Clemson."

Associate Head Coach Kevin O'Sullivan

Kevin O'Sullivan is in his sixth season as the Tigers' pitching coach. He was also promoted to the position of associate head coach in 2002. O'Sullivan handles the duty of recruiting coordinator as well. He has been a part of five NCAA Tournament teams and two College World Series squads while in Tigertown. O'Sullivan, who has made two instructional pitching videos, has also seen 15 of his Tiger pitchers sign professional contracts in his five seasons.

In his first season with the Clemson program, "Sully" fine-tuned Mike Paradis from having control problems his first two seasons to a first-round pick in 1999. He helped Ryan Mottl go 10-4 in 2000 and total 33 career wins at Clemson, the third most in school history. Those totals helped Mottl become a sixth-round pick by the Cincinnati Reds.

Under the guidance of O'Sullivan in 2001, Tiger pitchers had a 2.27 strikeout-to-walk ratio, fourth best in school history. One of his pitchers, Steve Reba, led the ACC in wins in 2001 with a 12-3 record. Clemson has ranked among national leaders in team ERA each of the last four seasons, and his ability to work with and develop young pitchers has been praised by Head Coach Jack Leggett.

He followed up 2001 with a 2002 season that saw Reba and Matt Henrie shine. They both had 13 wins and both earned All-America honors. O'Sullivan helped mold Reba and Henrie into a formidable one-two punch that led the Tigers to a third-place national finish. Henrie was drafted in the seventh round after going undrafted out of high school.

The 2002 team also featured B.J. LaMura, a hard-throwing righthander who was instrumental in Clemson's late-season surge. LaMura was a fifth-round draft pick, giving Clemson five pitchers from the 2002 squad who signed a Major League contract. And that total does not include Jarrod Schmidt, who had an 18-3 career record at Clemson and signed as well. The 2002 team also set an ACC record for saves (26) in a season.

The 2003 team did not have any stars, but all five Tigers with at least 36.0 innings pitched had an ERA between 3.19 and 4.30.

The Jupiter, FL native spent the 1998 season with the Minnesota Twins' Rookie League team in Fort Myers, FL, where he was responsible for the development of the team's pitchers. He helped that team reach the league playoffs for the first time.

O'Sullivan was the pitching coach at Virginia in the 1996 and 1997 seasons. Most noticeably, he coached All-America and first-round draft pick Seth Greisenger. The 1996 Cavalier team won its first-ever ACC Tournament Championship thanks to the tutelage of O'Sullivan. That team also finished 44-21. He coached a total of three pitchers in the two seasons that were drafted in the top five rounds, including a first, second, and fifth-round pick to go along with a 14th-round selection in 1997. O'Sullivan, who helped in the recruitment of student-athletes at Virginia, coached players picked in the third and 44th rounds in 1997 as well.

His talents were noticed in the summer of 1996 and 1997, when he coached in the Valley League and the Cape Cod League, respectively. O'Sullivan coached the Bourne Braves to the second-best overall record in the Cape while garnering manager-of-the-year honors. He also coached former Tiger lefthander Chris Heck and Major League star lefthander Mark Mulder in the summer of 1997. On that staff alone, eight pitchers were drafted.

In the summer of 1996, while coaching Waynesboro of the Valley League, he managed his team to the pennant and was manager-of-the-year, meaning he earned that honor both years as a head coach in the summer leagues. He also coached 14 players in the two summers who were drafted, including two first-rounders.

O'Sullivan coached at Florida Atlantic in the 1994 and 1995 seasons. He was responsible for the hitters, catchers, infielders, and outfielders.

In 1992 and 1993, he was an assistant at Florida Community College in Jacksonville, FL, where he was the hitting and catching instructor.

In two years at Virginia and five at Clemson, O'Sullivan has coached 20 pitchers who have been drafted or signed professional contracts. This list includes two first-rounders, six top-five-rounders, nine top-10-rounders, and four All-Americans. It is no wonder Leggett chose him to maintain Clemson's tradition of producing All-America pitchers.

O'Sullivan graduated from Virginia with a bachelor of science degree (with honors) in education/sports medicine in 1991. He was a member of Virginia's Captain Council and Student-Athlete Mentor Program. In 1995, he received a masters degree in exercise science & wellness from Florida Atlantic.

O'Sullivan starred for Virginia as a catcher in 1990 and 1991, where he hit a combined .351. He was a First-Team All-ACC and All-ACC Tournament selection both seasons. He made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1990 as well. O'Sullivan also played for Florida Community College in the 1988 and 1989 seasons.

O'Sullivan and wife Vicki have a dog, Jake. O'Sullivan was born Dec. 27, 1968 in Goshen, NY.

Leggett Comments

"I continue to think he's the best pitching coach in the country. I like his enthusiasm for the game. His knowledge base is extremely strong. He has a great competitive spirit and high expectations. He's very loyal to the kids who work so hard for him. He's one of those guys who has a great overall knowledge of everything that's going on out in the field. The mental approach of pitching, along with the physical approach, are his strengths as a coach. He's a great recruiter and tremendously hard worker. He has to be one of the top recruiters in the country. He's a great detail guy. His follow-up skills in recruiting are tremendous. He's a tremendous pitching coach, and he's my right-hand man."

Assistant Head Coach Tom Riginos

Clemson Head Baseball Coach Jack Leggett announced the addition of Tom Riginos to the coaching staff prior to the 2003 season. Riginos (pronounced rih-JEEN-uhs) replaced Tim Corbin, who became head coach at Vanderbilt in June of 2002, as Clemson's hitting and outfielders' coach. Riginos carries the title of assistant head coach in his second season in Tigertown.

Riginos, who will turn 36 on April 5, coached nine seasons at Stetson as the Hatters' recruiting coordinator from 1994-02, where he also coached the hitters and outfielders. He was responsible for all aspects of the Stetson Junior Varsity team as well. While at Stetson, he recruited eight classes that gained national recognition. His 2002 class included three all-state performers and three prospects from the Central Florida area. Riginos also recruited six All-Americans and six freshman All-Americans during his tenure with the Hatter program.

Riginos has continued the Tigers' recent success of recruiting top talent from the state of Florida, including the unanimous 2002 National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene (Key West). Matt Henrie (Jupiter), a 2002 All-ACC pitcher, and 1999 All-America outfielder Patrick Boyd (Palm Harbor) were also celebrated recruits from Florida. Riginos was a big reason the Tigers signed Andy D'Alessio, a 10th-round draft pick in the 2003 Major League Draft. D'Alessio is also rated as the fifth-best freshman in the nation by Baseball America.

In his first season as the hitting coach at Clemson, the Tigers hit .309 and sported a consistent lineup from top to bottom. All four starting infielders were named First or Second-Team All-ACC. The Tigers also led the conference in batting average (.326) in regular-season ACC games, 19 points higher than the second-place team (Georgia Tech).

As hitting coach at Stetson, Riginos led the 2001 Hatter squad to a .324 batting average and a school-record 78 home runs. That team also was ranked 24th nationally in batting average, 12th in slugging percentage, and 19th in home runs per game.

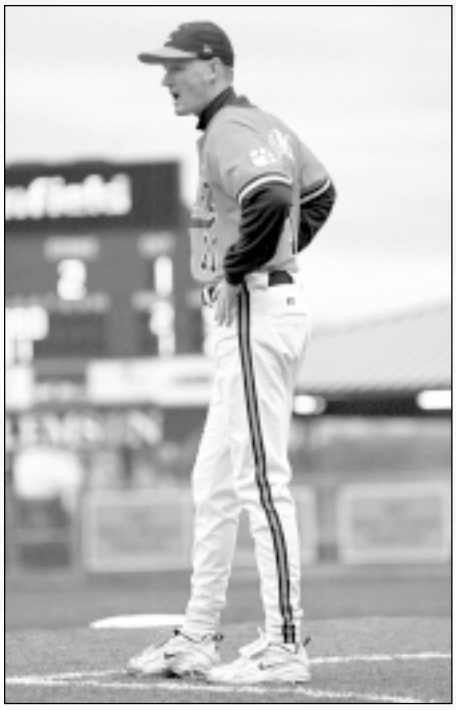
Riginos coached four All-Americans and four of the top hitters in Stetson history, including shortstop Kevin Nicholson, catcher Sammy Serrano, outfielder Frank Corr, and catcher Chris Westervelt. Under his guidance, all four won conference player-of-the-year honors along with multiple All-America accolades.

Nicholson was drafted by San Diego in the first round of the 1997 draft and made his Major League debut with the Padres in June, 2001. Serrano batted a school-record .457 in 1998 and was chosen in the second round that same year by the Giants' organization.

Corr set school and conference records for career doubles (79), home runs (53), RBIs (258), and total bases (562). He also broke six single-season school records during the 2000 season when he batted .431 with 34 doubles, 18 home runs, and 98 RBIs. Westervelt had a .403 batting average with 18 homers and was a first-team Academic All-American.

Leggett Comments

"Tom has done a great job with our outfielders and our hitters. He's certainly dedicated and very loyal to our baseball program. He has a great knowledge base and is a hard worker. He's a detail and organizational coach who has really meant a great deal to our office and to our skills out on the baseball field. We're very happy to have him involved in our program. He spends a lot of time with our hitters and puts in the extra hours. I think the players have a great deal of respect for what Tom brings to our program."



Tom Riginos is in his second season with the Clemson program, serving as the assistant head coach and hitting instructor.

Shaileen and Tom Riginos with twin daughters Alexandra and Grace (3).

Riginos is no stranger to the Tiger program and Doug Kingsmore Stadium, as Stetson visited Clemson for a three-game series in 1998, with Clemson coming away with a three-game sweep in the weekend series.

Prior to his nine seasons at Stetson, Riginos spent two seasons as the top assistant coach and as a graduate assistant coach at Eastern Kentucky in Richmond, KY. He helped coach the Colonels to an Ohio Valley Conference second-place finish in 1992 while serving as the team's hitting and outfield coach. Prior to his stint at Eastern Kentucky, Riginos spent one season on the coaching staff at his high school alma mater, Countryside High in Clearwater, FL.

Riginos was a four-year letterman for the Hatters between the 1987 and 1990 seasons, and helped Stetson to three NCAA Regional appearances and three Trans America Athletic Conference championships. He played in 225 games during his career and hit .279, while finishing as one of the top stolen-base leaders in Hatter history with 61. Riginos was also a team captain during the 1990 season.

The native of Clearwater, FL earned his bachelor of arts degree in sports administration from Stetson in 1990. He later earned a master of science degree in physical education/sports administration from Eastern Kentucky in 1993, where he had a 3.36 GPA. Riginos is married to the former Shaileen Kelley. The couple has twin girls, Alexandra and Grace, born November 22, 2000. Tom also has a son, Ben (16). Riginos was born April 5, 1968 in Tampa, FL.

Assistant Coach Bradley LeCroy

Bradley LeCroy is his second season with the Tiger coaching staff in 2004. LeCroy will again serve as a volunteer coach, working primarily with infielders and hitters.

Although he has only coached for a short time, he has built an impressive resumé. The 2003 season was his first coaching at Clemson, his alma mater. The Tigers had a .326 team batting average in ACC regular-season games, the best mark in the ACC by 19 points. The .969 fielding percentage also ranks second-best in Tiger history.

LeCroy coached four all-conference players in 2003, all of which comprised the Tigers' starting infield. Included in that list are current Tigers Brad McCann (3B) and Russell Triplett (SS). Former Tigers Michael Johnson (1B) and David Slevin (2B) also earned All-ACC honors as infielders during the 2003 season.

LeCroy also coached in the Valley League in 2003, as an assistant coach for the New Market Rebels in Virginia. The Rebels were the Valley League runner-up after compiling a 31-18 record. The 31 wins were a franchise record. He coached eight all-stars on the Rebels' squad. Included among those all-stars was Most Valuable Pitcher Phil Bartleski of William & Mary. LeCroy also worked closely with Kevin White of Presbyterian College, who was the league homer and RBI champion.

LeCroy, 26, was an assistant coach at nearby Anderson College in 2001 and 2002. In 2001, he coached David Mattox, who was drafted in the 11th round by the New York Mets and was named Minor League Pitcher-of-the-Year in the Mets' organization in 2002. In 2002, the Trojans led the Division II ranks with 41 triples. LeCroy coached three all-conference players during his time at Anderson College.

During both summers of 2001 and 2002, he was the head coach of the Williamston American Legion team of Williamston, SC. Both teams played in the state legion playoffs. In all, he has had three players drafted and seven players signed to professional contracts in just three years of coaching.

Leggett Comments

"Bradley LeCroy does an excellent job as our volunteer coach. He's been given a lot of responsibility with our hitters and infielders. He's involved with game management and office work. He's in charge of on-campus recruiting. He's taken the ball and run with it, and done an excellent job in the process. He's an excellent coach and he knows the system well, having played here for four years. We couldn't be happier to have Bradley LeCroy around every day."

Education: Bachelor's degree in education at Clemson (2001)
Playing Experience: Four-year letterman at Clemson (1997-00)
Coaching Experience: Assistant coach at Anderson (SC) College (2001,02); head coach of Williamston (SC) American Legion (2001,02); assistant coach at Clemson (2003-present)
Family: Single

LeCroy, no relation to former Tiger great and current Minnesota Twin catcher Matthew LeCroy, earned four letters at Clemson from 1997-00. He was a valuable utility player who hit .266 in 173 career games and 395 at-bats. He was the everyday starting shortstop on the 1999 team that came one inning from making it to the College World Series. LeCroy was the starting shortstop, while Khalil Greene was the starting third baseman on that 1999 squad. LeCroy was also a member of Clemson's 2000 College World Series team and a member of four NCAA Tourney teams as a Tiger.

LeCroy earned his bachelor's degree in education from Clemson in May, 2001. LeCroy (pronounced lee-CROY) was a three-sport star at Walhalla High School, earning all-state honors in baseball, basketball, and football. He was born February 1, 1978 in Anderson, SC and is single.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Justin is a freshman who we think will be an excellent player. He's very aggressive at the plate. He has a quick bat and is strong for his age. He's versatile in that he can play both left and right field. He moves his feet real well. He has good fundamentals in the outfield. He's coming off an arm injury, and I think if he gets that squared away, he will help us this year."

Aggressive and competitive righthander who was a starter and reliever in 2003...termed as a "battler" by Head Coach Jack Leggett...has the potential to be the #1 starter in the rotation.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Jason Berken had a tremendous fall. He's coming off a great summer and an excellent freshman year. He's one of our most aggressive and competitive pitchers. When you give him the ball, you know you're going to be in the game. He's going to throw strikes. He throws his fastball, changeup, and breaking pitch for strikes. He's going to be a big-game pitcher this year. He's probably the guy that is at the top of the list as far as our starters are concerned."

2003: Had a 4-2 record and 3.19 ERA in eight starts and 11 relief appearances...allowed just one homer and a .266 opponents' batting average...held ACC regular-season opponents to just three extra-base hits and a .250 batting average...held righthanded batters to a .215 batting average...held batters to a .194 batting average with two outs, a .189 batting average with runners on base and two outs, and a team-best .185 batting average with runners in scoring position and two outs...held batters to 0-for-8 with the bases loaded...had a 1.96 ERA in 11 relief outings...had a team-best 2.86 ERA in games away from home...pitched 1.2 scoreless innings in relief in his first career appearance at #16 Auburn on Feb. 23...in his first career start, he allowed just one run on three hits and one walk while striking out six in 5.1 innings pitched against Old Dominion on Mar. 8...earned the win by pitching 5.0 scoreless innings and allowing just two hits against Georgia Southern at Charleston, SC on Mar. 17...struck out seven in 5.0 innings pitched to earn the win against Wofford on Mar. 24...earned the win against South Carolina on Apr. 9; he allowed two runs, seven hits, and one walk while striking out seven in 6.2 innings pitched...pitched 3.2 innings at Georgia on Apr. 22, allowing no earned runs and four hits...retired the last two batters to close out the win against #4 Georgia Tech on Apr. 26...against the ACC's top hitting team (North Carolina), he pitched 6.1 innings, allowing only three runs and three hits on May 11...played for Keene in the NECBL in the summer.

32 Aaron Eubanks

LHP • L-L • 6-0 • 200 • Fr. • HS
Colquitt County High School
Moultrie, GA

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "We helped ourselves by picking up Aaron. He has a good feel for his changeup. He's very aggressive and competitive. He has a good feel for his breaking ball. His fastball has enough on it to get you out. He's one of those guys that will throw strikes and eat up some inning. We're looking forward to him filling a role for us, probably in relief."

BEFORE CLEMSON: Led Colquitt County High to the Region I-AAAAA state championships as a senior...team was ranked #21 nationally as a senior...his team was runners-up in the AAU World Series in 2003 and the Dixie Youth World Series in 2001...selected to the Team Georgia All-Star team for Southwest Georgia in 2003...earned all-state honors as a senior...Region I-AAAAA Player-of-the-Year as a senior...lettered three times in baseball...a two-year scholar-athlete...coached by Jerry Croft.

6 Garrick Evans

OF • R-R • 6-3 • 200 • Jr. • 2VL
Lake Braddock Secondary School
Burke, VA

Tall and lanky junior who great speed and good "pop" at the plate, especially to the opposite field...has played most of his career in the infield, but has been moved to the outfield for the 2004 season...has a career .298 batting average in 72 games (32 starts)...has 10 career steals.

#6 Garrick Evans

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Garrick is a leading candidate to play either left or centerfield. He's come a long way since moving from the infield. He's worked hard on defense. He has great range in the outfield. If he continues to work on his fundamentals and mechanics, he'll develop into a real good outfielder for us. He's been consistent with his offensive skills. He's an excellent runner who is very aggressive on the bases. I think he could be a top base-stealer for us and someone who really creates a number of opportunities for us offensively."

2003: Came on late in the season to be the Tigers' leadoff batter...hit .400 (16-for-40) with six doubles, a triple, homer, and nine RBIs in his last 10 games to raise his season average to .311...started 29 games, including a team-high 26 as the designated hitter...batted leadoff 23 times...had 11 doubles and a team-high eight stolen bases in just 132 at bats...hit .333 against ACC teams...hit a team-best .421 in February and .375 in May...hit .359 against righthanders, .327 with runners on base, .323 with runners in scoring position, and .333 with two outs...appeared in a team-high 19 games off the bench...hit .357 when he came off the bench...hit .340 on opponents' home fields...hit a team-best .545 (6-for-11) in the seventh inning...went 3-for-6 in the second game of a doubleheader at #16 Auburn on Feb. 22...went 4-for-5 with a stolen base at #16 Auburn on Feb. 23...hit his first career home run against Charleston Southern on Feb. 26; he did so as the first batter of the game for Clemson...off the bench, he had a crucial infield single against Duke on May 4; the hit extended the inning and allowed Steve Pyzik to follow with a walkoff hit...came off the bench and had a single in two at bats at Furman on May 8...came off the bench and hit a walk-off double down the right-field line to win the game against North Carolina on May 11...had an RBI single against North Carolina on May 12...was 2-for-4 with three RBIs, a walk, and stolen base against Furman on May 13...went 4-for-5 with two doubles, a triple, three runs scored, two RBIs, a walk, and a stolen base at Wake Forest on May 16...hit two doubles in three at bats and walked twice at Wake Forest on May 17; he was 6-for-8 with four doubles, a triple, four runs scored, and three walks in two games as the leadoff batter against the Demon Deacons; earned ACC Player-of-the-Week honors thanks to his efforts...went 2-for-4 with a homer, two runs scored, and an RBI against North Carolina in the ACC Tournament on May 22...went 2-for-6 with a double and two runs scored against Princeton in the Auburn Regional on May 31...played for Spartanburg in the Coastal Plain League in the summer.

2002: Had seven hits in 29 at-bats over 24 games...played at third base, shortstop, and second base, mostly as a late-inning substitution...started three games (two at second base and one as the designated hitter)...was 6-for-17 (.353) with two doubles and seven RBIs in 12 night games...got his first career hit, a three-run double, against UNC Asheville on Mar. 19...hit a two-run double off the bench against Coastal Carolina on Mar. 26...had a hit, scored a run, and drove in a run in a start at second base against East Tennessee State on Apr. 2...had two hits and one RBI off the bench against Furman on Apr. 23...hit a pinch-hit, two-run triple at Virginia on May 11.

Handley High School
Winchester, VA

Ground-ball pitcher who has been both a starter and reliever...has thrown 159 career ground-ball outs and only 50 fly-ball outs...has a career record of 8-7 and 3.41 ERA in 43 appearances.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Jeff is one of those guys you know what you're going to get when he's out there. He throws a heavy ball with some movement. He's a groundball pitcher. He has a good slider and good moving fastball. He throws strikes. He has great versatility; he can start or he can pitch the middle of the game. He can come in with men on base and get the double play. He has to have a good year for us to be successful."

2003: Had a 5-7 record and 3.57 ERA in seven starts and 13 relief appearances...the 20 appearances were third-most on the team...in 58.0 innings pitched, he allowed just 57 hits, 19 walks, three homers, 10 extra-base hits, and four steals...had a 2.78 ERA in 22.2 innings pitched in ACC regular-season games...threw 94 ground-ball outs compared to 30 fly-ball outs...had a 4-2 record, 2.08 ERA, and .224 opponents' batting average at home...after moving to the bullpen in early April, he had a team-best 1.95 ERA in 13 relief appearances (27.2 innings pitched)...had a team-best 2.35 ERA in postseason games...pitched 6.0 innings, allowing three hits, one run, and one walk while striking out five to earn the win against Old Dominion on Mar. 9...allowed one earned run on three hits while striking out six in 7.0 innings pitched to earn the win against Maine on Mar. 20...pitched 2.0 perfect innings, while striking out three, to close out Clemson's 8-4 win at #2 Florida State on Apr. 11...pitched 3.0 scoreless innings against #4 Georgia Tech on Apr. 25; he also allowed just two hits and one walk while striking out four...in 4.0 relief innings pitched, he allowed one run, four hits, and no walks while striking out five against North Carolina on May 10...earned the win in relief against North Carolina on May 12; he pitched 1.2 scoreless innings...pitched 4.0 innings in relief to earn the win at Wake Forest on May 17; he allowed just one run...pitched 4.1 scoreless innings in relief against Duke in the ACC Tournament on May 23; he also did not walk a batter...played for Falmouth in the Cape Cod League in the summer.

2002: Had a 3-0 record and 3.19 ERA in 23 relief appearances and 42.1 innings pitched as one of Clemson's top pitchers out of the bullpen...had a 3.00 ERA in 15.0 innings pitched in ACC regular-season games...had 65 ground-ball outs compared to just 20 fly-ball outs...had three saves, tied for eighth place in the ACC...after giving up five runs in his first two outings, he had a 2.18 ERA over his last 41.1 innings pitched of the season...pitched a scoreless inning against College of Charleston on Mar. 6...pitched 2.1 scoreless innings in relief, as he allowed just one hit, no walks, and struck out three against Purdue on Mar. 10...pitched 2.0 scoreless innings against Coastal Carolina on Mar. 26...pitched 2.2 scoreless and hitless innings to earn his first career save against Maryland on Mar. 29...allowed no runs, no walks, and one hit in 2.0 innings pitched against N.C. State on Apr. 6...earned his first career win against Georgia on Apr. 10; he pitched a perfect eighth inning...pitched 1.2 scoreless innings at #9 Georgia Tech on May 6...pitched 5.1 innings in relief against Elon on May 9; he allowed four hits and one unearned run while striking out five...pitched 3.1 scoreless innings to earn the win at Western Carolina on May 15...picked up the save against N.C. State in the ACC Tournament on May 24; he pitched 2.0 scoreless innings, allowing two hits and no walks...pitched a scoreless ninth inning to pick up the save against #22 East Carolina in the Clemson Regional on June 1...earned the win against #6 Georgia Tech in the College World Series on June 16; he allowed two runs in 3.2 innings pitched.

2001: Red-shirted.

35 Kris Harvey

RHP/1B/OF • R-R • 6-2 • 195 • So. • 1VL
Bandys High School
Catawba, NC

Talented righthander who also has shown power at the plate...son of former Major League pitcher Bryan Harvey...has a "loose" arm...expected to be a solid contributer in 2004...listed as the #38 sophomore in the nation in the preseason by Baseball America...took the summer of 2003 off after being hampered by injury last year.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Kris can play some first base, but he's also going to be a great pitcher. He has a great future as a pitcher. I think he'll either do some relief pitching in a closing-type role, or starting pitcher. He's coming off some left shoulder problems, but seems to be swinging the bat exceptionally well. We'll work him at first base, and left and right field as well."

2003: Had a 4-1 record, 7.07 ERA, and a save in six starts and seven relief appearances...Clemson was 5-1 when he started on the mound...did not allow a homer in 35.2 innings pitched...saw action as a batter in 12 games (seven starts) and had eight hits, eight runs scored, two homers, and 11 RBIs in just 29

at bats...held opponents to a .167 batting average with two outs...picked up the save in the second game of a doubleheader at #16 Auburn on Feb. 22; he pitched the final 3.0 innings...in his first career start on the mound, he earned the win by pitching 4.0 innings, allowing two hits and one earned run against College of Charleston on Mar. 5...hit his first career homer against Old Dominion on Mar. 9...in his first start at first base, he went 1-for-3 with two runs scored, an RBI, and 17 putouts against Tennessee Tech on Mar. 11...pitched 6.0 scoreless innings, allowing two hits and one walk, to earn the win against Tennessee Tech on Mar. 12...hit a two-run, pinch-hit homer against Georgia Southern at Charleston, SC on Mar. 16...had two hits and four RBIs against Wofford on Mar. 24...struck out four batters in 2.0 relief innings pitched against Virginia on Apr. 4...earned the win in a starting role against Coastal Carolina on Apr. 16; he allowed two runs on four hits in 5.0 innings pitched...pitched a perfect ninth inning while striking out a batter against North Carolina in the ACC Tournament on May 22; it was his first action in over a month..earned the win in relief against Princeton in the Auburn Regional on May 31; he pitched 1.1 hitless and scoreless innings...rated as the #15 freshman prospect in the nation in the preseason according to Baseball America.

Concordia Lutheran High School
Fort Wayne, IN

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Chris is a righthanded pitcher with a real good feel for a changeup. He has a good feel for his breaking ball too. As he gets stronger and improves his strength, he'll pick up more on his fastball. I think he has a chance to be a finesse-type pitcher. He can eat innings up and keep people off balance. He'll be a great complement to some of the other pitchers we have. He's worked extremely hard and made great improvements in the fall."

BEFORE CLEMSON: Set the Concordia Lutheran High School records for wins in a season and career, and career strikeouts...named the Senior Athlete-of-the-Year of his high school...earned all-conference honors two years in a row...named to the all-area team...set his high school's record for wins (12) in a season...selected to the all-conference team for basketball...a four-year, first-team all-conference selection in tennis...earned all-area honors on the hardcourt...attended the same high school as former two-time Tiger All-America pitcher Steve Reba (1999-02)...lettered four times in both baseball and tennis, and once in basketball at Concordia Lutheran High...coached by Dave Bohr.

Fifth-year senior outfielder that has tremendous "bat-whip" and has hit some towering home runs...a career .241 hitter in 88 games (43 starts).

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Ryan is one of those guys that has improved his strength greatly. He's made himself a better player over the years. He's been in our program for five years, and he understands the system. He's shown real good moments of hitting for us. He needs to be more consistent with the bat. He has a chance to be aggressive on the bases, because he's a good athlete that runs well."

2003: Hit .260 with five homers, 24 RBIs, and 27 runs scored in 47 games (34 starts; 23 in left field, 10 in right field, and one in centerfield)...had three outfield assists...hit .328 with four homers and 17 RBIs in day games...made at least one start at all three outfield positions...batted in six different spots in the batting order...had a 10-game hitting streak...was 4-for-9 in 13 games off the bench...had three sacrifice bunts...hit .328 with a .403 on-base percentage in day games...in his first start since 2000, he went 2-for-3 with two RBIs and two steals against Charleston Southern on Feb. 26...batting leadoff for the first time in his career, he had two hits against Winthrop on Mar. 4...hit his first career homer in his only at bat off the bench against Old Dominion on Mar. 8...had two singles and two RBIs against Tennessee Tech on Mar. 11...went 2-for-2 with a double, homer, three runs scored, and two RBIs against Georgia Southern at Charleston, SC on Mar. 17...had a double, triple, and two runs scored at College of Charleston on Mar. 18...was 3-for-6 against Wofford on Mar. 24...came off the bench to hit a solo homer and drove in Clemson's only other run in game one of a doubleheader at #16 N.C. State on Mar. 29...hit a towering homer off the bench against #4 Georgia Tech on Apr. 26...went 2-for-3 with a two-run single in the eighth inning and a stolen base against North Carolina on May 12; he also made a diving catch of the potential tying run in the ninth inning and doubled off the runner at second base to end the game; he was not even penciled in to start until an hour before the game when Michael Johnson's sprained ankle kept him out of the lineup...hit a long homer at Wake Forest on May 16.

2002: Played in 10 games, all off the bench...was 0-for-8 with a run scored and RBI...played one game at third base and had an assist.

2001: Red-shirted.

2000: Hit .229 in 31 games (nine starts, all in right field) and 35 at bats...had

23 Tanner Leggett

2B/SS • S-R • 6-0 • 165 • *Fr. • RS
Daniel High School
Clemson, SC

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Tanner is a switch-hitting, middle infielder. He's coming off another surgery on his left shoulder. He has excellent feet and hands. He's one of our more solid defensive players up the middle. He has to get stronger with the bat. He needs to get healthy and back into the lifting routine, so he can gain strength that will give him a better opportunity to play."

2003: Red-shirted.

BEFORE CLEMSON: Lettered in soccer at Daniel High School.

PERSONAL: Son of Tiger Head Coach Jack Leggett...majoring in pre-business...born Tanner Jackson Leggett on Aug. 12, 1983 in Cullowhee, NC.

Hartsville High School
Hartsville, SC

Reserve middle infielder who is a scrappy player...turns 21 the day Clemson plays host to Winthrop on Apr. 13.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Daniel is about as aggressive a defensive player as we have on our team. His nickname is 'Dirt,' and for good reason. He's diving all over the place. He has excellent range, and a ton of heart and desire. He's a role player on offense. He can handle the bunt game and hit-and-run. He puts the ball in play. He's a great athlete, and we're looking forward to seeing how we can get him out on the field as often as possible."

2003: Came off the bench in 13 games and was hitless in five at bats...had four assists and did not commit an error...played for Spartanburg in the Coastal Plain League in the summer.

LHP/OF • L-L • 6-0 • 180 • Jr. • JC
Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College
Moss Point, MS

Talented junior-college transfer and two-way player who has the ability to make an instant impact in 2004.

LEGGETT COMMENTS: "Tony is a pitcher/outfielder who can do both. He's either going to do some starting pitching or closing. He also could be one of those guys we run out there in the outfield. He has great versatility. He's a lefthanded hitter who can run. He's very aggressive on the bases. He's going to get a lot of innings in the outfield as well as a lot of innings on the mound. He's very aggressive with a strong slider. He has a good fastball and good feel for a changeup. He's one of our most exciting new players."

BEFORE CLEMSON: Transfer from Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College where he was coached by Cooper Forris...lettered two times in baseball, two times in football, and one time in tennis at Moss Point High School...coached by John Tomes in high school.

Clemson Baseball will be broadcast over the airways in 2004 thanks to Don Munson, Bob Mahony, and the Clemson Tiger Sports Network. The official Clemson sports network has broadcast a regular-season baseball package since 1991 and postseason games since the mid-1970s.

The Clemson family lost one of the most respected announcers in the country in September of 2003 to an untimely passing. Jim Phillips was the "Voice of the Tigers" for 36 years (1968-03), including 13 years with Tiger baseball.

The Clemson Tiger Sport Network will broadcast 34 regular-season Tiger baseball games this season. It will broadcast all 24 conference games and 10 non-conference games, including three games each with South Carolina and Central Florida, and two games each with Auburn and Georgia. The network will also broadcast all postseason contests, including all games the Tigers play in the ACC Tournament and in the NCAA Tournament.

The broadcasts will begin 15 minutes prior to the start of each contest and will have comments and strategies from Clemson Head Coach Jack Leggett.

Additionally, WCCP-FM (104.9) in Clemson will broadcast at least eight games, giving the Tigers a radio presence in most of their regular-season games. Ed Jenson will handle the play-by-play duties for the "Super Sports FM."

Don Munson, interim play-by-play baseball announcer, is in his first year with Tiger baseball. Munson rejoined the network in 2003 after serving for several years as network host in the mid to late 1990s. He has also served as the play-by-play announcer for Appalachian State and UNC Asheville basketball, while also calling Western Carolina football and basketball.

Munson (42) was the sports director at WATA-AM in Boone, NC from 1984-87 and was later was the sports director at WHKP-AM in Hendersonville, NC. He is currently the play-by-play announcer for Lady Tiger basketball. The 1984 Appalachian State graduate is married to the former Elizabeth Ann Justus. The couple has a daughter, Michelle (12).

Bob Mahony is in his 16th year providing color commentary for Tiger baseball games. He is no stranger to the program, as he was a walk-on at Clemson in the 1970s and lettered from 1974-76. He later earned a full scholarship and was co-captain of the 1976 team that participated in the College World Series in Omaha.

The Silver Springs, MD native also serves as the Associate Executive Director of IPTAY, Clemson's athletic fundraising organization. He is responsible for soliciting new IPTAY members, and planning and coordinating special activities and meetings.

Mahony is married to the former Robin Ann Lawrimore. The couple has two daughters, Allison (23) and Marion (18).

Clemson 8-8 Against Top-25 Teams

Clemson had an 8-8 record against top-25 ranked teams in 2003, including a 5-3 record against top-10 teams and 4-2 record against top-five teams. Only four of the 16 games against ranked teams were at home as well.

In 10 seasons at Clemson, Jack Leggett has 119 wins over teams ranked in the top 25. He picked up his 100th win against top-25 teams at #5 South Carolina on April 24, 2002 in Clemson's 4-1 win. Only two times in his 10 seasons has he had a losing record against teams in the top 25.

Tigers #16 in Boyd Nation's Final RPI

A primary system the NCAA uses to determine selections and seedings is the RPI, or the Ratings Percentage Index. Although the NCAA does not release its official RPI, Boyd Nation has come up with an RPI index that is all but the same as the official RPI. He uses numbers from previous seasons to verify his formulas.

In the final 2003 release, his RPI index had Clemson #16. Clemson can thank a brutal non-conference schedule for its high RPI ranking. The RPI only counts games against Division I teams.

The Atlantic Coast Conference was rated as the second-best conference in the unofficial RPI, just behind of the SEC. The ACC, which was the #1 conference in 2002, sported six of the top 25 teams in the RPI, including #2 Florida State, #9 Georgia Tech, #11 N.C. State, #14 North Carolina, #16 Clemson, and #25 Virginia.

One Streak Stayed Alive, One Ended

Thanks to its NCAA Tournament bid in 2003, Clemson has now participated in the NCAA Tournament for 17 consecutive years. Only Miami (FL) (31) and Florida State (26) hold longer current NCAA Tourney streaks.

However, Clemson's 17-year streak of winning at least 40 games came to an end in 2003, falling just one game short.

Tigers Won 14 Games in a Row

After starting the season 3-3, Clemson won 14 games in a row before falling at Western Carolina on March 25. The streak tied for the seventh longest in school history. In 2002, Clemson started the season 13-0, lost, then won 13 more games in a row. The 14-game win streak was its longest streak since 1996, when the Tigers won 15 games in a row.

* - game one of a doubleheader

David Slevin brought a steady glove to every game in 2003. He also became one of the Tigers' most consistent hitters, as evidenced by his 22-game hitting streak.

Entire Infield Named to All-ACC Team

Michael Johnson was one of four Tiger infielders tabbed to the 2003 All-ACC team voted by the nine conference coaches. Johnson was the first-team selection at first base, while David Slevin (2B), Russell Triplett (SS), and Brad McCann (3B) all garnered second-team honors. Therefore, Clemson had an All-ACC pick at all four infield positions.

Freshman Hurlers Played Significant Role

Seven true freshmen or red-shirt freshmen saw action during the 2003 season. Freshmen pitched 190.1 of the team's 542.0 innings in 2003, or 35.1 percent. They also made 47.0 percent of the appearances. Incredibly, they combined to allow just four home runs as well. Below is a chart of the Tiger freshman pitchers and their stats.

Slevin Had a 22-Game Hitting Streak

Senior second baseman David Slevin was the hottest hitter over the last month of the season and had a 22-game hitting streak, the longest by a Tiger in 2003 and tied for fifth-longest in Clemson history. The Port Saint Lucie, FL native was also 46-for-125 (.368) in the last 30 games to raise his season average to .330. Slevin, who batted near the bottom of the lineup most of the season, also hit well in ACC games (.392). Brad McCann also ended the season on a 20-game hitting streak.

Tigers' Fielding % Second-Best Ever

After setting the school record for fielding percentage (.971) in 2002, Clemson continued its outstanding defensive prowess with a .969 fielding percentage in 2003. That mark is the second-best percentage in Tiger history.

Tigers Won Close Games...Again

Clemson had success in 2003 in close ballgames. The team played in 20 games decided by two runs or less, and won 15 of them. Clemson was 7-2 in one-run games and 8-3 in two-run games. In 2002, Clemson was 6-1 in one-run games and 13-4 in two-run games for a total of 19-5 in games decided by two runs or less. Therefore, in the last two seasons, Clemson is 34-10 in games decided by two runs or less.

Rallying to Victory a Common Theme

Clemson had 19 come-from-behind wins in 2003 among its 39 overall victories. The Tigers were especially good at late rallies. Clemson rallied to win twice when down in the eighth inning, three times when down in the ninth, and twice when down in the 10th inning, meaning Clemson rallied from behind to win entering its last at bat five times. Against both Georgia Tech and North Carolina, the opponents plated a run in the 10th inning only to see the Tigers respond with walkoff hits to gain victory.

More Hits Than Opponent = Victory

Of course the only stat on the scoreboard that counts in determining a winner is the run column. But the hit column was just as important for the Tigers. When Clemson had more hits than its opponents, it was 33-2. When it did not, it was 6-20.

Tigers Sported Consistent Lineup

Clemson had a solid team batting average of .309, but no player hit above .347. The six Tigers with at least 172 at bats hit between .322 and .347, which meant many different players came through in the clutch. Clemson did not have to depend on a certain player to come through every time. Below is a list of the six Tigers who hit between .322 and .347.

#	Player	Pos.	Avg.	G-S	AB	R	H	RBI
21	Brad McCann	3B	.347	60-60	251	44	88	67

Tigers Tough to Beat at Home Under Leggett

In 10 seasons, Head Coach Jack Leggett has a 473-194 record at Clemson, including a 186-94 mark against ACC teams. He has been especially tough in home ACC series, where he has a 94-24 (.797) record. The ACC team with the most success has been Florida State, who has only won five games in 15 tries at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

Even when an opposing ACC team is victorious at Clemson, it usually means that team only won one of three games. In 40 ACC home series under Leggett, Clemson has lost only two series, losing two of three to N.C. State in 1996 and getting swept by Florida State in 2002. Georgia Tech also split a pair of games in a rain-shortened series in 1997.

Tigers Led ACC in Batting Average in ACC Play

Clemson's .326 batting average in ACC regular-season games was tops in the conference in 2003 by 19 points (Georgia Tech (.307) was second) and was 30 points higher than the team's batting average in non-ACC regular-season games. The ACC was regarded as one of the top conferences in the nation in 2003.

Five Tigers Hit .371 or Better in ACC Play

Clemson's five predominant infielders, Herman Demmink (was also a designated hitter), David Slevin (2B), Russell Triplett (SS), Michael Johnson (1B), and Brad McCann (3B) all hit at least .371 in ACC regular-season play in 2003. Demmink hit .457 (did not have enough at bats to qualify for ACC lead), Johnson hit .400 (second in ACC), Slevin hit .392 (third in ACC), McCann hit .376 (fifth in ACC), and Triplett hit .371 (sixth in ACC). Therefore Clemson had four of the top-six ACC hitters in ACC regular-season games. Demmink, a freshman, also had a .537 on-base percentage in ACC play, while Johnson had a .539 mark. As a team, Clemson out-hit its ACC opponents .326 to .285, a margin of 41 points.

Frank Had Career Day at Maryland

At Maryland on April 20, Kyle Frank was 5-for-5 with two homers, a double, four runs scored, and four RBIs. The two homers both came in the second inning, as he became just the third Tiger to hit two long balls in a single inning. Frank's five hits were a career high as well.

It was a special day for the fifth-year senior, as his parents, who reside in Wolfeboro, NH, were on hand to see Frank's finest game as a Tiger. Frank entered the game with just eight career homers in 719 career at bats. Frank added a walk and stolen base to his credit in the game and reached base in nine-straight plate appearances. He also was 7-for-his-last-7, as he was 3-for-4 in the previous game.

Johnson at His Best Against South Carolina

In 16 career games against rival South Carolina, Michael Johnson hit 10 homers. He hit 58 career homers in 235 career games, meaning he hit a homer every 4.05 games. But against the Gamecocks, he hit one every 1.60 games. He hit 17.2 percent of his homers against South Carolina, while playing only 6.8 percent of his games against the Gamecocks.

Thanks to his three homers and seven RBIs in four games against South Carolina in 2003, he received the Bob Bradley Award for being Clemson's most outstanding player in the series. It was the second straight year he received that honor.

Johnson, McCann Hit Walkoff Homers

Michael Johnson hit a three-run, walkoff homer to beat East Tennessee State 6-3 in 12 innings on April 23. The homer moved Johnson into second place in career home runs in Tiger history.

In the next game, against #4 Georgia Tech, lightning struck twice. With Clemson trailing 7-6 in the 10th inning, Brad McCann hit a two-out, opposite-field, three-run homer to give Clemson a 9-7 win. And three games later, Steve Pyzik hit a walkoff single to beat Duke on May 4. It was the 22nd walkoff hit in Jack Leggett's 10 years as Clemson's head coach.

The magic happened again for the fifth time in 2003 when Garrick Evans hit a walkoff double to beat North Carolina on May 11.

Johnson Put Out the Numbers

First baseman Michael Johnson not only put up some spectacular offensive numbers, he "put out" some solid defensive numbers. In four seasons, he made 2,131 putouts, ranking second-best in NCAA history and tops in ACC history. In 2002, he made 706 putouts, ranking sixth in NCAA history and first in ACC history in a single season.

Patrick Hogan was a hero in each of the three games he pitched against South Carolina last year. The Columbia, SC native and vocal leader had a win and a save, and allowed just one run in 10.1 innings pitched (three appearances) against the rival Gamecocks in 2003.

Tyler Lumsden pitched the only shutout by a Tiger in 2003 when he threw a three-hitter against Old Dominion on March 7. He also struck out 11 Gamecocks in 7.1 shutout innings pitched in an early-season victory at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on March 1.

After losing several key ingredients off the 2002 squad that ranked #3 in the final polls, including unanimous National Player-of-the-Year Khalil Greene and career home run leader Jeff Baker, the Tigers faced an uphill challenge in 2003. Although Clemson fell one victory shy of the 40-win plateau for the first time since 1985, the 2003 season proved to be productive on both a team and individual basis.

The program also continued to have tremendous fan support, averaging 3,324 fans per game (second-highest mark in school history) after selling more than 1,800 season tickets. The Tigers also donned a newly renovated ballpark, making Doug Kingsmore Stadium second-to-none.

The 2003 squad, led by 10th-year Head Coach Jack Leggett, was faced with the tough task of following one of the most successful campaigns in Clemson baseball history. The 2002 Tigers were known for offense, and particularly home run frequency. That team hit 112 home runs, most in school history. In 2003, in comparison, Clemson hit just 54 round-trippers. However, the Tigers relied on a consistent lineup and gritty play late in games.

Michael Johnson, who returned to school after being drafted in the second round of the 2002 draft, was the leader of a young Clemson offense. Johnson, whose reputation as a power hitter forced opposing pitchers to "pitch around" him, had an astounding .498 on-base percentage and drew 63 walks, third most in school history. Johnson finished his career one homer shy of Baker's school record of 59.

While Johnson led the Tiger offense, the Tiger pitching staff was led by a multitude of young hurlers. Leading the way was Steven Jackson, who finished the year with a 7-3 record and 4.27 ERA, and Tyler Lumsden, who was 8-2 with a 3.77 ERA. Clemson utilized seven freshmen pitchers in 2003, each of whom played a significant role.

The freshman pitching class was instrumental to Clemson's success in 2003. Leading the way were a pair of first-year freshmen (Jason Berken and Robert Rohrbaugh). Berken started eight games and pitched 59.1 innings with a solid 3.19 ERA. Rohrbaugh, who was named a Freshman All-American at season's end, appeared in 26 games and led the team with a 3.03 ERA. Together, the freshman class pitched over 35 percent of the team's innings and combined to give up just four home runs the entire year.

Paul Harrelson and Jeff Hahn also played important roles out of the bullpen in 2003. Harrelson, the only senior pitcher, had a 3.06 ERA and an incredible strikeout-to-walk ratio of 29-3. Hahn, who began the season as a starting pitcher, moved back to the bullpen in early April and settled in as a long reliever. In 14 relief appearances, Hahn's ERA was just 1.95, far below the 5.04 ERA he had in seven starts.

One year after setting the single-season record with a .971 fielding percentage, the 2003 Tigers achieved the second-highest mark in school history with a .969 mark. The leaders in that area were Johnson, who finished second in NCAA history in career putouts (2,131), and outfielder Kyle Frank, who committed just three errors in 206 career starts.

Clemson began the year on the road, where it faced Auburn in a three-game series. The SEC Tigers took two out of three, but Garrick Evans got off to a strong start with a 7-for-15 performance in the series. Clemson then returned home for a pair of shutouts, a 5-0 victory over Charleston Southern and 8-0 win over in-state rival South Carolina. Lumsden pitched 7.1 innings against the #6 Gamecocks, giving up just four hits.

The Tigers fell to the Gamecocks the following day, but then began a streak of 14 consecutive victories, the seventh-best streak in school history. The streak began on March 4 with a 5-4 victory over Winthrop at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Following a 6-2 victory over College of Charleston, the Tigers completed a three-game sweep over Old Dominion. Clemson won the final game of the series 18-2, thanks in large part to 15 hits as a team.

Clemson followed those victories with a pair of wins over both Tennessee Tech and Georgia Southern. The Tigers had been set to play a three-game series at Georgia Southern, but were limited to just two games due to inclement weather, as the series was moved to Charleston, SC. The most exciting contest of the 14-game streak came at College of Charleston on March 18. The Cougars took a 6-5 lead into the ninth inning, but shortstop Russell Triplett slapped an 0-2 pitch with two outs to centerfield to give the Tigers a 7-6 come-from-behind 7-6 win.

The winning streak culminated with a three-game sweep over Maine and a 21-7 victory over Wofford, a contest that saw the Tigers pound out a season-high 24 hits. The streak was snapped on March 25 when Western Carolina knocked off the #10 Tigers in Cullowhee, NC. Clemson rebounded the following night with a 7-3 win over Georgia at home, giving the Tigers a 17-4 record heading into ACC competition.

N.C. State took two of three games from Clemson to open conference play for the Tigers, even though Clemson scored seven runs in the ninth inning of the finale to salvage the series. Jeff Hourigan's towering three-run homer tied the score and his teammates added four more runs. Clemson rebounded from the series defeat with a 5-3 victory over Western Carolina and 4-2 win at South Carolina. Brad McCann and Johnson each hit homers in the win over the Gamecocks. Next up for the Tigers was a home ACC series against Virginia.

2003 Team Accomplishments

- Played in the NCAA Tournament for the 17th straight year. It is the third-longest current streak in the country, trailing only Miami (FL) (31) and Florida State (26).
- Had a 14-game winning streak from March 4-24, the seventh-longest winning streak in Clemson history.
- Achieved the second-highest fielding percentage in school history with a .969 mark, trailing only the 2002 squad (.971).
- Had a 4-1 record in extra-inning games and 8-8 record against top-25 ranked teams.
- Finished in the top four in the ACC standings for the 10th time in 10 seasons under Head Coach Jack Leggett.
- For the first time in Clemson history, the Tigers hit walk-off home runs in consecutive games. Michael Johnson's three-run shot in the bottom of the 12th inning gave Clemson a 6-3 victory over East Tennessee State on April 23. In the next game, Brad McCann hit a two-out, opposite-field, three-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning to give Clemson a 9-7 win over #4 Georgia Tech.
- Averaged 3,324 fans per game, eighth-best in the nation and the second-highest figure in school history.
- Had 12 players named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll for the 2002-03 school year (3.0 GPA or higher), the second-most in school history.

Clemson won two out of three games versus the Cavaliers to even its conference record at 3-3. In game three, Jackson pitched 5.0 innings of shutout ball to help decide the series. The next game for the Tigers was a midweek showdown with South Carolina, the fourth and final game of the year between the two schools.

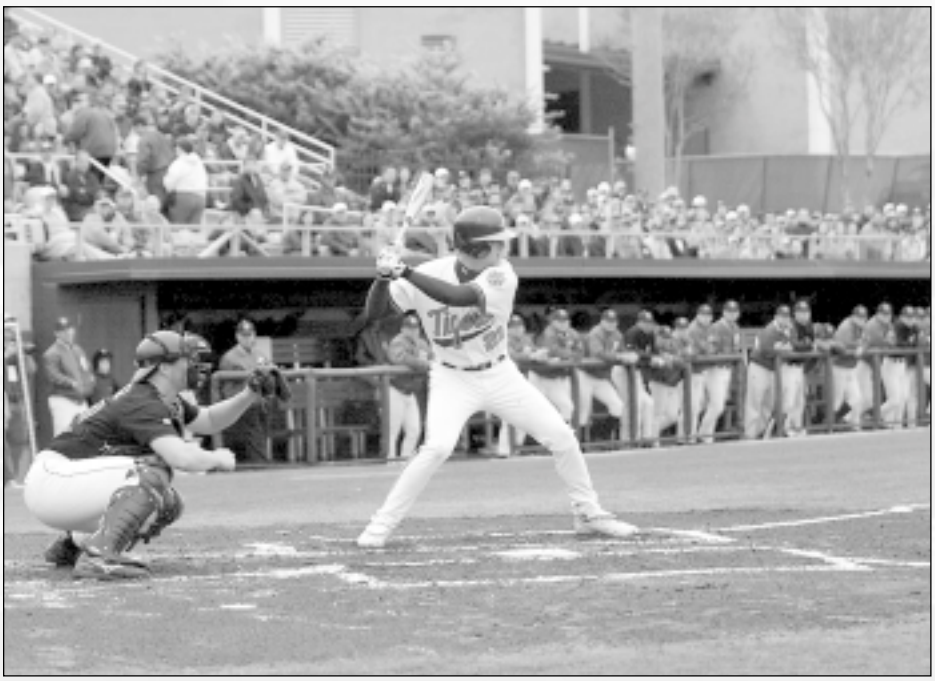
The Gamecocks held a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the sixth inning before Johnson hit a towering shot to right field to give Clemson a 4-2 lead, which turned out to be the final margin. Johnson, who won the Bob Bradley Award as the best Clemson player in the series for the second straight season, hit 10 career home runs against the in-state rival from Columbia. For the second consecutive year, Clemson took three out of four regular-season games from South Carolina.

Clemson then traveled to Tallahassee, FL to take on perennial powerhouse Florida State in a three-game series. The Seminoles were ranked as high as #2 in the nation at the time of the series and were ranked #1 in the nation heading into the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers took the opening game 8-4 after capitalizing on two costly Seminole errors and by notching 16 hits in the game. The Seminoles took the final two games by scores of 7-2 and 8-1.

Clemson returned home and split a pair of midweek games with Coastal Carolina. The Tigers then hit the road again and headed to College Park, MD for a series against the Terrapins. Maryland took the first two games, but Clemson erupted for a 20-5 victory in game three. The Tigers hit six home runs in the contest, including two by Frank in the second inning alone. Frank became just the third player in school history to hit two homers in a single inning. McCann also had two homers on the day.

Following a midweek loss at Georgia in late April, Clemson returned to its winning ways. The first of five straight wins came against East Tennessee State, who battled the Tigers hard before falling in the 12th inning. Johnson was the hero yet again, this time with a three-run, walk-off shot in the bottom of the 12th. The win gave Clemson much needed confidence before heading into a crucial home series against Georgia Tech, who was ranked #4 at the time.

The first game of the pivotal series was suspended until the next afternoon due to inclement weather. With Clemson trailing 7-6 in the bottom of the 10th inning, McCann hit a three-run, opposite-field, walk-off homer to give the Tigers the dramatic comeback victory. McCann's shot gave Clemson walk-off homers in consecutive contests, a first in school history.



Brad McCann and the Tigers defeated South Carolina three times in four regular-season games for the second-straight year. The sophomore third baseman also hit a walk-off, three run homer to down #4 Georgia Tech and ended the year on a 20-game hitting streak.

Fifth-year senior Kyle Frank became just the third Tiger in history to hit two home runs in a single inning when he did so in the second inning at Maryland on April 20.

Clemson used McCann's heroics as inspiration in the final two games of the series, as the Tigers won 10-5 and 11-3 over the Yellow Jackets. Clemson totaled 41 hits in the series. Johnson and Harrelson were both named ACC Player-of-the-Week following the three-game series. The three-game sweep boosted Clemson back into the top 20 of every poll and improved the Tigers' ACC record to 8-7.

Following a week off for final exams, Clemson played host to Duke in another crucial ACC series at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. In game one, Clemson broke a 6-6 tie in the final inning when Steve Pyzik hit the game-winning, run-scoring single for the Tigers. Duke claimed the second game before Clemson decided the series with a 13-2 victory in game three. Johnson went 5-for-6 with six RBIs to lead the Tigers in the series finale. Both the hit and RBI totals matched career highs for the slugger from Georgetown, SC.

Clemson then dropped a pair of midweek games to non-conference foes Elon and Furman. In the loss at Furman, Frank, who graduated the day before with a degree in computer information systems, hit his only career grand slam. The Tigers rebounded from the setbacks by taking two out of three from North Carolina at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. The Tigers lost game one of the series, but rallied to pull off two hard-fought victories and take the series.

The Tigers won game two of that series in the 10th inning after Evans hit a walk-off double to lift Clemson to the 5-4 victory. It was the fifth time in 2003 that Clemson won thanks to a walkoff hit. Clemson followed with the series-clinching win, a 5-2 triumph that saw the Tigers plate four runs in the eighth inning. The two wins improved Clemson's ACC record to 12-9, with just one ACC series remaining.

Clemson fell to Furman for the second consecutive time on May 13 by a score of 12-9, ending the Tigers' home season with a loss. The Tigers finished the year 27-6 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium, a solid .818 winning percentage. Clemson hit the road to finish out the regular season with the final ACC series at Winston-Salem, NC against Wake Forest.

Tiger pitchers were outstanding during the series and led Clemson to a three-game sweep over the Demon Deacons. It was the first time Clemson swept the Demon Deacons in Winston-Salem since 1995. In game one, Patrick Hogan pitched 6.0 scoreless innings to lead Clemson to a 6-2 win. Hogan was honored later that week as the ACC's Pitcher-of-the-Week for his effort.

In the second game, Clemson's bats came alive with 21 hits in a 14-3 victory. The Tigers completed the sweep on May 17 after just edging the Demon Deacons by a score of 4-3. Evans went 6-for-8 with four doubles and a triple in the series, also earning ACC weekly honors. The sweep put Clemson into a tie for third place in the ACC standings with a 15-9 record.

Clemson finished the ACC slate with a .326 batting average, 19 percentage points higher than second-place Georgia Tech (.307). Five Tigers batted better than .371 in conference play, including Johnson, who hit an even .400 in 24 ACC regular-season games.

The Tigers were the #4 seed in the ACC Tournament because N.C. State held the tiebreaker over Clemson. As a result, Clemson was paired against North Carolina in the opening round. The Tigers fell by a score of 10-2, as Jackson suffered through his worst outing of the year. Clemson was then bounced from the tournament after Duke won 7-4 in the losers' bracket.

Despite the disappointment at the ACC Tournament, Clemson was selected to its 17th consecutive NCAA Regional appearance, the third-longest active streak in the country. This time, the Tigers were headed back to Auburn, where it began the season. The other schools selected to the Auburn Regional were Princeton and Ohio State, the Tigers' first opponent in the regional.

Against the Buckeyes, Clemson trailed 10-8 and had the bases loaded in the ninth inning. However, Clemson could not duplicate its clutch hitting demonstrated in the regular season and fell by that 10-8 margin. Three Clemson errors proved costly in defeat. Clemson then went on to play Princeton the next day. Leggett's team scored three runs in the final two innings and Pyzik came through with another game-winning single in the top of the 10th inning, giving the Tigers a 7-6 win. Pyzik, a senior playing in his final NCAA Tournament, drove in three runs in the contest.

Clemson was matched against Auburn in the next contest, but fell 15-0, ending the Tigers' season. Outfielder Zane Green, who was 6-for-13 in the three games, was named to the All-Regional team for his efforts, the second straight year he had been named.

Clemson ended the season with a 39-22 record, including an 8-8 record against teams ranked in the top 25. The Tigers actually held a 4-2 record against top-five teams. The eight wins gave Leggett 119 over top-25 teams in his first 10 seasons as the Tigers' skipper.

At the conclusion of the season, four Tigers were named to All-ACC teams. In fact, each member of the Clemson infield represented the school as all-conference selections. Johnson was the lone First-Team All-ACC representative. He hit .338 with a team-high 12 home runs, 51 RBIs, and 63 walks (just one off the school record).

McCann, Triplett, and David Slevin were Second-Team All-ACC selections at their respective positions. McCann had a strong first year with the Tiger program, as he led the squad with a .347 batting average and 67 RBIs. He ended the season on a 20-game hitting streak. Triplett filled in nicely for the departed Greene. He hit .335 for the season and started all but one game at shortstop. Slevin had a 22-game hitting streak late in the season and finished with a solid .330 average.

Johnson, who did not sign with the San Diego Padres after being a second-round pick in 2002, was retained by the organization in 2003. He signed and joined former teammate (Greene) in the Padres' minor league farm system. Jackson was the only Tiger drafted, as he was selected in the 32nd round by the Cleveland Indians, but did not sign. Frank and Slevin both signed free agent contracts with the New York Yankees, while Pyzik inked a free agent deal with the Atlanta Braves.

After a 7–3 season, junior righty Steven Jackson was selected in the 32nd round of the Major League Draft by the Indians.

Special thanks to Clemson Baseball Administrative Assistant Roberta Balliet for organizing this successful reunion of former Tigers.

Clemson held its first Alumni Baseball Weekend from October 24-25, 2003. Originally hoping to bring back 30 or 40 former players, coaches and staff were thrilled that 180 Tiger baseball alumni attended the reunion. Many current and former Major League players returned to Tigertown for the event. Former coaches Bill Wilhelm (1958-93) and Walter Cox (1945,48-51) were also on hand.

"When we first started thinking about the alumni weekend, we never envisioned that it would turn out as well as it did," current Head Coach Jack Leggett said.

The weekend kicked off with a players-only golf tournament at Boscobel Golf Club on Friday morning and was followed by a reception. The former Tigers played the alumni game Friday night at Doug Kingsmore Stadium, with hundreds of fans in attendance. They split into two teams, one coached by Leggett and the other by Wilhelm.

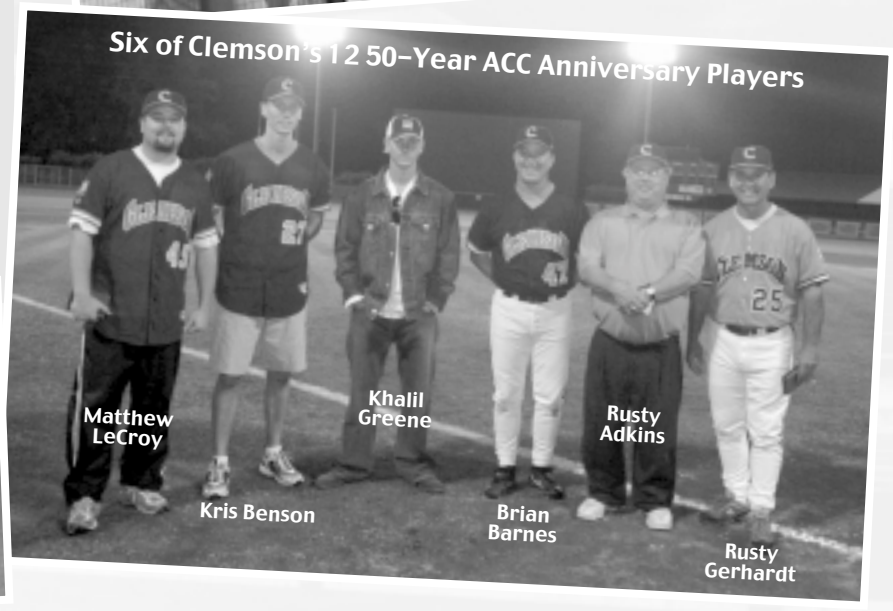
Baseball Weekend

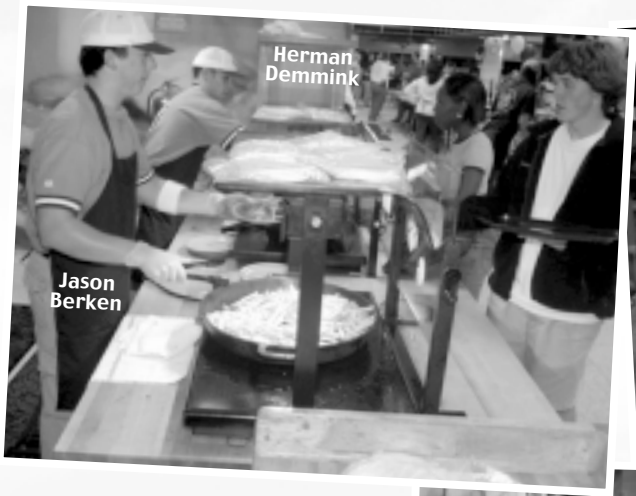
Every position player was able to make one at bat and every pitcher threw to at least one batter.

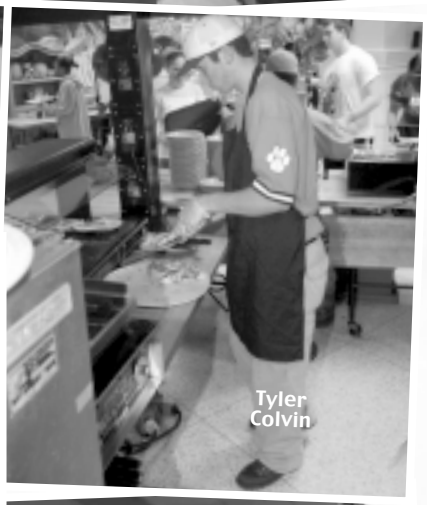
After the game, Leggett presented Wilhelm with a picture signed by former players in attendance and a banner, which will be permanently displayed at the stadium. Leggett also presented the ACC 50-Year Anniversary team recipients a medallion.

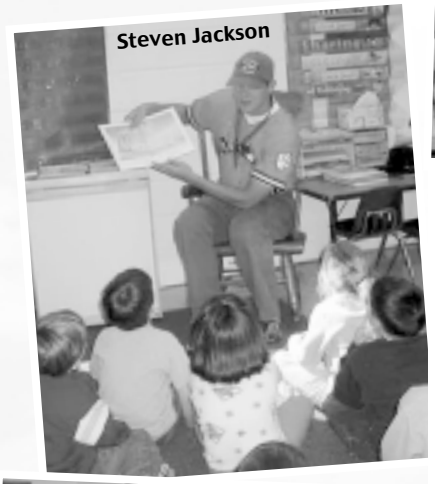
On Saturday, the players and families gathered at the Tiger Zone for a tailgate party and then congregated at Death Valley to see the Tigers defeat North Carolina 36-28.

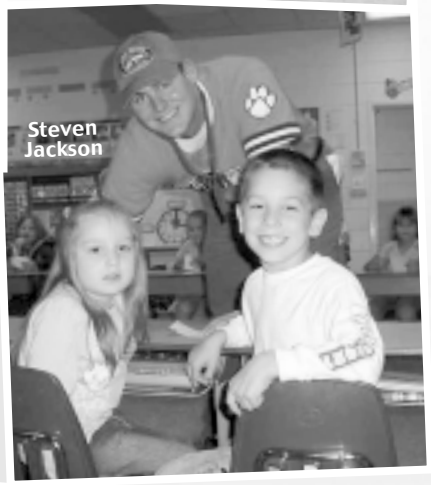
"Everything went so well - the golf tournament, the game, tailgating - it was a fantastic weekend," Leggett exclaimed. "I am so pleased that players from eight different decades took the time to come back. It's another strong indication of the deep baseball tradition here at Clemson. We hope to do it again soon."











Many Clemson baseball players are giving up their free time to serve others. Several players participated in the Clemson athlete-wide service project in November, 2003. They worked at Schilletter Hall, a dining facility on campus. The players served food to other students and were able to interact with their peers.

This past fall, several players also read to students at Walhalla Elementary School during Children's Book Week. They read books to classes ranging from kindergarten, to fifth grade, to special education. They also answered questions, signed autographs, and posed for pictures with the students. The players enjoy spending time with the students, as the kids look to them as role models. They are excited to put a smile on a child's face with a hug or an autograph. Clemson players are making an asserted effort both on campus and in the community.

Thomas Green Clemson believed that South Carolina needed an institution of higher education dedicated to science and agriculture. With his belief came the foundation that was laid for Clemson Agricultural College. On April 6, 1888, Thomas Clemson died, leaving most of his estate to the state of South Carolina with the purpose of establishing a college that would teach scientific agriculture and the mechanical arts to the young people of South Carolina.

The college formally opened its doors in 1893 with an enrollment of 446 students. As an all-male military school, the college quickly became recognized across the nation as an important part of the national system of state universities and land-grant colleges. In 1955, Clemson became a civilian co-educational college. As the school expanded its academic offerings and research pursuits, the state legislature renamed the college Clemson University in 1964.

Today, Clemson is much more than Thomas Clemson could have ever envisioned. The campus is located on 1,400 acres of beautiful rolling hills on what once was the plantation of former U.S. Vice-President John C. Calhoun. Landmarks such as Fort Hill, the former home of the Clemsons and the Calhouns, Tillman with its clocktower, the statue of Thomas Green Clemson, and the outdoor amphitheater all help retain the air of tradition.

The Clemson Education

- U.S. News & World Report ranked Clemson the leading national university in South Carolina and #39 among the nation's top public universities. The university's goal is to be one of the top-20 public universities in the nation.
- Clemson features a diverse curriculum; there are 84 undergraduate degree programs and 65 graduate degrees.
- Average class size is 31 students.
- Clemson's five different colleges include: Agriculture, Forestry, and Life Sciences; Architecture, Arts, and Humanities; Business and Behavioral Science; Engineering and Science; and Health, Education, and Human Development.
- The Calhoun Honors College strives to enrich the educational experience of highly-motivated, academically-talented students by providing opportunities for scholarship and research not ordinarily available to undergraduates. Established in 1962, Calhoun College is the oldest honors program in South Carolina.
- Clemson University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award the bachelor's, master's, specialist, and doctoral degrees.
- Clemson was one of the two South Carolina institutions to be selected for inclusion in America's 100 Best College Buys, 2001-02.
- Kiplinger's Magazine ranks Clemson #20 in its roundup of institutions providing a top-quality education at reasonable prices. The editor also picked Clemson as one of the top public institutions providing the best education dollar for dollar.
- The finance department is among the best in the nation and is listed ahead of such schools as Yale and Penn State according to Journal of Finance.
- The management department is ranked among the top 10 in the nation by Decisions Sciences Institute in research productivity in production and operations management.
- Our department of parks, recreation, and tourism management ranks among the top three of its kind in the nation.
- Clemson's six-year graduation rate is 69 percent, 20 points higher than the national average for public universities.
- The Program for Educational Enrichment and Retention (PEER) helped bring Clemson's graduation rate of African-American engineering students to the highest in the nation among predominantly white schools.
- Clemson's College of Engineering and Science grants more than two-thirds of all engineering degrees in South Carolina and enrolls nearly 75 percent of the state's engineering students.

The Clemson Experience

- Whether its walking to the Hendrix Center to have a milkshake, or taking a stroll through the State's Botanical Gardens, or even taking part in a pickup basketball game at Fike Recreation Center, there are plenty of activities for Clemson students when they are not in the classroom.
- Clemson has more than 230 student organizations active on campus, including 23 social fraternities and 14 social sororities. There are organizations related to every course of study, groups such as the Accounting Club and the American Institute of Architects. For students who enjoy writing or photography, The Tiger, the campus newspaper, TAPS, the university yearbook, and the Chronicle, the student variety magazine, are available.
- Located in the University Union are the offices of the student government. Student government gives students the opportunity to influence campus policy.
- Fike Recreation Center, which just completed a renovation and expansion project, has a host of opportunities for students to let off steam through physical activity. Inside Fike is an eight-lane swimming pool, a diving tank, two gyms used for basketball and other activities, various weight-lifting facilities, and room for aerobics. Outside Fike are several spacious fields used for the extensive intramural program and for student enjoyment. There are indoor and lighted outdoor tennis courts across the street at the Hoke Sloan Tennis Center.

The Clemson Facilities

- Opened in January 2000, the Hendrix Student Center is a 108,000 square-foot facility in the heart of Clemson's campus that contains a convenience store, food court, movie theater, hair salon, coffee shop, copy shop, and telecommunications center. The center has 15,000 square feet of meeting rooms and a 2,600 square-foot student lounge. The student center also is the home of the Office of Career Services and Placement, the multicultural affairs department, the student bookstore, the student media, and the University Union.
- The main University library, Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, is situated in the center of campus. The library has become one of the national leaders in automated information retrieval. Its bibliographic records are accessible from anywhere in the world, easing the task of finding information in its collections, which total more than 1.7 million items. Numerous periodical indexes are housed online and available for automated searching. The collections are particularly strong in agriculture, natural and physical sciences, economics, and technology. Of special interest are the James F. Brynes and Edgar A. Brown Rooms, which have the collections of papers of these statesmen.
- A cornerstone of the University is its computer facilities. Clemson's computer center, which supports student course work and research in all disciplines, is also used by government and industry. The center provides general computing services on a network. Remote sites housing more than 1,600 terminals and 600 microcomputers are conveniently located in many different areas of campus. International and national telephone-modem access is also available. Yahoo! Internet Life ranks Clemson as one of the nation's 50 most-wired campuses.

- All students are assigned a user identification code when they enroll, which allows them to use the various mainframe applications, such as electronic mail, job placement service, library card catalog and information databases, and housing and course registration.
- The $12.5-million Robert Howell Brooks Center for the Performing Arts opened in 1996. The facility brings an exciting array of fine arts productions to the University, while working to make the arts accessible to a new and larger audience.
- The Joseph F. Sullivan Center is one of only 75 nurse-managed , academic-based nursing centers in the nation. This center also earned the Provider Facility-of-the-Year Award by the S.C. Best Chance network for commitment to women's health programs.
- The Office of Career Services and Placement can help with planning and finding summer and full-time employment. The office assists in career counseling and planning, searching for a job, preparing resumés, and developing job interview strategies. Resources include staff expertise, books, videotapes, and literature provided by companies and agencies. Clemson has developed one of the best automated placement systems in the country, allowing students to research employers and sign up for interviews from any mainframe computer terminal on campus.

Hendrix Student Center

The Clemson Faculty

- Clemson's student-to-faculty ratio of 15-to-1 gives the faculty the opportunity to interact with many of the students on a one-to-one basis. Critical thinking, problem solving, creative learning, and self-development are just a few of the things emphasized in the classroom.
- The Clemson faculty includes 33 Fulbright Scholars, and 59 endowed chairs, named professorships, and alumni professorships.
- Faculty members at Clemson come from a wide range of backgrounds. Over 500 institutions of higher learning that promote excellence in teaching, research, and scholarship are represented among the Clemson faculty.
- Over 85 percent hold earned doctoral degrees, the highest degree in their field, and many have achieved special academic recognition. Many have been honored by colleagues and students as master teachers for their excellence in the classroom and by Outstanding Educators of America.
- Clemson is among the top-25 universities in the nation in generated revenue from patents and intellectual properties according to the Wall Street Journal/Southeast Journal.

Tillman Hall

The Clemson Student

- In 2000, Time Magazine ranked Clemson its "Public College-of-the-Year."
- Almost 57 percent of last year's entering freshmen participated in the Advanced Placement program, with more than 61 percent receiving credit for one or more courses.
- Clemson features a competitive student body, and thus a degree that has meaning. Clemson's 2003 entering freshman class achieved an average SAT score of 1240. This score is the highest ever attained by Clemson's entering students and once again leads the state's public colleges and universities.
- Since 1993, honors students have accounted for more than 10 percent of Clemson's freshman class and 45 percent of incoming freshmen graduated in the top-10 percent of their high school class.
- Clemson has a mentoring program to help students prepare and compete for Rhodes, Truman, Marshall, and Fulbright Scholarships.
- Clemson's total enrollment of 15,873 represents 50 states and 95 foreign countries.
- More than 450 employers interview Clemson students on campus each year through the University's Michelin Career Center.
- The Clemson family includes a mentoring and support network of over 80,000 alumni worldwide.

The Walker Golf Course is one of the most picturesque areas of Clemson's campus. It is one of the top courses in the state and features the signature 17th hole, a challenging par three whose green and four accompanying bunkers are in the shape of Clemson's Tiger Paw logo.

With an average year-round temperature of 75 degrees, including 68 degrees during the football season, the Clemson campus scene is enhanced by Lake Hartwell, which borders the campus to the west. Water sports or just a quiet place to relax are in abundance right in your own backyard.

Entertainment
With a famous and spacious stadium, more than just football games come to Death Valley. Concerts featuring the likes of George Strait, The Eagles, U2 and the Rolling Stones have been held at Clemson in recent years.

Homecoming
Homecoming weekend is a special time at Clemson. It is a weekend filled with color and pageantry that makes college football in the South a special event.

Atlantic Coast Conference
Clemson plays in the ACC, one of the top conferences in the nation.

Lake Hartwell
With an average temperature of 75 degrees, including 68 degrees during the football season, the Clemson campus scene is enhanced by Lake Hartwell, which borders the campus. The lake provides an opportunity for the Clemson community to enjoy water sports or simply a quiet place to relax.

Spirit
Clemson is fortunate to have some of the most loyal fans in collegiate athletics. The gameday atmosphere at Clemson is made special by the fans.

Tradition
The Clemson campus dates to 1889, and many of the buildings, like Tillman Hall, are steeped in tradition. A statue of the University's founder, Thomas Green Clemson, greets visitors in front of Tillman Hall.

The signs on the side of the highway as you enter Clemson say "Clemson: In Season Every Season." From the point of view of most Clemson graduates, the seasons this slogan speaks of are football, basketball, baseball, etc. But a drive through town in the middle of spring, when the azaleas and dogwoods are in full bloom, or a walk through campus in October, when the trees are blazing in the brilliant colors of autumn, will leave little doubt that Clemson is indeed in season, every season.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson is located in the northwestern corner of South Carolina, two hours northeast of Atlanta, GA and two hours southwest of Charlotte, NC. The town may not be one of the state's largest most days, but on many autumn Saturdays, it becomes one of the largest cities, as over 81,000 fans come from all directions to watch the Tigers play football; but the friendly residents of Clemson and the surrounding towns welcome the visitors home each year with a true dose of southern hospitality.

Clemson is steeped in history. The University campus is located on what was Fort Hill Plantation, home of John C. Calhoun, one of the great statesmen of the 19th century, and his son-in-law, Thomas Green Clemson. The house, which was built in 1806, stands in the center of campus and is open to the public. Also on the Clemson campus is a 1716 Lowcountry French Huguenot home (Hanover House), which was transported to Clemson in 1941. Just a mile or so down the road, is the Pendleton Historic District, where several other antebellum homes are open to the public. The entire village of Pendleton is on the National Register of Historic Places.

The area boasts a great variety of restaurants, ranging from the downtown barbecue and hamburger spots, to the historic Liberty Hall Inn and Calhoun Corners. Any palate or budget can find something to his or her liking, as more than 50 eating establishments are located in the Clemson/Pendleton/Central area. The area adopts “Clemson Fever,” as Tiger Paws are omnipresent on local billboards and entrances.

The mild climate of the foothills lends itself to many outdoor activities throughout the year. Clemson has excellent and ample facilities for tennis, golf, fishing, swimming, hiking, white-water rafting, and various other pursuits.

And when one wants to leave the area, they do not have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Professional sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte. Clemson was the home of the NFL's Carolina Panthers for eight regular-season and two exhibition games in 1995.

For sun and fun, it is an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium, home of Tiger Baseball since 1970, has a capacity of 5,000. It is located on the west side of the Clemson campus, while the campus is a two-hour drive from Atlanta, Charlotte, and Columbia. The beaches of coastal South Carolina are only four hours away, while the awe-inspiring sights of the Blue Ridge Mountains can be viewed just a few miles northwest of Clemson.

Vickery Hall

Since its inception in 1991, the five-faceted Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has provided its student-athletes a continued commitment to excellence. Our approach is to address the total student-athlete, and we are committed to coaching our student-athletes to success (C.A.T.S.), not only in the athletic arena, but in the academic, personal growth, career, and service arenas as well. As an original member of the NCAA Life Skills/CHAMPS Program, we provide opportunities and services to address the changing needs and skills of student-athletes in the years during college and after graduation.

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to "The New Littlejohn Coliseum," to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 19 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition.

Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3-million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and was the first facility in the nation built solely for the all-around academic support of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square-foot building is open all day and into the evening to accommodate the student-athletes' extended schedules.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage Clemson's student-athletes to fulfill their long-term goals, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

Vickery Hall focuses on four primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Vickery Hall

Academic Commitment

A record eight Clemson athletic teams earned over a 3.0 GPA for the spring semester of 2003. A record 231 student-athletes were named to the Academic Honor Roll for the semester. Student-athletes had a combined GPA of 2.84, second highest for a semester on record behind a 2.85 mark set in the spring of 2002. At least 200 student-athletes have made the Academic Honor Roll in eight straight semesters.

Thirty-six student-athletes had a perfect 4.0 for the semester, one short of the semester record of 37, set in the spring of 2002. A total of 101 student-athletes were on the dean's list, the fourth-straight semester the 100 mark had been exceeded.

These outstanding statistics have been a habit in recent years. The cumulative grade point average of the athletic teams has improved 18 of the last 24 semesters, making a steady rise from 2.33 to 2.84 over the last 12 years.

Forty-eight student-athletes went through graduation exercises last May. Fifteen times in the last five years, a Clemson student-athlete has been named to a Verizon Academic All-America team, more than any other five-year period in Clemson history.

One of the most prestigious programs that has received significant recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program. Of 450 tutoring programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Program was one of the first three student-athlete programs in the country to be granted all three levels of certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. The program was also honored with the National Champs Skills Excellence Award in 1999, one of only six schools across the country to be honored.

Having tutor certification allows student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

Dick Hendley Computer Room

Many postgraduate scholarships and internships are also available to student-athletes continuing their education through postgraduate studies. Our student-athletes are provided timely information regarding these opportunities and the resources necessary to assist in the application process for either scholarships or internships.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with one of the largest computer labs in the country.

Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Dick Hendley Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and a limited time on the weekend. Vickery Hall is now a "wireless facility," which allows student-athletes in the building with laptop computers to access the campus mainframe without physically plugging into the system.

The lab staff has a full-time computer manager, and also graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in the computer science field. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any computer science course, as well as the many management, engineering, and business courses that deal with personal computers.

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. New computers have recently been purchased, bringing the lab to a state-of-the-art facility. More than 50 computers are available for student-athletes.

All computers are fully connected to the internet, allowing for access of computers

Career Development Commitment

The Career Assistance Program provides student-athletes an opportunity to fulfill career aspirations by participating in various career seminars offered by the Vickery Hall staff. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job-searching skills and strategies, internships, practical experience, and summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities and acquire information about the student-athletes for each academic year.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center, and the Athletic Department, the staff is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with the Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athletes with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Career Assistance Program is coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and focuses on resumé writing and interview techniques.

The SAEP career assistance program has a full-time career counselor housed in Vickery Hall. Unique to our program, the career counselor is a member of the Michelin Career Center staff as well as the Student-Athlete Enrichment staff. This link between athletics and the Michelin Career Center provides student athletes the most up-to-date information and resources in career development and preparation for entrance into the job market upon graduation.

Personal Development Commitment

One of the most important programs that helps student-athletes reach their full potential and engage successfully in this college experience is the Personal Growth and Development Program.

One of the key components of this program is the first-semester, freshman-transition class designed to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life.

All first-semester freshmen attend a semester-long series of workshops targeting the transitional issues of time management, organizational strategies, health and wellness issues, athletic issues, diversity issues, career orientation, and service training. Throughout the academic year, all student-athletes are required to attend four large-group programs, which focus on pertinent social, health, and athletic issues.

Service Commitment

Providing community and outreach service to student-athletes and the surrounding community by engaging the student-athletes in hands-on interactive programs is an important aspect of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs. The staff of SAEP coordinates various activities each year to engage student-athletes in community outreach projects along with academic programs.

Another aspect of the service commitment is that of community service. The purpose of community service is to allow the student-athletes to become involved with the happenings of the community while giving back at the same time. Each year, every team is required to perform at least two community outreach projects. Recently implemented was a new community service program entitled "Success Away From the Game."

The purpose of this program is to combine student-athletes of different sports in community outreach programs. Each outreach program participates, thus creating a diverse group of athletes with new and different ideas. At the end of each year, six student-athletes who have demonstrated outstanding commitment and contributions to the community are recognized as the Top Six by the ACC.

To assist our student-athletes in becoming effective service leaders and communicators, we provide service and speaking training, which anticipates the demands placed on a student-athlete when he/she might be speaking with a group of young people off the field or with members of the media on the playing field.

Team captain Kyle Frank, a three-year starter and four-time letterman (1999,01–03) at Clemson, earned his degree in computer information systems in 2003.

Personal Growth

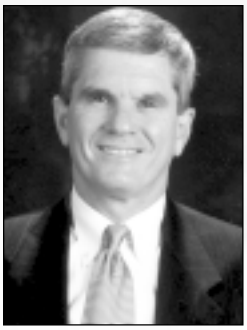
The personal growth and development programs are designed to provide student athletes with a smooth transition to college life and to enhance decision-making skills crucial to their personal and academic lives.

All freshman student-athletes are required to attend one 50-minute session per week for approximately 16 weeks during their first semester at Clemson. The freshman year is targeted heavily because it is a crucial time for student-athletes to obtain success in all areas. Success lays the foundation for positive experiences during college and into life after graduation.

The programs are facilitated by the development coordinator and utilize a variety of teaching approaches, including group discussion, video presentation, peer facilitation, and speakers who are specialists in their fields.

Freshman-Year Areas to be Addressed

1. Academic Success
   - Notebook organization
   - Communicating with professors
   - Note-taking
   - Interacting with tutors
2. Health & Wellness Issues
   - Sports nutrition
   - Stress management
   - Sexually transmitted diseases
   - Sleep management
   - Alcohol and other drugs
   - Rape awareness
3. Athletic Issues
   - Little free time
   - Increased visibility
   - Social pressures
   - Competitive pressures
   - Fear of injury
   - Travel schedules
4. Values & Goals
   - Values clarification
   - Dealing with authority
   - Cultural diversity
   - Ethics awareness
   - Conflict resolution
   - Goal-setting



Clemson University President James F. Barker is first and foremost an architect. So it is no surprise that he came to the office he currently resides with a clear blueprint of Clemson's future in mind - a future built around such ideas as collaboration, community, and quality.

A 1970 Clemson graduate, the former dean of the university's College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities was named president in October of 1999 and embarked on a goal of making Clemson one of the nation's top public universities. From that vision came the development of a set of 10-year goals adopted in 2001 - goals that are already showing results, including:

- a 70-plus-percent increase in research support over two years, earning Clemson a ranking as one of the nation's top 100 research universities and surpassing $100 million in annual research support;
- an academic plan that identifies eight emphasis areas where Clemson hopes to build nationally recognized programs;
- the recruitment of more outstanding young faculty, including 16 National Science Foundation CAREER award winners, given to the nation's most promising faculty;
- the enrollment of Clemson's brightest freshman class, with an average SAT exceeding 1205;
- recognition as Time Magazine's Public College-of-the-Year for its innovative Communication Across the Curriculum program.

Building a Future for Clemson

Barker earned his bachelor of architecture degree from Clemson and his master of architecture and urban design degree from Washington University in Saint Louis, MO. Before returning to Clemson in 1986 to serve as dean of the College of Architecture, he was dean of the School of Architecture at Mississippi State University. In 1995, he became dean of the new College of Architecture, Arts, and Humanities, which was created after a comprehensive reorganization and has received national attention as a new model in education.

He is a recipient of the National Distinguished Professor Award of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and served as president of that association. Barker was named Fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He also has been a partner in an architectural practice.

He has been awarded honorary doctoral degrees from South Carolina State University and Mars Hill College, and has served on the Truman Scholars selection committee. He currently serves on the Commission of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the region's accrediting agency. In 2003, Barker received the Greenville Chamber of Commerce Buck Mickel Award for Community Service and was named one of Greenville Magazine's 50 most influential people in the area.

As chair of the ACC's Council on Presidents in 2003, Barker played a key role in the Atlantic Coast Conference expansion efforts as well as the development of collaborative academic initiatives.

Barker co-founded Clemson's S.C. Design Arts Partnership to support community design outreach projects, initiated the Charleston Architecture Center, established the University's "Arts in April" program, and developed a Mayors' Institute to help city leaders learn how to manage issues related to growth and development.

Despite his responsibilities as president, Barker remains committed to the classroom. Each spring, he is part of a team that teaches an undergraduate course exploring "a sense of place" in architecture, literature, and history.

President Barker threw out the "first pitch" at a Tiger home baseball game just days after being named Clemson University's 14th president in February of 2000.

Barker's Goals By 2010

Academics, Research, & Service

1. Excel in teaching, at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.
2. Increase research and sponsored programs to exceed $100 million a year in research support.
3. Set the standard in public service for land-grant universities by engaging the whole campus in service and outreach, including a focus on strategic emphasis areas.
4. Foster Clemson's academic reputation through strong academic programs, mission-oriented research and academic centers of excellence, relevant public service, and highly-regarded faculty and staff.
5. Seek and cultivate areas where teaching, research, and service overlap.

Campus Life

1. Strengthen our sense of community and increase our diversity.
2. Recognize & appreciate Clemson's distinctiveness.
3. Create greater awareness of international programs and increase activity in this area.
4. Increase our focus on collaboration.
5. Maintain an environment that is healthy, safe, and attractive.

Clemson's National Reputation

1. Promote high integrity and professional demeanor among all members of the University community.
2. Establish a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.
3. Have at least two Clemson students win Rhodes Scholarships.
4. Send student ensembles to perform at Carnegie Hall.
5. Have at least two Clemson faculty members win recognition by national academies.
6. Publicize both national and international accomplishments of faculty, staff, and students.
7. While maintaining full compliance, achieve notable recognition with another national football championship, two championships in Olympic sports, and two Final Four appearances in basketball.

Educational Resources

1. Campaign goal surpassed by 40 percent.
2. Rededicate our energy and resources to improving the library.
3. Increase faculty compensation to a level competitive with top-20 public universities.
4. Increase academic expenditures per student to a level competitive with top-20 public universities.
5. Manage enrollment to ensure the highest quality classroom experiences.

Student Performance

1. Attract more students who are ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school classes and who perform exceptionally well on the SAT/ACT.
2. Promote high graduation rates by increasing freshman retention, meeting expectations of high achievers, and providing support systems for all students.
3. Promote excellence in advising.
4. Increase the annual number of doctoral graduates to the level of a top-20 public research university.
5. Improve the national competitiveness of graduate student admissions and financial aid.

Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips

It hasn't taken Dr. Terry Don Phillips long to begin to influence the direction of the Clemson athletic program. His first year as athletic director featured the establishment of a long-term strategic plan for Clemson athletics intended to provide opportunity for Clemson athletics to work toward becoming a model program, one that can compete at the highest levels in all sports. To become a model program, Clemson must be able to, not only compete at the highest levels, but do so with academic integrity, concern for the student-athlete, financial responsibility, and in full compliance.

"There is nothing worse than trying to maintain status quo," said Phillips, who became Clemson's 10th athletic director on July 1, 2002.

That motto has been a basic tenet that has characterized his career as an administrator and his pursuit to develop Clemson into a model athletic program in the 21st century. His beliefs are in line with the University's overall goal of making Clemson one of the top-20 public universities in the nation.

Strides were made toward these goals in his first year through facility improvements and the development of concepts that will serve the entire program. Littlejohn Coliseum and Doug Kingsmore Stadium completed renovations that now make them very competitive nationally. A new indoor track was completed in the summer of 2003 as well.

Phillips also introduced the West Endzone plan for Memorial Stadium. It is planned that in 2004, Clemson will begin construction at Death Valley that will add 2,000 premium club seats in the west endzone and create a new revenue stream for facilities at Clemson. After the completion of the club seats, future plans call for a new comprehensive football building at the stadium. The building will benefit the entire department, as it will create additional updated facilities for Clemson's Olympic sports program in the McFadden Building. A "One Clemson Center" to include the history of Clemson University and athletics is also a planned part of the project.

On the field of competition, Clemson won its first ever national championship in golf, with a landmark victory at Oklahoma State's Karsten Creek. Larry Penley's team was the #1-ranked team in the nation for the entire season and became the first golf program in history to win its conference, NCAA Regional, and NCAA National Tournaments. According to Phillips, this feat is a great tribute to Penley and Bobby Robinson, who laid the foundation for the Clemson golf program.

It was an ironic first national title at Clemson for Phillips in that he had been at Oklahoma State for eight years prior to his arrival at Clemson. He has now been the athletic director for three national championship golf programs in the last 10 years.

In terms of personnel, Phillips made national news when he hired Oliver Purnell as Clemson's head basketball coach. Purnell had led Dayton to 20-win seasons each of the last four years, including a 24-6 campaign in 2002-03 that included a top-four national seed for the NCAA Tournament and the championship of the Atlantic 10 Conference. Departmental diversity was further enhanced with the hiring of two outstanding individuals - former NCAA administrator Phil Grayson and former Clemson All-American football player Jeff Davis - to assistant athletic director positions.

Phillips is also known around the Clemson athletic department for his love of Clemson traditions and spirit. He instituted a "Solid Orange" day in the department that encourages athletic department employees to wear Clemson school colors every Friday. The plan has spread across the state, as Clemson fans, where possible, wear orange to work on Fridays. School children have also adopted the plan across the state. He has also instituted the playing of the alma mater at all athletic events.

"While we're working on infrastructure and strategy, we're working just as hard on school spirit and re-energizing the great pride we all have in Clemson," said Phillips in Clemson World, Clemson's Alumni magazine summer of 2003 issue. "When it (our spirit and pride) really flows - as it can at Clemson - it's an amazing testament from every alumnus, student, and supporter, and a tremendous boost to every Clemson effort. That is the case in recruiting; not only athletic recruiting, but academic as well."

Phillips has an undergraduate degree from Arkansas (1970), a master's degree from Virginia Tech (1974), a doctorate from Virginia Tech (1978), and a law degree from the Arkansas School of Law (1996). He is a member of the Arkansas Bar, American Bar Association, and the Sports Lawyers Association.

From an experience standpoint, Phillips has worked in nearly all phases of college athletics. He served as an assistant football coach at Virginia Tech, supervised spring sports and student-athlete enrichment at Florida, handled athletic fundraising and facility enhancement at Missouri and Arkansas, and had 15 years experience as an athletic director, including 13 at the Division I level prior to his appointment at Clemson.

When it came to success on the field and in the classroom at Oklahoma State, Phillips' programs were among the best in the Big 12 Conference. The achievements of the Oklahoma State program during his tenure (1994-02) included a pair of national championships in men's golf, a men's basketball Final Four, two trips to the College World Series, a Women's Softball World Series, 13 Big 12 Championships, and 11 individual national champions. Academically, it had 53 academic All-Americans.

From a facilities enhancement standpoint, the Oklahoma State program compiled a long list of successful facilities projects, including the completion of approximately $65 million in new construction. The projects included a new athletics center, complete with a strength/conditioning complex, locker facilities, player lounges, offices, meeting rooms, a sports medicine area, an academic center, and the Heritage Hall, among others. Gallagher-Iba Arena, the Cowboys' basketball facility, was expanded from 6,000 to 13,611 seats, and 14 suites were added. CBS Sportsline named it the best college basketball venue in the nation.

Before leading Oklahoma State, Phillips served as senior associate athletic director at Arkansas from 1988-94. He ran the daily operations and had oversight of facility projects for the men's programs, and was president of the Razorback Foundation.

Phillips was also athletic director at the University of Southwestern Louisiana from 1983-88 and Liberty College in 1980,81. He was an assistant athletic director at Missouri from 1981-83, where he supervised athletic fundraising. Phillips began his administrative career in 1978 as an assistant athletic director at Florida, where he worked with spring sports and student-athlete enrichment.

Phillips began his career in college athletics coaching football. He started as a graduate assistant at Arkansas (1970,71). He then moved on to Virginia Tech as an assistant coach (1971-78) before joining the athletic administration ranks. During his coaching career there, he served with former Clemson Head Coaches Charley Pell and Danny Ford.

Winning has been in Phillips' resumé since his playing days. At Arkansas, Phillips lettered on Frank Broyles' teams of 1966, 1968, and 1969. The Razorbacks were a combined 27-5 in those three seasons and played in two Sugar Bowl games. Phillips played for the Razorbacks in the famous 1969 Arkansas-Texas game that decided the National Championship. During the spring of 2003, the book Horns, Hogs, and Nixon's Coming chronicled that historic game. One of the assistant coaches on the 1968 and 1969 Arkansas teams was former Clemson Head Coach Hootie Ingram.

Phillips is the Chair of the NCAA Division I Infractions Appeals Committee, which serves the appellate role for all university and individual appeals arising from the Committee on Infractions. He also works with the NCAA Certification Program. He currently serves on the following ACC Committees: Finance Committee, Committee on Infractions and Penalties, Television Committee, the Men's Basketball Committee, and the Football Committee.

Phillips has two children - John Dennis (26) and Sarah Jane (22). He has three step-children - Meagan (14), Marshall (13), and Madison (11). He is married to Tricia Phillips, who earlier had an athletic administration career in marketing at Southwestern Louisiana and is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism.

Mission Statement

The Department of Athletics offers nationally prominent athletic programs. Through a dedicated commitment to educational interests, a competitive athletic program, and integrity in all areas, the student-athletes, coaches, and staff strive to bring credit and recognition to Clemson University.

The mission of the Athletic Department is to sponsor a broad-based athletic program that provides educational and athletic opportunities for young men and women to grow, develop, and serve the interests of Clemson University by complementing and enhancing its diversity and quality of life.

Furthermore, the Athletic Department seeks to be a source of pride for the citizens of the state of South Carolina and to be recognized as a nationally-prominent program, through consistently high levels of performance and accomplishment in athletic competitions.

The Athletic Department strives to develop student-athletes academically and athletically with the total commitment of aiding their efforts to graduate from Clemson University and advance to careers that will enable them to be productive members of society.

The Athletic Department will act in an ethical and honest manner, dedicated to compliance with all Federal, State, NCAA, Conference, and University rules and regulations.

This brief NCAA rules education is aimed at outlining basic recruiting rules to help potential students-athletes and parents better understand the process. Clemson University is committed to recruiting and conducting our athletic program with the highest level of integrity. If you have questions about NCAA rules, please contact compliance services at (864) 656-1580 or through our website at www.clemsontigers.com and click on compliance. Important NCAA Terms

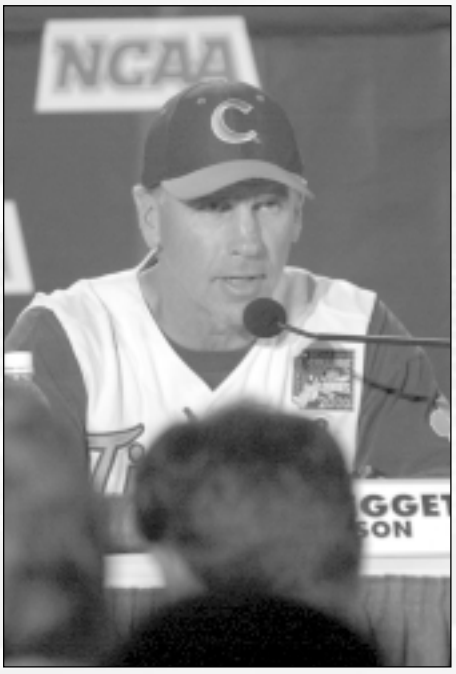
Academic Credentials - A prospect should check with his guidance office to see if he is taking classes that will meet NCAA eligibility standards. A prospect should do this early - at the end of his sophomore year - and keep track of core courses. A prospect will need to take either the ACT or SAT for NCAA certification.

Contact - NCAA rules define a contact as a face-to-face interaction with a prospect and/or his parents off Clemson's campus by a coach. NCAA rules set contact periods for senior baseball prospects from March 1 through July 31.

Core Courses - Courses at a prospect's high school that are considered college preparatory. For the class entering Clemson in 2004-05, 13 core courses are required, including four in English, two in math, two in science, one additional from English, math, or science, two social sciences, and two additional courses. For the class entering Clemson in 2005-06, 14 core courses are required. English, math, science, and social studies will remain the same. However, a prospect will need to have three additional core courses. A prospect's guidance counselor will have a list of the school's core courses, or visit www.act.org/ncaa for more information.



Evaluation - College coaches will evaluate a prospect's athletic and academic credentials. When evaluating, the coach will not have contact with a prospect unless it is during a contact period.

Home Visit - During the contact period, a senior prospect may invite college coaches to his home to meet his parents, and to talk in detail about the baseball program and academic offerings at any college the prospect is considering.

Receiving Mail - When a prospect is in the ninth and 10th grades, NCAA rules allow Clemson to mail just a questionnaire and summer-camp brochure to a prospect. After September 1 of a prospect's junior year, Clemson coaches can provide a prospect with the following: write personalized letters, send a media guide and copies of newspaper articles, and a schedule card.

Recruiting - A term used to describe the process of acquainting a prospect with a college and the coaches of that college, who are striving to learn more about a prospect. Only coaches can recruit - no one else can try and persuade a prospect to play sports at a particular college.

Prospect - Any student who has entered the ninth grade. Once they become a prospect, NCAA rules define how college coaches can interact with them.

Telephone - Clemson baseball coaches can call a prospect after September 1 of his senior year once a week. A prospect can expect unlimited calls five days before his official visit and once he has signed a National Letter of Intent.

Frequently Asked Questions

- Are a prospect's parents invited for an official visit? Yes. NCAA rules allow a school to provide lodging and meals for parents or legal guardians who accompany their child on an official visit. NCAA rules do not allow schools to provide transportation for parents unless they drive.

- Can a prospect visit Clemson anytime during his high school career? Yes. A prospect can call Tiger coaches to set up an unofficial visit. He can attend a game and talk with Tiger coaches, and it does not count as a contact when it is on Clemson's campus. There are times a prospect cannot visit - NCAA rules refer to them as "dead periods," and coaches will not schedule to meet with a prospect during that time period.

- What is IPTAY? IPTAY is an organization of Clemson fans. It generates financial support for the athletic department, and it is the best in the country! It has over 23,000 members.

- Can IPTAY members help recruit me? No. NCAA rules are clear that only coaches can telephone, contact, and evaluate a prospect. Only college coaches can offer unofficial and official visits.

- Is the prospect's high school coach invited for an official visit? NCAA rules are such that high school coaches may not be provided any expenses for official visits.

- What is a National Letter of Intent (NLI)? It is like a contract in that a prospect and his parents sign a promise that the prospect will attend a particular college. In return, that college promises a prospect financial aid. A prospect can sign his senior year. There is an early signing period in November and another one in April of the prospect's senior year. Once the prospect signs it, he cannot be recruited by any other school, and it is binding for the prospect's first year in college.

- What is an official visit? After September 1 of a prospect's senior year, he can take five official visits, which are expense-paid. Before the visit, the prospect must present a high school transcript and proof of an SAT, ACT, PACT, or PSAT test. Official visit invitations are extended by Clemson coaches only.

- What is the NCAA Clearinghouse? It is the agency that certifies a prospect's eligibility for NCAA Division I and Division II. A prospect should register with the NCAA Clearinghouse at the beginning of his senior year in high school. Applications are available in the prospect's guidance office. Cost is $30.

WE CALL IT TOTAL DURABILITY™
YOU'LL CALL IT THE EASTON DIFFERENCE

INTRODUCING EASTON TRIPLE 8 ALLOY

The other guys learned a lesson this past year: Alloy strength is great but without toughness, all you'll end up with is a bat that cracks instead of dents.

Only Easton's new Sc888™ Triple 8 Advanced Metal Matrix Alloy™ maximizes both strength (dent resistance) and toughness (crack resistance).

Easton Triple 8: The strongest, toughest, best performing alloy ever made.

How Badly Do You Want It?

2003 Fall Omaha Challenge

In the fall of 1998, Head Coach Jack Leggett conceived of a competition to test his players and help them reach their strength goals. The contest was named "Omaha Challenge." Its purpose is to serve as an intense form of evaluation to measure muscular endurance, mental toughness, and develop team unity using a variety of resistance, agility, and conditioning tests.

Before the 2004 season, the fielders competed against each other, as did the pitchers. The fielders performed the dumbbell bench press (60 pounds), pullups, sled pull, "Hercules Hold," dips, 120-yard "Omaha Shuttle," "Omaha Four-Lapper" (2.2 miles), and agility circuit. The pitchers performed in the same events as the fielders, except the pitchers did a 55-pound dumbbell bench press.

Sophomore infielder Herman Demmink captured the fielders' competition with 2,686 points, more than 296 points more than the closest competitor. Freshman righthander P.J. Zocchi won the pitchers' event, totaling 2,605 points.

Jervey Athletic Center

The Jervey Athletic Center, named in honor of one of Clemson's most beloved sons, Frank Johnstone Jervey, is a two-level complex that is the home of the University's intercollegiate athletic program.

The 67,000 square-foot building houses under one roof offices for all of the coaching and related staffs for Clemson's sports, a unique feature that places the center among the most modern of its kind anywhere. These offices are centrally located on the main level and recently had a $500,000 renovation.

Within the complex is all of the personnel and related facilities needed to conduct an effective, top-flight intercollegiate athletic program.

Beneath the main floor are dressing rooms for the varsity sports. Other facilities on this level include coaches' dressing rooms, a spacious training room, sauna and steam rooms, and an athletic equipment room.

Attached to and complementing the administrative-coaching personnel building is a two-level, multi-purpose structure of 29,000 square feet. The upper level of this building is where the Jervey Gym is located. The Jervey Athletic Center provides student-athletes with the most modern and up-to-date facilities in the country. It is one reason the Clemson athletic program is recognized as one of the best in America.

Strength Training Room

One of Clemson's most impressive athletic facilities is not quite as visible as Death Valley, Littlejohn Coliseum, or even Doug Kingsmore Stadium, even though it may be an even more important reason for the Tigers' success in all 19 varsity sports. Clemson's strength training facility, located in Jervey Athletic Center and adjacent to Doug Kingsmore Stadium, provides Clemson athletes with the very best in equipment, supervision, and atmosphere, as the Clemson strength training staff knows that success in the area of strength training will translate into success in athletic competition.

The strength training staff for baseball, headed by Tom Melton along with graduate assistants Tanna Burge and Richard Call, works constantly to ensure the strength training facility is one of the nation's best. Several renovations have been made over the last several years that has ensured it is among the best, on both the collegiate and professional levels.

Clemson has a new training facility with top-of-the-line equipment, including an aquatic center used to enhance rehabilitation.

Perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the facility is its size. In 1999, the facility was enlarged to 14,000 square feet, making it one of the largest in the nation. The facility boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights. The large number of machines and free weights allows the weight room to be used by athletes from several different sports at the same time, without anyone having to wait in line at a particular station.

The Tiger strength training room is bustling with action year-round. When an athlete enters the etched-glass doors, he or she is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 48-speaker sound system, a worthy backdrop for well over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Seven 42" plasma television monitors are also positioned throughout the strength training facility. These monitors are used for training and instruction, as strength coaches film the athletes and work with them on correction. When not in use for this purpose, the televisions, which are hooked into the sound system, provide atmosphere, as most Tiger student-athletes enjoy working out to the tune and sights of the latest music videos.

Training Room

The training room is one of the fine facilities in the Jervey Athletic Center. It is run by Danny Poole and it houses all of the latest training equipment. Poole heads up a staff of four full-time individuals with decades of experience. This professional staff, 13 students and 11 graduate student trainers, gives athletes the best possible care.

The training room underwent renovations last summer, making it one of the top facilities in the nation. Along with the cosmetic improvements, additions were made, including a hydrotherapy area, hot and cold jacuzzis, and a treatment tank with an underwater treadmill.

The training room retained its whirlpools, cybex machine, numerous stationary bikes, upper-body exerciser, Stairmaster, and all the latest devices for all kinds of treatment. Doctors have offices and an orthopedic examining room, and there is a conference room and a library. There are staff members present from 7:00 AM until late in the evening, and doctors staff the room daily from 2:00 PM until closing and is available at all hours for special situations.

Clemson's strength training facility features the very best equipment, supervision, and atmosphere.

Doug Kingsmore Stadium

Former Clemson baseball star and Board of Trustees Emeritus Doug Kingsmore gave the Clemson athletic department a $1 million gift towards renovation of Clemson's baseball stadium, formerly known as Tiger Field. George Bennett, executive director of IPTAY, made the announcement on January 28, 2000. Bennett also announced that the facility would be called Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

And during the 2002 and 2003 offseasons, Doug Kingsmore Stadium underwent radical renovations. Over $5 million was spent to make the facility among the best in the nation.

Kingsmore played for the Tiger varsity squad from 1952-54. An All-ACC and All-District III outfielder in 1954, Kingsmore became the first Clemson player in history to hit 10 home runs in a season. He did that in 1954 while playing in just 24 games. He led the ACC in home runs and runs scored (25) that year, and led the Tigers in batting average (.371), slugging percentage (.742), and RBIs (27).

Kingsmore played three years of professional baseball in the Baltimore Oriole organization before beginning a successful business career. He is currently president and chief executive of the Graniteville Company in Aiken, SC. He served three terms on the Clemson University Board of Trustees and became Trustee Emeritus when his current elected term expired in 2002.

In 2003, Clemson finished the home season with a 27-6 record and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 17th-straight season. In addition, Clemson ranked eighth in the country in average attendance with an average of 3,324 fans per game. It marked the 10th straight top-20 national ranking for the Tigers in attendance.

On June 3, 2000, 6,392 fans looked on as Clemson beat Mississippi State to earn its first trip to Omaha in four seasons. The crowd was the largest in Clemson history. In the opening game of the Super Regional, 6,308 fans attended the game. The two-game average of 6,350 gave Clemson the third-best attendance in the Super Regional round. Almost 16,000 fans also saw the three-game Super Regional against Arkansas in 2002.

This outstanding fan support from the Clemson community and the Upstate of South Carolina has contributed to Clemson's outstanding home-field record. Clemson has played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium for 34 years and has a winning percentage of 82 percent. This includes a 254-54 mark in ACC regular-season games, an 83-percent mark.

The Tigers have won at least 74 percent of their home games for 18 consecutive seasons. Clemson is 305-60 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium during Head Coach Jack Leggett's nine years at Clemson, an 84-percent mark. Nine times during the 1994 season an opposing top-20 team tasted defeat at Doug Kingsmore Stadium and four times a team ranked in the top three in the country lost to the Tigers. Seven wins against top-20 teams, including three wins over a top-10 Florida State team, were recorded at home in 1996. In 2000, the Tigers were 8-3 against top-25 foes at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. After Clemson won three games against #2 Florida State, Seminole Head Coach Mike Martin voiced his opinion on just how tough it is to play at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

"If you had told me in 1992 that we were going to go to a place where we'd be 2-13 over the next eight years, I would have gone to the administration and suggested we join another conference," Martin told the Tallahassee Democrat. "Clemson is a very tough place to play...the toughest place to play of any place I've ever competed in all my years of college baseball. The good news is it's 727 days before we have to go back to Clemson."

Doug Kingsmore Stadium has seen steady improvement since 1970 and is now one of the top facilities in the country. Just ask people at Baseball America, who released a coaches' ranking that had Doug Kingsmore Stadium as one of the best college facilities in the nation in January of 2003. And that ranking was done before any of the new renovations were finished. Evidence of its rating among facilities across the country has been demonstrated in recent years, when Doug Kingsmore Stadium was named as the site for the 1994, 1995, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2001, and 2002 NCAA Regionals.

Renovations to Doug Kingsmore Stadium began in the summer of 2002, which has kept Clemson's ballpark among the nation's best. The stadium has a new brick façade that surrounds every entrance. A new green roof that covers much more of the stands and a press box that is twice as large will add to the comfort of fans attending the game and the media covering it. The press box, which is accessible by elevator, includes four large booths for broadcasting and a separate media center that accommodates 21 writers.

There is also a new patio area outside the press box that is above the existing stands along the third and first-base lines. It is used for receptions, birthday parties, and other events throughout the year.

New ticket booths, concession stands, complete with adjoining picnic area, and enlarged restrooms make the facility easily accessible and fan-friendly. New reserved seats have also been added to the grandstand.

The grand staircase leading to the main entrance is one of many added features that makes Doug Kingsmore Stadium one of the best facilities in the country.

A grand stairway leading from the McFadden parking lot to the main entrance is an added feature from a convenience and aesthetic aspect.

The players also realize improvements, as four new batting cages have been constructed beyond the right-field fence. The dugouts have been almost doubled in length and width as well.

Tiger Pride is the capital campaign established to raise money for the cost of the renovations to Doug Kingsmore Stadium and renovations to other Clemson athletic venues. Those interested in learning more about Tiger Pride should contact the IPTAY office at Clemson University at (864) 656-2115.

The facility is also equipped with a "Super-Sopper," which cuts down on rainouts. Clemson is one of a few schools with this machine that removes water from the field.

The stadium is located in the middle of Clemson's athletic facilities. It is across the street from Littlejohn Coliseum, the home of the Tiger basketball program, and Memorial Stadium, the home of Clemson's football program. It is located directly behind Jervey Athletic Center, home of the athletic administrative offices.

The stadium has 3,500 permanent seats, but is capable of holding more than 5,000 thanks to a hill area down the left-field line that is popular with the Clemson student-body. In 2001, the ballpark shrank its dimensions. The fences are now 320 feet down the left-field line, 370 feet in left-center, 400 feet to straightaway center, 375 feet in the right-center alley, and 330 feet down the right-field line.

The park also features a terrace in the outfield area adjacent to the fence, similar to the old Crosley Field in Cincinnati, OH, which ironically was torn down the year Doug Kingsmore Stadium was built. Bill Wilhelm, Clemson's long-time coach who was the Tiger skipper when the field was constructed, liked the looks and practicality of a field with grass all the way around the outfield instead of gravel.

Boston Red Sox catcher Jason Varitek, who played at Georgia Tech in the 1990s, said Doug Kingsmore Stadium was his favorite venue to play at. "They had rowdy fans. And the fans are right on the action. They were closer to the on-deck circle than we were."

Note: Bold denotes 2004 opponent that will play at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

The entire seating area has been replaced with new seats, including chair-back seats in front of the press box.

The new temperature-controlled press box accomdates 21 writers, and has four separate booths for radio and television.

A batting practice complex with four batting cages has been added behind the right-field fence.

The players' lounge, which includes pool tables and a ping-pong table, is a place to relax before and after games.

The brick plaza and entrance behind the stadium gives the facility a feeling second-to-none.

On either side of the press box are large patio areas that are used for events around the year.

The Tigers' winning tradition, including 10 College World Series appearances, is displayed on the outfield fence.

Clemson has a season-ticket base of over 1,800 fans, enabling it to rank in the top 20 in attendance each of the last 10 years.

Clemson Baseball...A Championship Tradition

Clemson has made 10 appearances in the College World Series and has won 13 NCAA Regional Championships, including two Super Regional Championships in the last four seasons. The tradition dates to 1947, when Clemson advanced to the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament before losing to Yale and a first baseman named George Bush. Clemson has gone to the College World Series four times (1995,96,00,02) in Head Coach Jack Leggett's 10 seasons in Tigertown.

Clemson has won the ACC Regular-Season Championship 20 times, more than double any other ACC school. Clemson has also won 13 ACC Championships, five more than any other school. The program has the most ACC Tournament titles (eight) in history as well.

^ - ACC Tournament champion; * - NCAA Tournament participant; Note: Florida State had one non-conference road tie.

The Tradition

Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 51st year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 88 national championships. Since 1990, the ACC has won 45 NCAA national titles; and this past year, eight ACC schools finished in the top 50 of the final NACDA Directors' Cup ranking, including four in the top 25.

The ACC has placed at least four teams in the NCAA Baseball Tournament in 12 consecutive years, including five squads a year ago. Over the past eight years, the ACC is 124-83 (.599) in NCAA Tournament play, with nine College World Series participants.

Over the past 11 years, 45 of the 53 teams that have competed in the NCAA Tournament have won at least two games. In 2003, three of the five teams that participated in the tournament won at least three games and advanced to the Super Regionals.

For the 12th straight year, the ACC posted a non-conference winning percentage over 61 percent, winning 68 percent of the games played against non-conference opponents. The ACC was 198-92-1 a season ago, bettering the conference's record to 3007-1188-18 (.716) in non-league play since 1990.

In recent years, the ACC has garnered considerable attention at the national level, stocking Major League rosters with talented players. Over the past 10 seasons, 32 players from the ACC have been selected in the first round of the Major League Draft, including two players in the 2003 draft. The ACC has produced two #1 overall picks (Florida State's Paul Wilson in 1994 and Clemson's Kris Benson in 1996).

The ACC has also long enjoyed a reputation of academic excellence. Since the start of the ACC Academic Honor Roll, 1,138 baseball players have earned the academic distinction. Six baseball players have garnered ACC Postgraduate Scholarships, including Florida State pitcher Matt Lynch last year.

The History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, NC, with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, N.C. State, South Carolina, and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven institutions from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, NC, where a set of by-laws were adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven, and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first and only withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

Exactly 12 years later to the day, the ACC announced that Miami (FL) and Virginia Tech would join the ACC beginning in the 2004-05 academic year. A few months later, Boston College was admitted as the league's 12th member.

Rick Young

by Tim Bourret

When I wrote my pregame dedication to Jim Phillips for the opening of the Clemson-Middle Tennessee football broadcast last September, there was one story I left out. I knew if I started to tell it live on the air, I might not get through the segment.

The day after Jim's death, I got a call from Jeff Jeffers, sports director of WNDU-TV in South Bend, IN, who has been with the NBC affiliate since 1975. He had met the "Voice of the Tigers" in 1979 when Clemson made its only trip to Notre Dame Stadium, a game Clemson won 16-10.

Nearly every time I had talked with Jeff since then, he always asked how Jim Phillips was doing. When he called on September 10 to ask me if I thought Notre Dame would one day be in the ACC, I told him of Jim's sudden passing and he immediately expressed his condolences. At the end of the conversation, he said he would go over to the Grotto on Notre Dame's campus and light a candle for the "Voice of the Tigers."

I wish that I had told that story at some point during the broadcast because it speaks volumes about Jim Phillips, his character, and his level of respect among his peers, both locally and nationally. Here was a broadcaster 800 miles away who spent time with him over just one weekend in 1979, and he felt compelled by his passing to go out of his way to spiritually honor him at one of Notre Dame's most famous landmarks.

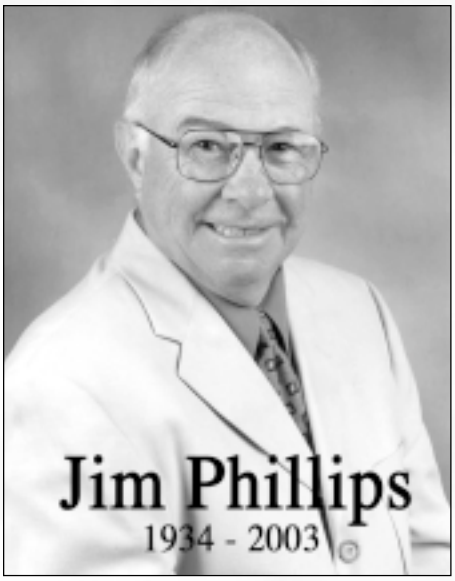
Why was Jim Phillips so revered by fans, players, coaches, and media comrades?

He was a blue-collar worker with no ego. That was a common thread in testimonials from his ACC colleagues. Whether he was stopped by Brent Musburger, Dick Vitale (who ranked him on his website just last year as one of his top 20 college basketball announcers), or a young announcer with a visiting student radio station, Phillips always gave the person the time of day and then some. Even though he was never a state employee, he probably did as much for Clemson public relations as anyone this side of Bob Bradley over the last four decades.

And speaking of "Mr. B," there were a lot of common denominators between Clemson's longtime sports information director and Phillips. They worked together for 33 years in the SID/broadcaster roles, so they learned from each other. Bradley was respected nationally in his field for his ability to represent Clemson University in a professional manner with unparalleled credibility. Like Phillips, Bradley treated a media member for Sports Illustrated or The Tiger, Clemson's student newspaper, with the same patience and decorum. Both men never met a stranger.

Both had incredible streaks of attendance that ended in the middle of a football season. Bradley worked 501 consecutive football games between 1955-00, then passed away after battling cancer in the middle of the season. Phillips worked 401 Clemson football games and passed away just three days after doing the Clemson-Furman game on September 6, 2003.

Both were well known for their contributions to Clemson football and basketball, but the truth is their favorite sport was baseball. I wish I had a tape recorder for some of those pregame baseball discussions when I was surrounded in the dugout by Bradley, Phillips, and Coach Bill Wilhelm.



Jim Phillips was one of the few announcers in the country to broadcast men's & women's basketball, football, and baseball on a regular basis. He was the "Voice of the Tigers" for over 36 years (1958–03).

One of Jim's favorite Clemson broadcasts took place in 1995, a regular-season baseball victory at N.C. State when Clemson overcame a 15-4 deficit with 11 runs in the top of the ninth inning. Clemson then won it 17-15 in extra innings. It was perhaps the most extraordinary baseball game he had ever seen.

He was certainly in his element when he was at the College World Series, probably his favorite event. He broadcast all of Clemson's College World Series games from 1976-02, eight trips to Omaha overall.

Clemson fans are hard-working, down-to-earth people; and that is a reason both Bradley and Phillips fit in at Clemson. Even though Phillips grew up in Ohio and never had a southern accent, he had a way with Clemson people. I do not know how many people told me they would just turn the radio on and scan the dial until they found his voice, then they knew they had found the Clemson game.

I remember one baseball game a couple of years back when he was on his way to the field to do a postgame interview with Coach Jack Leggett. He was stopped by a fan in a wheelchair who started to ask Jim questions about the game. Another fan interrupted and said, "Let Jim go, he needs to get to the field." But, Jim responded, "No, Coach Leggett can wait a couple of minutes, I'm going to answer these questions."

When I think of Jim Phillips, the words that come to my mind are credibility, professionalism, and enthusiasm. At age 69, he was the only ACC broadcaster who worked football, basketball (men and women), and baseball. He might have been the only play-by-play announcer in the nation to do all four sports at the same time.

But, he still worked as hard for a baseball or women's basketball broadcast as he did for a football game. Perhaps no one benefited from his overall love of Clemson athletes more than Women's Basketball Coach Jim Davis. Coach Davis would be the first to tell you that he brought instant credibility to his program. When the Lady Tigers won the ACC Tournament in 1996, who ran out on the floor to get in the front row of the team photo?...Jim Phillips. He had quite a smile on his face because he had finally broadcast his first ACC basketball championship.

Leggett would also document the credibility and professional approach he brought to his program over his 10 years with his program.

Those in attendance at the Middle Tennessee football game on September 13, 2003 would not be surprised by the outward sign of affection for Phillips from fans all over the country. While the week had started in sadness, it concluded with an uplifting celebration of his life.

From Central Spirit's development of a "JP" balloon that honored him, to the team wearing "JP" on their helmets, to a halftime video tribute complete with his most famous calls in all sports that concluded with a standing ovation from 71,000 fans, to the band spelling out "JIM" as it exited the field, to the performance of the Tiger team in a 37-14 win; it was a memorable celebration of the man who will forever be the "Voice of the Tigers."

The highlight of the day from a broadcasting standpoint took place when 83-year-old Bob Fulton, his close friend of 36 years and the voice of South Carolina athletics for 40 years, took over the play-by-play duties for a Clemson drive in the second quarter. This was the idea of Phillips' son (Jeff), who did a masterful job throughout the week in organizing the funeral services and memorials.

When Jeff came to me with the idea of putting Fulton on the broadcast, we simultaneously said with a smile, "Wouldn't it be great if Clemson went on a long touchdown drive." Just as if it had been orchestrated from above, the Tigers went on a nine-play drive that culminated with a touchdown.

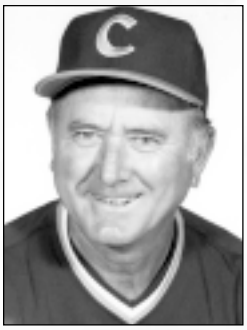
Phillips' impact on Clemson athletics has been immense. Every Clemson fan 40 years of age or younger has no other "Voice of the Tigers" in their memory bank. When he applied for the job at Clemson in the summer of 1968, the only Frank Howard he knew was the American League home run champion of the Washington Senators. Now he sits in the same Hall of Fame with Clemson's all-time athletic legend.

I was asked by the Phillips family to fill his role as play-by-play announcer for the Middle Tennessee game, and I gratefully accepted. When I did that broadcast, I accepted the greatest honor I will receive in college athletics. Jim and I worked together for 23 years on Clemson basketball broadcasts, and we did seven years of football together from 1982-88. He was more than a broadcast partner, he was a valued and respected friend, someone I turned to for advice in my work in the sports information office for 25 years. Jim Phillips provided coaches, players, administrators, and most of all, the fans with a guiding light to Clemson University athletics.

Next time I am at Notre Dame, I'll go by the Grotto and light my own candle for Jim Phillips.

Tim Bourret is Clemson's Sports Information Director and is in his 26th year at Clemson.

Bill Wilhelm



In his 36 years as a head coach, all at Clemson University, Bill Wilhelm posted a record of 1,161-536-10, making him the fifth-winningest coach in the history of college baseball at the time of his retirement. Wilhelm has indeed earned his place among the legends of the college game.

Serving as head baseball coach at one school for your entire career is quite an accomplishment. Having 36 seasons under your belt is an even greater accomplishment. But spending your entire 36-year career at one school and never having a losing season is incredible. That is one of just many accomplishments for the former Tiger coach.

Wilhelm coached his first game at Clemson, a 7-5 win against Michigan State, on March 22, 1958, and the victories never stopped during his 36 years and 1,707 games coached.

Wilhelm had five different teams record at least 50 wins, but his 1993 and last edition may have been his most overachieving squad. The ACC Tournament proved to be pure magic, as the Tigers went through the five-day tournament with a 5-1 record, including a come-from-behind 11-7 win over N.C. State in the championship game.

Clemson received a #2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Regional in Knoxville, TN, the sixth-consecutive year the Tigers were a #1 or #2 seed heading into NCAA postseason action. During play in Knoxville, the 1993 Tigers set the Clemson record for wins against top-25 teams in a season with 13, so the 45 wins were accomplished against a standout schedule. Thirty-two of the 65 games were against teams that played in the NCAA Tournament.

Although Wilhelm had many rewarding seasons at Clemson, 1991 was his most successful in terms of wins. The Tigers ran up a 60-10 record that season, the best record in the nation, captured the ACC regular-season title, swept the ACC Tourney and the NCAA Northeast Regional, and earned a trip to the College World Series. That number of victories set an ACC record for wins in a season, breaking the old record of 54, set by the 1987 and 1988 teams.

Wilhelm's 1991 Tigers ranked #4 in Baseball America's final poll. The trip to Omaha marked the sixth of his coaching career, and the Tigers' ACC title was his 10th as head coach. He was named the District III Diamond Baseball Coach-of-the-Year and the ACC Coach-of-the-Year in 1991.

In his last seven years at Clemson, Wilhelm took the Tigers to the NCAA Tourney seven times and his teams posted a 356-115-1 record during that period, an average of nearly 51 wins a year. He took a team to the NCAA Tourney 17 times in his career, tops for an ACC coach.

Wilhelm's 1,161 wins rank as one of the highest victory totals in any sport by an ACC head coach. He posted a record of 450-188-1 against ACC teams, a 70.5 winning percentage. That figure includes the ACC Tourney and regular-season games that did not count in the ACC standings. In regular-season play against the league, Wilhelm was 381-158-1, a 70.6 winning percentage.

The Tigers have won 13 ACC titles outright, more than any other team, and Wilhelm was the mentor for 11 of them. Clemson has either won or tied for the regular-season title 22 times, and Wilhelm was the head coach on 19 of those occasions. Wilhelm had 10 consecutive years (1973-82) where the Tigers either won the ACC regular-season or tournament title.

Wilhelm, a native of China Grove, NC, played at N.C. State for two seasons before signing with the Saint Louis Cardinals in June of 1950. After one year of pro baseball, he entered military service, where he spent two years. He played service ball and spent two more years in the professional ranks before returning to college. He entered Catawba College (Salisbury, NC) and received his undergraduate degree in January of 1957.

Upon graduation, Wilhelm began work on his master's degree at North Carolina. At the same time, he served as an assistant coach for the Tar Heels under Walter Rabb and played catcher for Greensboro in the Carolina League. In August of 1958, Wilhelm received his graduate degree from North Carolina while he was coaching at Clemson. He coached Clemson to the College World Series each of his first two seasons with the Tiger program.

In the spring of 1957, when North Carolina played at Clemson, Tiger Athletic Director Frank Howard asked Rabb to recommend a new baseball coach for Clemson so that the Tigers' head coach (Bob Smith) could become a full-time football coach. Howard took Rabb's advice and hired Wilhelm.

Tiger Timeline

April 24, 1896 - Clemson played its first baseball game, a 20-13 loss to Furman. The home games were played at Bowman Field in front of Tillman Hall. The Tigers' first head coach was R.T.V. Bowman.

May 12, 1899 - Clemson played rival South Carolina for the first time. The Tigers were victorious by a 21-8 score in eight innings in Columbia. The Gamecocks are the Tigers' most common opponent to date (247 meetings, Clemson leads 148-97-2 (.603)).

1900 - Legendary football coach John Heisman, who coached Clemson's gridders for four seasons, was named Clemson's baseball coach. Heisman compiled a 28-6-1 (.814) record in three seasons (1901-03), which still stands today as the best winning percentage in Tiger history, slightly ahead of another legendary football coach, Frank Howard.

1904 - The Tigers' first future Major Leaguer, Vet Sitton, played in his first season at Clemson. The Pendleton, SC native, a 5-11, 170-pound righthander, played one season for the Indians in 1909, where he was 3-2 with a 2.88 ERA in 50.0 innings pitched. Sitton later was the Tigers' head coach from 1915-16 and compiled a 26-18-1 (.589) record.

April 12, 1913 - Doc Ezell pitched Clemson's first no-hitter in a 5-0 victory over Erskine.

March 27, 1916 - Clemson defeated West Virginia Wesleyan 4-2 in the first game played at Riggs Baseball Field. Clemson played on this field until the 1970 season.

April 29, 1916 - Elmer Long pitched a no-hitter in a 2-0 win over Virginia Military.

1921 - Clemson joined the Southern Conference and was a charter member.

1922 - Flint Rhem, one of Clemson's greatest players of the 20th century, played in his first season at Clemson. He played in the 1922-24 seasons and later went on to play 12 Major League seasons with the Saint Louis Cardinals, Philadelphia Phillies, and Boston Braves. He had a 105-97 career record with a 4.20 ERA and over 1,500 strikeouts. He was 20-7 with a 3.21 ERA with the Cardinals in 1926 in his best season. He once pitched a no-hitter (in 1924, one season before his rookie season in the Majors) while playing for the Fort Smith (AR) minor league team. He struck out 16 batters in the game and made it in "Ripley's Believe It or Not" by not allowing a ball to be hit out of the infield.

April 17, 1924 - Lefty Smith pitched a no-hitter in a 6-0 win over South Carolina.

1931 - Clemson's season was cut short due to an outbreak of meningitis on campus in April. Clemson finished 6-2.

1932 - Legendary football coach Jess Neely, who coached Clemson's gridders for nine seasons (1931-39), coached in his first season as Clemson's baseball coach. He compiled a 68-67-2 (.504) record in seven seasons (1932-38).

1941 - Dude Buchanan set the school record for batting average in a single season with a .485 mark (33-for-68).

1943 - Frank Howard, Clemson's career leader in football wins (165), coached the baseball team for one season, compiling a 12-3 record. His career record is still the second-best of any coach in Tiger history. There have only been five different baseball head coaches since his brief stint.

March 29, 1946 - Joe Landrum pitched a no-hitter in a 6-0 win over Erskine.

1947 - Joe Landrum was Clemson's first All-American in baseball. He earned first-team honors from the Coaches Association after posting a 12-2 record and 2.23 ERA. Landrum went on to pitch with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clemson won the Southern Conference Championship with a 13-2 record.

June 12–20, 1947 - Clemson participated in the NCAA Tournament for the first time. The Tigers advanced to the NCAA Eastern Finals and lost to eventual finalist Yale (and first-baseman George Bush) on June 20 at New Haven, CT.

May 5, 1950 - Fred Knoebel hit for the cycle (the first by a Tiger) at South Carolina. He walked in the first, tripled in second, singled in the fourth and hit a home run in the fifth. Knoebel also doubled in the seventh and was hit by a pitch in the eighth. Clemson won the game 14-5.

June 8,9, 1950 - Clemson participated in the NCAA Tournament. The Tigers lost to Alabama and Kentucky at Kannapolis, NC.

April 4, 1952 - Billy O'Dell struck out a Clemson-record 21 batters in a 5-2 win over South Carolina in Orangeburg, SC.

May 8, 1953 - Billy O'Dell pitched a no-hitter in a 2-0 win over South Carolina. That same day, Clemson officially joined the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference.

1954 - Clemson won the ACC title with an 8-4 ACC regular-season record in the conference's inaugural season.

May 22–24, 1954 - Clemson participated in the NCAA Playoffs in a home-and-home series with Virginia Tech, but lost to the Gobblers twice in as many games. Clemson lost the first game 11-10 on May 22. It marked the first NCAA tournament event in any sport played at Clemson in history. The Tigers lost to Virginia Tech two days later 7-1 in Blacksburg.

Fall, 1957 - From the advice of North Carolina Head Coach Walter Rabb, Frank Howard hired a 27-year old assistant from China Grove, NC named Bill Wilhelm.

March 24, 1958 - Bill Wilhelm coached his first game and defeated Michigan State 7-5 in a seven-inning game at Clemson.

May 19, 1958 - Clemson defeated North Carolina 4-1 at Gastonia, NC in a playoff game to determine the ACC Championship. Both teams had 11-3 records after the regular season, forcing the one-game playoff.

June 5–9, 1958 - The Tigers won the NCAA District III Playoffs to advance to the College World Series. The Tigers lost their opening game of the NCAA Tournament to Florida 8-6. Therefore, the Tigers had to win five games in a row to advance to the College World Series in Omaha, NE, a destination never made before by Clemson at the time. So Clemson promptly defeated George Washington and Florida State to stay alive. The only problem was that Clemson had to defeat Florida twice on June 9 to advance. In the first game, the Tigers won a thriller 15-14 when first-year second baseman Bailey Hendley singled home Larry Wilson in the bottom of the ninth. Later in the day, Clemson won 3-1 to advance to the College World Series. Harold Stowe, who went on to pitch with the Yankees, pitched a four-hitter to earn his 13th victory of the season. The two wins in one day still stands today as the only time that Clemson won twice in one day to advance to the College World Series.

June 14–16, 1958 - Clemson participated in the College World Series for the first time ever. Clemson defeated Arizona 4-1 on June 14, but lost to Holy Cross 17-4 on June 15 and Western Michigan 5-3 on June 16.

1958 - Harold Stowe led the nation in appearances (21), innings pitched (127.0), strikeouts (126), and wins (14).

May 16 & 18, 1959 - After the 1959 regular season, Clemson, Wake Forest, and North Carolina were tied for first place, forcing a playoff among the three schools. Clemson defeated Wake Forest 4-2 at Thomasville, NC on May 16 and defeated North Carolina 9-7 in Gastonia, NC to claim the ACC crown.

June 4–6, 1959 - Clemson raced through the NCAA District III Playoffs in Gastonia, NC, defeating Georgia Tech 9-6, and Florida State twice, 24-2 and 5-0, to advance to the College World Series.

June 13–15, 1959 - The Tigers lost to Arizona 3-2 on June 13 in 12 innings in the their first game in Omaha. They bounced back and defeated Colorado State 7-1 the next day, but were eliminated by Penn State 7-0 on June 15.

1959 - Clemson was ranked #7 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

May 8, 1962 - Clemson hit an ACC-record five homers in one inning (sixth) against South Carolina in a 27-17 win. Clemson also hit a Tiger-record eight homers in the game.

1962 - Clemson led the nation in home runs per game, averaging 1.6.

April 10, 1965 - May 17, 1966 - Rusty Adkins had a 41-game hitting streak. Adkins hit .438 during the streak that still stands as the longest in ACC history.

1966 - Clemson led the nation in home runs per game (1.28), runs per game (9.1), and slugging percentage (.502).

May 6, 1967 - Nelson Gibson and Charlie Watson combined to pitch a no-hitter in a 3-0 win over Georgia Tech.

1967 - The Tigers won the ACC Championship with an 11-2 league record. Clemson was ranked #7 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

June 2–5, 1967 - Clemson participated in the NCAA District III Playoffs in Gastonia, NC. After losing the first game against Florida State, Clemson rebounded with three straight wins. But Auburn ended Clemson's season by defeating the Tigers 6-5 in the championship game in 13 innings.

June 6, 1968 - Lefthander John Curtis became Clemson's first first-round selection in the Major League Draft. Curtis was the 10th pick overall in the secondary phase by the Boston Red Sox.

March 7, 1970 - Clemson played its first two games at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. The Tigers defeated Louisville 10-0 and 8-1 in two seven-inning games. The field featured a "Crosley-like" terrace around the outfield fence that gave the field a more closed-in perspective and reduced maintenance for drainage purposes.

1970 - Clemson was ranked #18 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

April 17, 1971 - Dave Van Volkenburg pitched a no-hitter in an 11-0 win over Florida State in a seven-inning game.

1971 - Clemson was ranked #22 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

March 6, 1973 - Lindsay Graham pitched a no-hitter in a 3-0 win over Maryland in an eight-inning game.

1973 - Clemson won the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 10-2 ACC record.

April 19, 1974 - Chuck Porter pitched a Clemson and ACC-record 16.0 innings in earning the victory over Virginia 3-2 in the first game of a doubleheader at Clemson.

1974 - Clemson won the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 10-1 ACC record.

April 22, 1975 - Steve Tucker hit for the cycle at Georgia Tech. He doubled in the first, tripled in the fourth, homered in the sixth, and singled in both the seventh and ninth innings. Clemson won the game 18-3.

May 23,24, 1975 - Clemson participated in the NCAA Mideast Regional in Ypsilanti, MI. Eastern Michigan and Penn Sate defeated the Tigers 5-3 and 5-4, respectively.

1975 - Denny Walling led the nation with 1.58 RBIs per game. Clemson tied for the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 10-2 ACC record and was ranked #25 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

March 28, 1976 - Clemson defeated North Carolina-Wilmington 10-2 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium for the 1,000th victory in school history.

April 17, 1976 - Ron Musselman pitched a no-hitter in a 9-0 win over Virginia. Clemson was ranked #5 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

1976 - Clemson won the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 10-2 ACC record.

April 23–25, 1976 - Clemson won its first ACC Tournament Championship as the Tigers defeated Wake Forest 2-0, and Maryland in two games (2-1 and 3-2) at Clemson.

May 21–24, 1976 - The Tigers won the NCAA Atlantic Regional in Columbia, SC by downing Furman 13-2 in game one, defeating South Carolina 10-4 in the second game, and beating Furman 6-2 to advance to Omaha.

June 11–14, 1976 - Clemson participated in the College World Series. The Tigers defeated Auburn 9-4 on June 11 and lost to Eastern Michigan 3-2 in 10 innings on June 13. Arizona eliminated the Tigers 10-6 on June 14.

February 26 – March 27, 1977 - Clemson opened the season with a 26-game winning streak, the longest streak in school history.

March 17, 1977 - Brian Snyder pitched a no-hitter in an 8-0 win over North Carolina-Wilmington.

1977 - Clemson captured the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 9-1 ACC record. Clemson was ranked #5 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

May 20–22, 1977 - Clemson defeated Mississippi and won two of three games from the host, Miami (FL), in winning the NCAA South Regional in Miami, FL to advance to the College World Series.

June 10–14, 1977 - In the College World Series, Clemson lost to Arizona State 10-7 on June 10, but beat Temple 13-4 the next day. UCLA eliminated Clemson 1-0 on June 14.

1978 - Clemson won the ACC regular-season title with a 10-2 record. The Tigers also started the tradition of wearing the ankle-long, white pants for every game. Clemson was ranked #25 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

April 22–24, 1978 - Clemson captured the ACC Tournament Championship held at Clemson. The Tigers swept through the tournament with wins over N.C. State (12-1), Duke (13-0), and Wake Forest (7-2).

May 19–21, 1978 - In the NCAA Atlantic Regional in Miami, FL, the Tigers defeated Miami (FL) 8-5 in the first game, but were eliminated from the tournament with losses to Marshall (9-3) and Miami (FL) (7-5).

April 7, 1979 - Clemson's most productive game in terms of scoring runs came at N.C. State. The score...41-9. Clemson led 18-6 after four innings and capped off the day with 18 runs in the ninth. Robert Bonnette had three hits in the ninth in which 22 Tigers batted. Neil Simons went 4-for-6 with three walks, six runs scored, three homers, and a Tiger record-tying 10 RBIs. Dave Buffamoyer also set a record with seven runs scored, while Bonnette and Tony Masone had five hits apiece. Future Major Leaguers Tim Teufel and Bill Schroeder batted fifth and sixth, respectively, and combined for five hits, nine runs, and nine RBIs.

1979 - Clemson won the ACC regular-season title with a 10-1 record. There was no ACC Tourney that year. Clemson was ranked #9 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

May 18–20, 1979 - In the NCAA Atlantic Regional in Miami, FL, the Tigers defeated Georgia Southern 8-4, but lost to Miami (FL) 2-1 in the Tigers' next game. The next two games yielded the same results, as Clemson downed Georgia Southern 2-0, but lost to Miami (FL) 4-1.

March 10, 1980 - Mike Brown pitched a perfect game in a 2-0 win over North Carolina-Wilmington in a seven-inning game.

April 22–26, 1980 - Clemson won the ACC Tournament held at Raleigh, NC by winning four games in a row without a defeat. The Tigers defeated Wake Forest (4-0), Maryland (9-4), N.C. State (5-4), and North Carolina (12-3).

May 21–23, 1992 - The Tigers participated in the NCAA Mideast Regional held at Starkville, MS. Clemson defeated Yale, but then lost to UCLA and Oklahoma.

April 20, 1993 - Keith Williams hit for the cycle at Furman. He hit a homer in the first, doubled in the third, singled in the sixth, and tripled in the ninth. Clemson won the game 17-2.

May 15–19, 1993 - The Tigers won the ACC Tournament Championship at Greenville, SC. Clemson defeated N.C. State 11-7 in the championship game, a game that ended at 1:21 in the morning. Jeff Morris' grand-slam propelled the Tigers to victory. It was just the senior's second career homer. Ironically, both of his homers were grand slams off N.C. State pitcher David Allen. Both came in the eighth inning with one out and both gave Clemson the lead.

May 28–31, 1993 - Clemson participated in the NCAA Mideast Regional held at Knoxville, TN. The Tigers earned victories over Rutgers and Fresno State in their opening two games, but then lost to Fresno State and Kansas.

1993 - Clemson was ranked #17 in both the final Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball polls.

July 2, 1993 - Bill Wilhelm announced his retirement after 36 seasons with the Tiger baseball program. His retirement press conference was fittingly held in the first-base dugout at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. He compiled a 1,161-536-10 (.683) record and never had a losing season. He was the fifth winningest coach in college baseball history at the time of his retirement.

March 19, 1994 - Shane Monahan hit for the cycle at Hawaii-Hilo. He tripled in the first, singled in the second, and homered in the sixth. He doubled in the eighth and singled in the ninth. Clemson won the game 13-5.

1994 - Clemson won the ACC Regular-Season Championship with a 20-4 ACC record in Jack Leggett's first season as the Tiger Head Coach. Leggett received ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors as well. Shane Monahan set the ACC record and led the nation with 137 hits. He also led the nation in runs scored with 97 and the Tigers led the nation as a team with 57 wins. Clemson was ranked #4 in the final Baseball America poll and ranked #9 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

May 18–22, 1994 - The Tigers won the ACC Tournament Championship at Greenville, SC. The Tigers defeated Florida State 4-1 in the championship game.

May 26–28, 1994 - Clemson participated in the NCAA East Regional held at Clemson. Clemson downed The Citadel and Old Dominion, but lost to Notre Dame and Auburn.

February 18, 1995 - Gary Burnham hit for the cycle at Texas-Arlington. He doubled in the first, tripled in the third, walked in the fifth, homered in the seventh, and singled in the ninth. Clemson won the game 18-0.

April 14, 1995 - The greatest comeback in Clemson history took place on this date, the first game of a three-game set at N.C. State. The Wolfpack had just scored three and six runs in the seventh and eighth innings, respectively, to take a 15-4 lead. The Tiger leadoff batter struck out to start the ninth inning. Clemson then got three straight hits and two walks. Seth Brizek hit into a fielder's choice for the second out, as David Miller scored on the play to cut the deficit to 15-7. The next six Tiger batters all reached safely on hits, highlighted by Shane Monahan's three-run homer that cut the Wolfpack lead to just two runs. After two more hits and a walk, Matthew LeCroy tied the game with a clutch double. The Tigers went on to win 17-15 in 10 innings. Clemson did so being down 11 runs on the road with no runners on base in the ninth inning and one out, and without the benefit of a Wolfpack error in the ninth.

Paul Galloway became Clemson's first Academic All-American in 1995. The starting third baseman on the 1995 and 1996 College World Series teams had a 4.00 career GPA in mechanical engineering.

1995 - Clemson won the ACC regular-season title with a 20-4 record. Jack Leggett received ACC Coach-of-the-Year Honors as well. Paul Galloway became Clemson's first Academic All-American. Clemson was ranked #8 in both the final Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball polls.

May 25–28, 1995 - The Tigers won the NCAA East Regional Championship held at Clemson with wins over Navy, Jacksonville, Winthrop, and Alabama.

June 3–5, 1995 - In the College World Series, Clemson lost to Tennessee (3-1) and Stanford (8-3).

March 8, 1996 - Jack Leggett won his 500th career game as a head coach with a 8-4 win over Virginia Tech at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

April 21, 1996 - Clemson played in one of the longest nonstop days of baseball in collegiate history. The Tigers and Georgia Southern were slated to play two nine-inning games, but the two games lasted a total of 28 innings. The first was a 10-inning affair with Georgia Southern coming out on top 8-6. The latter game also saw Georgia Southern victorious, this time 9-7 in 18 innings. The games combined for eight hours and 44 minutes in length (not counting the 31 minutes in between games).

May 23–26, 1996 - The Tigers won the NCAA East Regional Championship at Clemson and advanced to the College World Series. Clemson recorded wins over Charleston Southern, Old Dominion, West Virginia, and Tennessee.

May 31 – June 5, 1996 - When Clemson made its eighth College World Series appearance, it had lost seven straight games in Omaha and had never won more than one game in the double elimination tournament. Miami (FL) defeated the Tigers to open the tournament, so Clemson had to win to stay alive. The Tigers responded with a 10-inning, 8-5 win over Oklahoma State and next faced Alabama, the #1 seed. The morning of the game, Kris Benson and Billy Koch learned they were the first and fourth overall picks, respectively, of the Major League Draft. The Tigers, though, sent out Ken Vining, who was 10-3, to face a potent Crimson Tide hitting attack. But it was the Tigers who jumped out to an early 5-0 lead. Alabama battled back to take a 12-10 lead after eight innings. Gary Burnham and Jerome Robinson led off the ninth with singles. Then, 5-8 second baseman Doug Livingston hit an opposite-field double to give Clemson the lead. But the Tigers, who led 14-12, had to contain the hot Alabama bats in the bottom of the ninth. Brett Taft, who had hit two homers, led off with a double. Rusty Loflin flied out to Livingston and Drew Bounds singled. On came Koch, who was making a rare relief appearance. He struck out David Tidwell and seemed to throw a game-ending ground ball off the bat of Joe Caruso, but the ball went through the legs of shortstop Kurt Bultmann, plating Taft and putting runners on first and third. But Koch got Dax Norris to bounce out to first baseman Jason Embler, who made a spectacular grab ranging to his right and looking into the sun. Embler flipped to Koch to record the final out of the game, as the Tigers won 14-13 and advanced farther in the College World Series than it ever had before.

1996 - Clemson led the nation with a 3.03 ERA. Clemson was ranked #5 in the final Baseball America poll and #4 in the final Collegiate Baseball listing. Kris Benson was also named National Player-of-the-Year by Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. One of the most decorated players in Tiger history also received the Dick Howser Trophy and the Smith Award. He won his first 14 decisions and had a 2.02 ERA in 156.0 innings pitched. He allowed just 109 hits and 27 walks while striking out 204 batters, good for a 7.5-to-1 strikeout to walk ratio, easily a Clemson record. He had seven complete games and four shutouts as well. Benson was also the #1 overall pick in the 1996 Major League draft (Pittsburgh Pirates), becoming the first Tiger to be picked at that position. He donned the Red, White, and Blue for Team USA in the Centennial Olympics in Atlanta in 1996, earning a bronze medal. Tiger teammates Billy Koch and Matthew LeCroy joined Benson on the Olympic team.

May 22–24, 1997 - Clemson played in the NCAA Central Regional held at Lubbock, TX. Clemson defeated Nevada in its opener, but lost to Rice and Southwest Texas State.

1997 - Matthew LeCroy hit 24 home runs, tying the school record. He also set the Clemson career record for with 53 home runs. Kurt Bultmann set a Tiger record with 31 doubles as well.

March 21, 1998 - Clemson scored 19 runs in one inning against Maryland. Ironically, Clemson did not score in any other inning of the game. The run total set an NCAA record for most runs in a third inning. In the inning, Clemson sent 23 batters to the plate, and had 12 hits and six walks. Like the 11-run comeback in the ninth inning at N.C. State in '95, the first Tiger to bat in the inning was retired. The next 17 batters reached base safely. Patrick Boyd and Kurt Bultmann both reached base in all three plate appearances and scored three runs in the inning.

April 24, 1998 - Rusty Adkins had his jersey retired and was inducted into the Clemson Baseball Ring of Honor, joining Bill Wilhelm in the elite company. Adkins, who had a record 41-game hitting streak, is the only three-time All-American in Tiger baseball history.

May 21–23, 1998 - Clemson won its 2,000th game in school history as the Tigers defeated The Citadel 12-3 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium in the NCAA East Regional on May 21. Clemson lost to South Alabama in 16 innings and eventual National Champion Southern California.

1998 - Clemson was ranked #21 in the final Baseball America poll and #23 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

March 8, 1999 - Clemson's streak of 146 weeks being ranked in one of the major polls ended. The last time the Tigers were not ranked was at the end of the 1990 season. Clemson had a 407-138 (.747) record over that span.

May 28–30, 1999 - In the NCAA Fayetteville (AR) Regional, Clemson lost to Southwest Missouri State 23-5 in the first game and needed to win four games in two days to advance. The Tigers came through with wins on Saturday over Delaware and host Arkansas. Clemson had to beat Southwest Missouri State twice on Sunday and did just that by 8-7 and 7-5 scores.

June 4–6, 1999 - Texas A&M won two of the three games in the NCAA Super Regional at College Station TX. Despite coming up short, Clemson battled back after a 20-3 defeat in the opening game and had the lead entering the ninth inning in game three in a hostile environment.

1999 - Clemson was ranked #17 in the final Baseball America poll and #13 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll.

February 18, 2000 - Clemson played its first game in Doug Kingsmore Stadium, renamed from Tiger Field in the offseason. The Tigers beat Old Dominion 5-0.

March 20, 2000 - Clemson was ranked #1 by Collegiate Baseball after opening the season 19-3. The Tigers spent two weeks as that poll's top team.

March 26, 2000 - Clemson longest homestand in years, 23 games long, was completed with a 6-3 win over The Citadel. The Tigers went 21-2 in the 23 games.

May 26–28, 2000 - Clemson hosted Middle Tennessee, Illinois and Old Dominion in regional play and claimed wins over Middle Tennessee (4-0 and 21-3) and a win over Illinois (9-3) to earn the right at hosting the first-ever Super Regional at Clemson.

May 28, 2000 - Clemson set a school record for home wins in a season with a 21-3 win over Middle Tennessee that clinched the Clemson Regional. The Tigers finished 37-5 at home, replacing the old record of 34 home wins set in 1996.

June 2,3, 2000 - Clemson beat Mississippi State 11-4 and 9-4 to earn the team's ninth trip to the College World Series.

June 9–14, 2000 - Clemson made its first appearance in the College World Series since 1996. The Tigers beat San Jose State 10-6 before losing to top-ranked Stanford 10-4 to fall into the losers' bracket. Clemson was then eliminated by Louisiana-Lafayette 5-4 in the bottom of the ninth inning.

2000 - Clemson finished 51-18 and was ranked #7 in the final Baseball America poll, #6 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll and #5 in the final Sports Weekly poll.

May 25–27, 2001 - Clemson drew a #2 seed in the Clemson Regional and played host to South Alabama, William & Mary, and Seton Hall, claiming wins over William & Mary (4-1) and Seton Hall (24-4 and 8-2) to advance to the NCAA Super Regional round. The 24-4 win over Seton Hall was the 40th win, extending Clemson's streak of 40-win seasons to 16. The NCAA Tourney appearance was the 15th straight.

June 1,2, 2001 - Clemson met Miami (FL) in the Coral Gables Super Regional and was eliminated with a pair of losses (10-8 and 14-6). The Hurricanes went on to win the College World Series. The appearance by the Tigers in the Super Regional round was its third straight.

2001 - The Tigers finished 41-22 and ranked #17 in the final Baseball America poll, #13 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll, and #14 in the final Sports Weekly poll.

February 22 – March 15, 2002 - Clemson opened the season with 13 straight wins to vault to #2 in the polls. The Tigers defeated Auburn (3), South Carolina (2), and Purdue (3) during the stretch.

March 12, 2002 - Clemson set the school record for batting average in a single game in defeated Georgia Southern 20-8. The offense had 23 hits in only 44 at bats for a .522 batting average.

March 17 – April 5, 2002 - Clemson won 13 more games in a row to start 26-1. The winning streak helped the Tigers rank #1 in all three polls for seven straight weeks.

April 3, 2002 - Jeff Baker hit a walk-off homer against Winthrop to give Clemson a 6-4 win. It was his third homer of the game, as he became the first Tiger to hit three homers in a game since 1993 and the first to do it in the history of Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

April 16 – June 14, 2002 - Khalil Greene had a 34-game hitting streak, third longest in Clemson history. Greene batted a remarkable .519 with 48 RBIs during the 34-game streak. The streak ended against Georgia Tech in the College World Series.

May 12, 2002 - Khalil Greene set the ACC record for career hits with his 367th at Virginia. Greene went on to total 403 hits, second most all-time in NCAA history. In the series against Virginia, he also went eight straight at bats with a hit and 13 consecutive plate appearances reaching base safely. Head Coach Jack Leggett also won his 800th career game this day.

June 7–9, 2002 - After sweeping through the Clemson Regional the weekend before, Clemson fell to Arkansas in the first game of the Clemson Super Regional. But the resilient Tigers fought back to win the final two games and advance to the College World Series for the 10th time in school history. Khalil Greene homered in his last at bat Doug Kingsmore Stadium

June 14–21, 2002 - Clemson had its most successful run in the College World Series when it won the first two games over hometown favorite Nebraska and Georgia Tech. Against the Cornhuskers, Clemson overcame a 7-2 deficit before rallying to win 11-10. Khalil Greene's dramatic three-run homer in the seventh inning gave the Tigers the lead late in the game. Jeff Baker then broke a 10-10 tie with a walkoff double. Michael Johnson then went 3-for-3 with a home run in Clemson's eight-run second inning, as the Tigers won their second straight game by a 9-7 score. Clemson then ran into a buzzsaw in South Carolina, falling twice to the Gamecocks. Clemson had beated the Gamecocks three out of four times in the regular season. The final game saw Greene start his 269th consecutive game, believed to be an NCAA record. He also played in his 272th straight game, or every game he was a Tiger. He broke the NCAA record for career doubles with his 95th in the College World Series as well.

2002 - Clemson finished 54-17 and was ranked #3 in the final Baseball America poll, #3 in the final Collegiate Baseball poll and #3 in the final Sports Weekly poll. The Tigers set school records for homers (112), fielding percentage (.971), and saves (26) en route to their 10th World Series appearance. The trio of Jeff Baker, Khalil Greene, and Michael Johnson combined for 77 homers and 259 RBIs. They were three of eight Tigers selected in the Major League Draft, including Greene, who was a first-rounder, and Johnson, who was picked in the second round. Greene went on to earn National Player-of-the-Year honors from all six services that gave the award.

February 26, 2003 – Clemson opened season with a 5-0 victory over Charleston Southern in the newly renovated Doug Kingsmore Stadium. The updates, costing more that $4 million, included a new roof, press box, patio areas, and a grand staircase leading from the McFadden parking lot to the main entrance.

March 4 – March 24, 2003 – The Tigers won 14 games in a row over this stretch. The streak was the seventh-longest in school history and helped catapult Clemson to a #10 national ranking.

April 23,25, 2003 – Michael Johnson hit a three-run, walkoff homer to beat East Tennessee State 6-3 in 12 innings on April 23. In the next game, against Georgia Tech, Brad McCann hit a two-out, opposite-field, three-run homer in the bottom of the 10th inning to give Clemson the 9-7 come-from-behind win.

April 25–27, 2003 – Clemson swept #4 Georgia Tech in the weekend series at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. Game one was suspended until the next afternoon due to inclement weather. Along with Brad McCann's ninth-inning heroics in game one, the Tigers won game two by a 10-5 margin and game three 11-3, while totaling 41 hits in the three-game series.

2003 – Clemson extended its streak to 17 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances with defense being the key to many victories. The Tigers had a .969 fielding percentage for the season, the second-best percentage in school history. Clemson also fell one win short of its 18th-straight 40-win season. Michael Johnson was Clemson's lone First-Team All-ACC selection, while lefthander Robert Rohrbaugh earned freshman All-American honors. David Slevin had a 22-game hitting streak as well, while Brad McCann ended the season on a 20-game hitting streak of his own.

Last Time It Happened

3 Home Runs

Clemson - It had been nine years since a Clemson player had hit three home runs in one game, but Jeff Baker pulled the trick against Winthrop at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on April 3, 2002 in a game that the Tigers won 6-4. He had five of the Tigers' six RBIs and scored four of Clemson's six runs. He hit a two-out, two-run homer in the first inning, a leadoff homer in the fifth inning, and a two-run walk-off homer with no outs in the ninth inning.

Opponent - South Carolina second baseman Bryon Jeffcoat hit three homers and drove in eight runs against the Tigers at Clemson on March 3, 2001. Batting in the eighth spot in the lineup, he hit his first home run, a grand slam, in the second inning. He added a three-run shot in the seventh inning and a solo homer in the ninth inning. Jeffcoat also had two singles in the Gamecocks' 21-8 victory. The teams combined for 10 home runs in the game.

4 Hits By 3 Players

Clemson - This last came at Maryland on April 20, 2003, exactly 18 years to the day that it happened last by a Tiger trio. Herman Demmink hit four singles, Kyle Frank was a perfect 5-for-5 with four runs scored and four RBIs, and David Slevin was 4-for-6 with five RBIs in Clemson's 20-5 win. Frank also became just the third Tiger to ever hit two home runs in the same inning when he did so in the second inning.

Opponent - South Carolina accomplished this feat on April 23, 1997 in a game played in Columbia. Four Gamecocks had at least four hits in the 38-16 win over Clemson. Adam Everett had four hits, four RBIs, and six runs; Derick Urquhart had five hits, five RBIs, and six runs; Ryan Bordenick had six hits, six runs, and nine RBIs; and Rob Streicher had four hits, three runs, and five RBIs.

5 Hits

Clemson - Michael Johnson had a homer, double, and three singles in Clemson's 13-2 victory over Duke on May 6, 2003. He went 5-for-6 with three runs scored and six RBIs in Clemson's series-clinching victory over the Blue Devils. He was one of two Tigers to total five hits in a game in 2003 (Kyle Frank at Maryland on April 20)

Opponent - South Carolina's Bryon Jeffcoat had five hits in six plate appearances against the Tigers on March 3, 2001 at Doug Kingsmore Stadium. He hit three home runs, two singles, and drove in eight runs in the Gamecocks' 21-8.

Kyle Frank was one of three Tigers to total at least four hits at Maryland on April 20, 2003. He went 5-for-5 with two homers, both in the second inning, and four RBIs.

5 Hits By 2 Players

Clemson - Brooks Shumake hit a home run and four singles, while Jimmy Key added a pair of doubles and three singles against Georgia Southern in Statesboro, GA on May 13, 1982, in a game won by Clemson, 25-5.

Opponent - South Carolina left-fielder Derick Urquhart had five hits, including three doubles; and catcher Ryan Bordenick had six hits, including two doubles and a home run, as the Gamecocks defeated Clemson 38-16 in Columbia on April 23, 1997. It was the first time since 1980 that two opposing players accomplished this feat.

Back-to-Back Home Runs

Clemson - Kyle Frank and David Slevin hit back-to-back homers against Duke at Doug Kingsmore Stadium on May 5, 2003. Both were solo shots in the eighth inning and came with two outs in the 7-6 loss. Earlier in the inning, Russell Triplett hit a homer, meaning Clemson hit three homers in the inning.

Opponent - Garris Gonce and Justin Harris of South Carolina hit back-to-back homers with two outs in the seventh inning of the Tigers' 11-10 victory on March 3, 2002. The solo homers put South Carolina ahead 8-7 at the time in the game played at Doug Kingsmore Stadium.

Cycle

Clemson - Gary Burnham performed the elusive feat in the second game of the season against Texas-Arlington in the Texas-Arlington Tournament on February 18, 1995. Burnham had a double in the first inning, a triple in the third, walked in the fifth, struck out in the sixth, hit a three-run homer in the seventh, and completed the cycle with a single in the ninth inning. He batted in four runs and scored four runs.

Opponent - Chris Pittaro of North Carolina in Chapel Hill on March 21, 1981, had a double in the first, a single in the second, a home run in the third, and a triple in the sixth, along with two RBIs. North Carolina defeated the Tigers by a 10-7 score.

Grand Slam

Clemson - Jeff Baker hit a grand slam when he went deep at North Carolina in the fourth inning on April 14, 2002. The slam was his only hit in the game, which the Tigers lost 12-5. It was was the only Tar Heel win in the three-game series.

Opponent - Scott Schade of Auburn hit a grand slam at the Auburn (AL) Regional on May 31, 2003. The home run came off Tiger reliever Adam Walker in the eighth inning. The slam gave the Tigers a 15-0 lead, the final score in Clemson's final game of the 2003 season.

No-Hitter

Clemson - Scott Parrish pitched a seven-inning, no-hit game against The Citadel at Clemson on March 6, 1984 in the 12th game of the season in a game won by the Tigers, 6-0. Parrish allowed five baserunners, two walks, and three landed on errors. One runner was erased attempting to steal and the other four were left stranded.

Opponent - Auburn's Dana Becton and Ken Deriso combined to no-hit the Tigers for the first time in almost 16 years when they held the Tigers hitless March 11, 1979 at Auburn, AL. Becton went the first six innings and struck out seven, while Deriso hurled the last three frames and struck out four. Clemson lost the game, 10-1, as the Tigers scored a run on two errors and a passed ball.

Jeff Baker hit three home runs, including the walk-off shot in the ninth inning, in Clemson's 6-4 victory over Winthrop on April 3, 2002. His three home runs accounted for five of the Tigers' six runs against the Eagles.

Shutout

Clemson - Tyler Lumsden pitched a shutout when he blanked Old Dominion on March 7, 2003. The sophomore lefty allowed just three hits and one walk while striking out seven in Clemson's 2-0 victory.

Opponent - Colby Paxton of Auburn went the distance against Clemson on May 31, 2003 in the Auburn (AL) Regional. He yielded just five hits and two walks in the Tigers' 15-0 win that ended Clemson's season. It broke Clemson's 84-game streak without being shutout.

Triple Play

Clemson - Clemson completed its first triple play since 1971 in a game against George Mason at Clemson on February 26, 1995. Mark Watson gave up a leadoff walk to Joey Goodwin in the fourth inning, which was followed by a single by Ron Pennell. Brendan Pickett hit a line shot to Clemson first-baseman David Miller, who stepped on first to double off Pennell and then threw to Seth Brizek at second, and the throw beat Goodwin to the bag for the third out. The Tigers won the game, 9-3.

Opponent - Dan Griffin, Matt Robinson, and Rick Feguredo of Florida State combined on a triple play against the Tigers on March 2, 1983 in Tallahassee. After Bob Paulling singled and Craig Roberson walked to open the second inning, Jamie Swanner grounded to Griffin, who forced Paulling at third. Griffin threw to Robinson, forcing Roberson at second, and Robinson relayed to Feguredo at first base for the putout on Swanner. The teams battled to a 3-3, 10-inning tie.
